New-York Daily Times.

VOL. V....NO. 1404. NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1856. PRICE TWO CENTS.

STATE AFFAIRS.

GENERAL ORDERS IN THE HOUSE.

OLD REPORT BILLS.

THE COUNTY OF CARRADAGA.

The Contested Seats in the Senate.

VETERINARY COLLEGE.

Testimonial to Dr. Kane—Speech of Senator Wadsworth.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION—NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The Interesting Debate.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

ALBANY, Tuesday, March 18, 1856.

The "General Orders" were the special order to-day, and good progress was made therein. Twelve bills were reported favorably and ordered to a third reading. Progress was reported upon them, and one was recorded with the enacting clause stricken out. Quite a scramble was had to secure the precedence of local bills, in which various members were interested, but after hedging a few members, the House adopted the plan of adhering strictly to the order in which bills stood upon the General Orders, and quiet was restored.

The only bill exciting debate, was one giving parties a new trial in County Courts in cases of appeal from Justices' Courts, when the judgment exceeds $20, or, as amended, $50.

The remaining bills were all of a local character, save one amending the General Insurance law, by requiring detailed reports.

OLD REPORT ACCOUNTS.

In the Senate Mr. BROOKS presented the petition of the Mechanics Banking Association, praying for the payment of certain drafts on JAMES HOWES & ROBERT WINZER, which the above named Bank discounted to Hiram P. Bennett in 1847, then agent of Mount Pleasant Prison. The petitioners say the Comptroller has refused to pay the same and they therefore invoke the interference of the Legislature to the end that they may be paid.

BROADWAY RAILROAD.

Mr. BROOKS presented the remonstrance of R. K. CROOKE, MATTHEW MORGAN, MORTIMER LIVINGSTON, CHAS. S. WEST, WM. HALL & SONS and many other merchants in New-York City upon Broadway and elsewhere, and owners on Broadway, against a Broadway Railroad.

NEW COUNTY.

Mr. BROOKS for the creation of the County of Cassadaga from part of the County of Chatauqua. It is composed of the following towns: Ellington, Poland, Cornell, Kiantone, Ellicott, Carry, Ellery, Gerry, Busway, Cyrene, Sherman, Mina, French Creek, and parts of the towns of Stockton, Westfield and Charlotte.

THE CONTESTED SEATS.

Mr. MASSMAN, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, in the case of the contested seat of the Seventh Senate District, occupied by J. W. FLANDERS, reported that the charges of the petitioner, JOHN SCHENCK, are wholly unsustained, and offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the prayer of the petition of BENJ. SCHENCK, that he be admitted to a seat in the Senate of this State as the legal representative of the Seventh Senatorial District, in place of JOHN W. FLANDERS, be and the same is hereby denied. Adopted by Ayes, 20; Noes, 6.

GRAIN COMPANY.

Mr. G. R. SWAN, from the Committee on Commerce, to whom was referred the petition of the American Grain Company for an Act of incorporation, reported against the bill for the formation of incorporations for raising, importing, and selling Guano and other fertilizers.

VETERINARY COLLEGE.

Mr. HAMLIN introduced a bill to incorporate the New-York College of Veterinary Surgeons of the City of New-York. The corporators are WILLIAM CORNELL, E. WILLIAMS, M. D., JOHN LOCKWOOD, THOS. [illegible], M. D., J. OGDEN, M. D., T. NORMAN, T. [illegible], M. D. The object is to promote science and instruction in the department of veterinary surgery therewith. Allows them to hold real estate to the amount of $50,000. It gives power to the Trustees to confer the degree of V. S. (Veterinary Surgeon) on any person of the age of 21 years who may have studied three years with some Veterinary Surgeon duly licensed and have attended two complete courses of lectures, one of which shall have been delivered by the Professors of said College.

INCURABLE CONVICTS.

Mr. PARSONS introduced a bill to amend the laws relative to the disposition of the bodies of deceased criminals, by giving to the Medical Faculty of the University of New-York one-third of the "subjects" demanded by the State from her prisons.

SELF PAYING.

Relative to Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings.

For the relief of the St. Lawrence Academy.

To authorize the Collector of Assessments in the city of Brooklyn to commence the sale of certain lands, in default of payment of assessments.

To legalize the tax-bill and assessment-rolls of the village of Binghamton.

To extend the charter of the Suffolk County Mutual Insurance Company.

To extend the charter of the Richmond County Mutual Insurance Company.

To amend the charter of the city of Hudson.

Relative to Notaries Public.

To incorporate the Turnverein Association of the City of New-York.

TESTIMONIAL TO DR. KANE.

Mr. WADSWORTH called from the table the concurrent (Assembly) resolutions of thanks, on behalf of the people of the State of New-York, to HENRY GRINNELL, for his liberality and public spirit in fitting out and sending forth the Arctic Exploring Expedition, and to the officers and seamen of that Expedition, and ordering a gold medal to be struck for DR. E. K. KANE, appropriately commemorating the voyage of discovery of the Grinnell ships.

In support of these resolutions Senator WADSWORTH then eloquently addressed the Senate:

Mr. PRESIDENT—From the reading of these resolutions, it would seem that an act of honorable justice to the bold navigator and the generous-hearted citizen awaits its completion at our hands. I trust this act will not longer be delayed. I trust it will have accomplished with us no longer than is necessary to fitting phrase to express our thanks as legislators and as citizens, to those who nobly planned and nobly executed the Arctic Expedition. I rejoice that the two great States of New-York and Massachusetts stand side by side in the accomplishment of this mission of high emprise and exalted humanity. We should not forget the circumstances nor the occasion in which it originated. The head of an illustrious family, commissioned by his Government, goes forth to explore those wild regions of heavy frosts and rude elemental life, hoping thereby to enlarge the bounds of physical science, to open wider the channels of commerce, and to increase the aggregated mass of human knowledge. He goes amid the plaudits of his admiring countrymen. Weeks, months and years pass by, and yet no sign of his return. Back to cheer the darkened English hearts of the departed voyagers,

"To their earnest calling
Not a word would come
From that vague, dim, more appalling
Far than death!"

While "this shadow dumb, and veiled" was resting on the thoughtful of the earth, a noble woman, with bleeding heart, stretches forth her hands towards America, and breathes out in impassioned accents:

"Tell the dear departed not
We do their work yet;
We know no more than this:
But not into the void abyss
Fall with our earnest cries for something that we miss."

Responding to our common blood and common lineage, she asks for help; and with a promptitude which was blended with more nature, her plea was responded to. For this I love my country and my countrywomen better. For the generous rivalry of the English nation in this matter, I love England and Englishmen better. Hallowed be thy name, my country! and hallowed be thy name, thy country's dame, where or such deeds are done, where or that act, O man, forever!

Let us hold in grateful remembrance all who participated, whether living or dead, in the noble deed. Let literature so well the bold resolution and valuable dating of those who speak the English language and hear the English name.

Still with tearful emotions we remember, at this place, the fallen brave who lie bleaching where the [illegible] fell in their order, rose to advance their country's fame, let us also, with honorable unanimity, pay the humble tribute contemplated in these resolutions.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Mr. OUTLAW called up his amendment to the Constitution relative to property qualifications of colored citizens.

Mr. BROOKS moved to strike out all after the word resolved, and insert that the following be proposed as an amendment of the Constitution of this State, which, when approved, and adopted, in the manner provided by the Constitution, shall become a part thereof, viz.:

Every male citizen born in the United States who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, have resided in the State for one year next preceding, and in the County in which he may offer himself to be admitted to the privileges of an elector at least four months next preceding the time he may so offer himself, and shall sustain a good moral character, shall, on complying with such rules and regulations as are now prescribed by law, and, in addition, be able to read any article in the Constitution or any section of the Statutes of this State, be admitted and deemed an elector.

Mr. OUTLAW spoke in defence of his resolution until he was cut short by Mr. C. P. SMITH, calling attention to the ten minute rule, and that the gentleman had already spoken more than ten minutes.

The debate was continued at length, but I have not space to-day to devote to a sketch. It assumed a very wide range, in the course of which the Presidential election, Sharp's rifles, Kansas, and kindred topics were discussed. I shall furnish, to-morrow, a sketch of the debate, and shall endeavor to do justice to the noble and patriotic sentiments to which utterance was given by our Republican Senators.

LEO.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE

By Telegraph to the New-York Daily Times.

Magnetic Telegraph Co.'s Offices—5 Hanover-st., and 191 Broadway.
Illustr Printing Telegraph—Office No. 21 Wall-street.

XXXIVth CONGRESS—First Session.

SENATE....WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 18.

INCREASED PAY FOR MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

Mr. IVERSON gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to increase the compensation of members of Congress, and to fix the time for the annual meeting.

Mr. HAMLIN introduced a bill to regulate the appraisement of imported merchandise.

THE NAVAL BOARD.

Mr. HOUSTON presented a memorial signed by members of the Legislature of Maryland indorsing the resolutions of the Virginia Legislature, condemnatory of the action of the Naval Board.

Mr. HOUSTON rejoiced that the Old Dominion had spoken on this subject, as her position in the Confederacy gave great weight to her utterance. After alluding to the unjust manner in which Lieut. MAURY had been treated by the Board, he said it was not because of inefficiency that officers had been stricken down, it was a system of espionage, and, as said by a victim of the Board, black conspiracy, crushing gallant men, and giving position and promotion to those who, grasping the sceptre, wielded it with despotic sway.

Mr. HOUSTON's remarks abounded in personalities. The characters of Captains STRINGHAM and DUPONT were freely commented on, as were also those of other members of the Retiring Board.

Mr. CLAYTON inquired on what authority the statements regarding Capt. DUPONT were made.

Mr. HOUSTON replied, he had not read the entire document to the Senate, but had obtained his information from it.

Mr. CLAYTON—You know nothing about it.

Mr. HOUSTON alluded to the observation of Mr. MALLORY that there are cases of hardship, and said some of the "hardest cases" remained in the Navy. (Laughter.) I assail no man's character; I only read from documents. I don't say they are not gentlemen, but I may have my private opinion. (Renewed laughter.)

Mr. BAYARD, in reply to another remark made by Mr. HOUSTON, said if the latter could sustain his assertions by the documents adduced, he possessed a power of persuasion even greater than he had exhibited in the Senate to-day.

Mr. HOUSTON, resuming, charged the Naval Board with cutting off heads by hecatombs, and said that instead of the Navy being improved, the country has now but one protective arm—the volunteer forces of the nation—and he, (Mr. HOUSTON,) was for wiping out the wrong by repealing the act under which the Board acted, as partiality and selfishness were the only things for which the Board could be commended.

He spoke more than three hours. The galleries were densely crowded.

Mr. BUTLER vindicated Commodore SHUBRICK, of the Naval Retiring Board, eulogizing the brilliant achievements of that officer on the Pacific coast and elsewhere.

Mr. BAYARD spoke chiefly in defence of Captain DUPONT, and said that on some future occasion he would express his views at length of the Naval Board. In his opinion the attack of the Senator upon Captain DUPONT was wanton in the extreme.

Mr. HOUSTON rejoined, saying he had made no assertions that were not sustained by official documents. He should wait for the printed speech of Mr. BAYARD, and reply as it might deserve.

Mr. MALLORY defended the Naval Board, individually and collectively.

Mr. PRATT gave notice that he would reply to Mr. HOUSTON to-morrow. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 18.

THE KANSAS ELECTION CASE.

Mr. SMITH, of Virginia, opposed the resolution to send for persons and papers in the Kansas election case.

Mr. GRANGER said Gov. REEDER came here by higher law and lower law, self-preservation and self-defence. Mr. WHITFIELD came here under an election ordered by a spurious Legislature, and during which the people at the poles were overawed by armed invaders from Missouri. Give the Committee, therefore, full power to examine the facts. The country demands this. Let there be no dodging.

Messrs. HALL of Iowa, and LAKE spoke against, and Mr. BARBOUR in favor of granting the request of the Committee.

Mr. DARRELL defended the Massachusetts Aid Society, and said it was never intended that a dollar of the capital should be used for arms or munitions of war, nor were hostilities, or any unconstitutional act counseled. Anything said to the contrary was false.

At 5 o'clock only thirteen members were present, and about as many persons in the galleries.

Mr. ENGLISH should not vote to give the Committee the unlimited power asked. He strongly suspected the majority would manufacture food for agitation, as ammunition to be employed against the advocates of the Kansas Nebraska Bill. He was willing to have the subject investigated by a disinterested commission.

Adjourned.

Senator Douglas and last Friday's Tilt—A Law without a Penalty—National Improvements—Valk's Speech, &c.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, March 17, 1856.

DOUGLAS AND TRUMBULL.

Mr. DOUGLAS is a little sore yet from the effects of last Friday's tilt. In reporting his bill, to-day, authorizing the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and set up a State Government, he could not refrain from a quiet "dig" at Mr. TRUMBULL for "lacing" him so out of season,—for executing him, or his Kansas report, except by appointment. True, he didn't mention the name of his colleague from Illinois, for that might have called up some unpleasant recollections, and possibly the Senator himself, which would be still less desirable just now. But he took occasion to tell the Senator that it was usual for a Senator who introduces or reports a measure, to open the debate upon it, and for the Senator representing the minority of the Committee from which it is reported, to follow. Mr. TRUMBULL will please take notice, and be a little careful hereafter how he departs from the rule thus laid down by his colleague, who has had a good deal more experience in Congress, and must be supposed quite competent to instruct his peers as to their rights and privileges. Most matter, that strict obedience to the Douglas rule should involve a betrayal of the country into error, and the violation of a Senator's duty to his constituents to expose that error? Never mind; let duty, principle and truth all go to Tophet! but don't violate the precedent. Do you hear, Mr. TRUMBULL?

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

A LAW WITHOUT A PENALTY!

Mr. DOUGLAS has taken the floor for Thursday next, and will be followed by Mr. BUCHANAN, probably on the succeeding Monday. The latter gentleman has given an extract of what he can do, in his admirable minority report on the Kansas question, and we may expect a speech from him which shall completely lift the veil of sophistry and misrepresentation by which the Atchisonians seek to cover up their outrages upon popular rights, and to throw the responsibility of disorder in Kansas upon the bona fide Free-State settlers. He, doubtless, will not overlook the fact that DOUGLAS, in his bill reported to-day for the creation of a State Government in Kansas, makes not the slightest provision for the punishment and prevention of illegal voting. At the election for Delegates to the Constitutional Convention, no man is to vote who has not been a resident in the Territory for six months;—but suppose half a dozen regiments of border ruffians choose to take possession of the polls, vote themselves, and permit nobody else to vote, where is the remedy? What danger, what punishment awaits them? A law without a penalty is an absurdity. Is it possible that the Chairman of the Committee on Territories intends to impose such a farce upon an intelligent people, and call it legislation? Or, was this failure to provide a penalty an oversight? I hope the latter; and yet, one can hardly believe that the author of the measure, so experienced in law and legislation, as he is, could have unintentionally committed so stupid a blunder. Let us know what it means, at all events.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

If HENRY CLAY could have looked in upon the Senate to-day, he would have found it difficult to tell whether he was most gratified or amazed by the spectacle presented to him. The day was expended on internal improvements—that horror of horrors to "Constitutional Democrats," and yet the very first measure put to the vote,—a bill making an appropriation for deepening the St. Clair flats in Michigan, passed by the overwhelming votes of 29 to 21. Several similar measures passed by votes equally as decisive.

But at last a bill to amend an act of last Congress for the improvement of Savannah River came up. The act aforesaid provided for the removal of certain obstructions in the shape of ship hulks, said to have been sunk in the river by the United States during the revolutionary war, to prevent the enemy from ascending. As the appropriation then made was intended to remove obstructions believed to have been created by the agents of the Government for the common defence, President PIERCE signed the bill, and the hulks were removed. But bars of sand and mud have formed where the hulks lay, and it is deemed necessary now to make a special appropriation to remove them also. The Committee on Commerce more have no objection, so they reported a bill for the Savannah River,—the phraseology of which don't suit Mr. IVERSON, of Ga., who wants it changed, so that this measure may seem to be a necessary consequence of the one signed by President PIERCE in March, 1855, and may, therefore, receive the same gracious approval. The fact is, that nearly all these internal improvement bills are expected to be vetoed. IVERSON knows this, and that his Savannah River bill must share the general fate, unless he can establish its speciality as already indicated. But the Committee on Commerce are determined that, so far as the action of the Senate is concerned, all shall share alike, and that, if distinctions are to be made, the responsibility of such distinctions shall be assumed by the President. It is of no use, Mr. IVERSON—you must take your chance; so please stand aside and let the next customer come on. The St. Clair Flats bill, by the way, is intended to be saved by amending its title in the House, so as to make it a bill for the removal of obstructions in the way of transportation of United States troops, stores and munitions of war to the Northwest. What artful dodging is requisite for "Jacksonian Democracy" now-a-days!

TERRORS OF THE VETO.

KANSAS—KEITT LOOKS DANGEROUS.

Mr. GALLOWAY, of Ohio, made an impressive speech in the House, to-day, in favor of the proposition to send for persons and papers in the Kansas election case, especially exposing the folly and nonsense of the doctrine of estoppel proclaimed by the Whitfield men. He was listened to with deep attention. By the way, Mr. KEITT, of South Carolina, looked a most savage at GALLOWAY, and talked a sentence or two of over-bearing and threatening indignation at him, also, because he read from the TIMES ATCHISON's celebrated speech, boasting of his armed invasion of Kansas. KEITT said this speech had been denied, and looked as though he was about to cram the knowledge and belief of the denial down the speaker's throat. Now it happens, if I mistake not, that your Kansas correspondent has repeated his original statement, and furnished or offered the proofs. If the fiery South Carolinian should read the TIMES occasionally, perhaps he would get the idea that somebody else could receive intelligence, and tell the truth, besides ATCHISON and his friends in Congress.

VALK MAKES A HARMLESS SPEECH.

Mr. VALK read a speech on the Pro-Slavery side of the question, which will do no harm to anybody but its author. Mr. ROBINSON briefly, but forcibly, sustained the Committee on Elections. Mr. MILLSON, of Virginia, the keenest hair-splitter in the House, put forth a nicely spun bunch of fetters and metaphysical calculations on the Whitfield side; and Mr. SHERMAN, of New-York, closed the debate for the day with one of the pithy, vigorous and pointed little speeches for which he is becoming noted—so replete are they with the plainest common sense presented in the simplest terms. He, of course, was with the Committee, and in favor of the proposed investigation.

HE DIDN'T DO IT.

A story is circulating that Mr. TRAFTON, of Massachusetts, proposed, in the Committee on the District of Columbia, to amend a bill to govern elections in said district, so as to permit free negroes to vote. I am assured that this statement is entirely untrue, and that no such amendment was discussed or proposed by Mr. TRAFTON or any one else. S.

The Anti-Nebraska Caucus—The Kansas Contested Seat.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March, 18.

Owing to snowy weather there was a slight attendance at the Anti Nebraska Caucus this evening, and it adjourned over.

The vote on the resolution of the majority of the House Committee on Elections, asking for power to send for persons and papers in the Kansas case, will be taken to-morrow.

Close of the Arguments in the Broadway Railroad Matter—Kansas Meeting—The New American Organ.

ALBANY, Tuesday, March 18.

The arguments in the Broadway Railroad case were closed before the Committee to-night, having occupied from 7 till 10 o'clock. On the part of the remonstrants against the road, the Committee was addressed by ALEXANDER T. STEWART, ALFRED W. CRAVEN, D. H. HAIGHT, FRANCIS A. PALMER and JAMES IRWIN.

A remonstrance was produced of nearly all the owners of property in Broadway against the road, and also petitions of owners and occupants on the lines of the Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth-avenue Railroads, alleging that they are injurious to their property, and expressing the opinion that no Railroad on Broadway should be permitted.

D. D. FIELD, for the grantees, replied to Mr. HITCH's argument, and the case was finally closed.

The Kansas meeting, held at the Capitol this evening, was well attended.

The Morning Express will change hands to-morrow. The valedictory of Mr. CARLTON EDWARDS, the present editor, will appear to-morrow morning, and the new proprietor will take possession immediately afterwards. The paper will be enlarged next week as the American central organ.

Further from Mexico.

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, March 18.

The New-Orleans mail of Tuesday and Wednesday has arrived. The papers contain the details of the news (already telegraphed) from Vera Cruz to the 6th inst. They give nothing later from the city of Mexico, the telegraphic communication having been interrupted by the revolutionists at Puebla. General COMONFORT left the capital on the 26th ult., to put himself at the head of the troops to besiege Puebla. He would have 12,000 troops and 48 pieces of artillery.

The revolutionists at Puebla were about 8,000 strong. The officers who led the revolt at the Castle of San Juan de Ulloa had been sentenced to be shot.

The departure of Hornegan filibusters from New-Orleans is openly proclaimed in the papers.

The Fugitive Slave Case at Cincinnati.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, March 18.

Judge BUSHNOLL has just decided that a Commissioner has no constitutional right to act in Fugitive Slave cases, and that all such acts are null and void.

Later from Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, March 18.

The Kansas correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, writing from Topeka March 3, says that in joint session of the Legislature on that day, Gov. REEDER was elected U. S. Senator on the first ballot (six years) and Gov. LANE on the second, (three years.) Each candidate received 52 votes—56 members being present. The Legislature which organized on the 4th inst. was still in session on the 8th, and the letter makes no mention of any anticipated time of adjournment.

Railroad Accidents.

ACCIDENT ON THE LITTLE MIAMI RAILROAD.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, March 18.

On the Little Miami Railroad this morning, the Express train ran into an accommodation train on the side track at Spring Valley. The Brakeman, CHARLES HUNT, was fatally injured, and died soon after. The fireman was badly bruised. No passengers were hurt. The baggage-car and engines were nearly demolished.

ACCIDENT ON THE WASHINGTON AND RICHMOND RAILROAD.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

The night train from Richmond for this city, ran off the track, at an early hour this morning, and nearly demolished the locomotive. No other injury.

Fire in Boston.

BOSTON, Tuesday, March 18.

A large brick building, in Commerce-street, was destroyed by fire this morning, involving the following losses:

A. & A. JACOBS, Provision Dealers, $11,000; DORR, PROCTOR & Co., West India Goods, $[illegible]; YATES & DURFEE, cigars, $12,000; MORRISON, MERRILL & Co., crockery, $5,000; BRIGGS, GUILD & Co., teas, $3,000. Other tenants suffered to a considerable extent. The losses were mostly insured in State-street.

Boston Bank Statement.

BOSTON, Tuesday, March 18.

The following are the footings of the weekly Bank statement:

Capital Stock.....	$61,000,000	Due from other Banks.....	7,700,000
Loans and Discounts.....	58,297,000	Due to other Banks	[illegible]
Specie.....	2,770,000	Deposits.....	10,[illegible]
		Circulation.....	[illegible]

The Pork Trade.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, March 18.

The Price Current of this week publishes full returns of the Pork trade in the West, and also of the shipments East. The increase in the number packed up to the present time, as compared with last year, is 262,000; and the increase in the shipments East, 155,000.

THE DISASTER ON THE DELAWARE.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, March 18.

The excitement caused by the appalling disaster on the Delaware, on Saturday night, continues unabated. The terrible incidents of the accident, and the constant discovery of new victims, keep alive the public interest, and make the tragic affair almost the sole theme of conversation.

During yesterday afternoon and last night the dragging for bodies was continued, and the remains of Mrs. SHADE and one or two other persons were recovered.

The two unknown men who were brought into the Statehouse yesterday morning, and who, from the similarity of their dress, were thought to be brothers, proved to be MYER EMMANUEL, a barber, a married man, residing in Camden, and FRANCIS BAIRD, a farmer, a single man, belonging near Pentonville, in the Twenty-second Ward of Philadelphia.

The Coroner's Jury continued the inquest in the case yesterday afternoon. But two witnesses, C. P. DICKERSON and NEWCOMB E. CRAVEN, were examined. The principal new facts elicited from these witnesses were—first, their opinion that the boat was an unsafe one; that the fire was the result of carelessness; that no effort was made to extinguish the flames, and that no means of escape were afforded the passengers. One of the witnesses was also of opinion that a number of females were burnt up upon the boat.

In Camden, the sensation produced by the disaster is even more intense than in Philadelphia. The majority of the victims lived in that city, and the condition of the families of those who were thus suddenly snatched away, is melancholy indeed. Camden may be said to be plunged in mourning. Yesterday afternoon the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the place held a meeting, and appropriated $200 for the relief of the families of the victims. A town meeting will also be held this evening, for the purpose of devising means of relief. It has also been proposed to call a meeting for the same purpose in this city.

Coroner DELAVAU yesterday afternoon waited upon the Commandant of the Navy Yard, for the purpose of procuring a gold piece to aid in the recovery of the bodies. No such piece was in readiness, and Captain LEE promised to have such a cannon as was required in readiness by this morning.

This morning the tide was running up, and the surface of the river was so encumbered with ice that the operations of those searching for bodies availed nothing. The John Fitch and two or three small boats were engaged in grappling, but the ice crippled their exertions. The cannon from the Navy Yard was on board the Fitch, but, after firing a few rounds, the attempt to raise the bodies in this way was relinquished until the ebb tide carries off the floating ice.

The crowd at the wharf continues very great, but the police arrangements are better than they were yesterday.

We have received the following note from Messrs. PERRY & ERETT respecting Mr. ASA BULLARD, one of the missing.

TUESDAY MORNING, March 18, 1856.

To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin:

DEAR SIR: The missing agent of the Jersey Blue, reported as being lost from the steamer on Saturday night is Mr. ASA BULLARD, book agent and dealer, who has been residing most of the time, for the past two years, in Salem, N. J. He was in our establishment transacting business up to 8 o'clock on Saturday night, at which time he left for Camden, where he had left his horses and carriage. Originally he was from one of the Eastern States—we think Connecticut or New-Hampshire. Yours, &c.,

PERRY & ERETT, Fourth and Race.

Below will be found a carefully corrected list of the dead, whose bodies have been recovered, with their places of residence. It will be seen that the dead and missing number fifty-six. New discoveries of missing persons are made daily, and by the time the worst is known we are convinced the loss of life will be found to be not less than sixty human beings.

THE DEAD.—Abraham James, Camden; John Little, South Camden; James M. Shermer, Fourth-street, Camden; John S. Newton, Cooper's Hill, N. J.; Mrs. Shade, Christian-street, near Second, Philadelphia; Emory Riley, (colored,) Camden; Mary Ann Diggs, (colored,) South Camden; Alexander Clarion, South Camden; James Williams, (colored,) South Camden; James McCaffrey, Camden. Francis Fitzpatrick, Fifth and Buttonwood streets, Philadelphia; Jacob Campbell, (colored,) South Camden; Francis Baird, Twenty-second Ward, Philadelphia; Frederick Altemus Thompson, Mickle-street, Camden; Myer Reinberg, South Camden; James A. Leonard, (colored,) South Camden; Morris Baily, (colored,) South Camden; Henry Johnson, (colored,) South Camden; Verasa Nixon, Camden. Total 19.

THE MISSING.—Miss E. Fullerton, Mr. Fidell, Chas. Wetherby, Mr. H. Lelarge, Thomas Allen, Miss S. Carman, John Parsons, Mr. Crisp, Samuel Briggs, Edward Merschamp, Charles Keyser, Mary Massey, John Prince, Charles Beale, Child of Mr. Giverson, — Ephilean, Miss E. Jones, a colored boy, — Mayher, J. Wesley Stewart, Asa Bullard, H. Carr, — Glass, — Quinn, Mr. Biddell, Charles Sharp, of Haddonfield, — Snerden, — Smith, — Kernan, (colored,) Mrs. Wagstaff, Ann Dickman, Henry Johnson, Elijah Hutchinson, (colored,) Luther Oney, Edward Mauroken, (colored,) Thomas Smith, Cooper's Point. Mrs. JANE BURNS, a young woman living with her aunt in Fitzwater-street, between Thirteenth and Broad, started to go to Camden on Saturday evening. She has not been heard of since. She was dressed in black. Total missing, 37.

Coroner DELAVAN has received the following letter from the District Attorney, WM. B. REED, Esq., and furnished it to the Inquirer for publication:

DISTRICT-ATTORNEY'S OFFICE,
PHILADELPHIA, March 18, 1856.

To Joseph Delavan, Coroner:

DEAR SIR: I think it best to put in writing what I said in our hurried interview, this morning, so that there can be no misunderstanding as to the views I have of your duty, and that of the Commonwealth, which I understand I know to derive.

It has been judicially decided that, as a Coroner's inquest, no one has a right to be present except those whom the Coroner chooses to select, or whom properly he is ordered, by our Judge Jeffries. You have the right to decide whether the investigation shall be public or private. It is a matter entirely within your official discretion, to be exercised, in each particular case, according to the circumstances of the case. Nobody has a right to be present on behalf of any witness, or any witness, or of counsel, on the part of parties, and I respectfully remark, that, in this inquiry, nothing of the kind is permitted.

Extraordinary precautions in this case, involving as I am told, a large loss of human life, the investigation will be thorough and searching, and that the penal responsibility of persons implicated will be ascertained. A ferry boat which as a great thoroughfare carries many passengers, ought to be provided, with means of escape, such as best fits the exigencies, and the greatest for have them introduced. In my opinion, a serious responsibility. I am determined, so far as in me lies, to enforce this responsibility. It rests on the decision in my judgment, whether the results of a collision, across the bow, or much further, if the boat is allowed to carry passengers on the unknown rope (now in danger by the use of hazardous elements such as steam and fire, and furnish no means of escape in the time of danger and alarm, they are answerable to the common law. In my opinion the proprietors of the ferry boat which was destroyed last night with its freight of human beings are liable to be indicted for some form of homicide. If you shall ascertain that all matters of precaution against fire, or whether there was or not, that there were no boats, or not boats enough, or other means of rescue at a moment of impending danger, considering the most reasonable little quite an share of the terror, the confusion, the power of escape, and that of the inquest on the bodies of the dead to these inquiries:

1. As to the cause of the deaths by violence.

Whether the fire was the result of carelessness on the part of the crew of the boat.

2. Whether, as matter whether the fire occurred from the carelessness of the Agents or not, there were sufficient means of escape furnished by those who are the proprietors of the boat.

3. If so, the proprietors of the boat, and to a corporation, the name, and the names of the Directors or Managers.

These facts being ascertained by your inquest, I shall, as District Attorney of the county, be enabled to determine what further action is needed.

You will understand that I make this communication to you officially, in consequence of your application to me this morning. I will thank you to transmit this letter to your jurymen.

I am, very respectfully, &c.,

WILLIAM B. REED.

Report by Telegraph.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, March 18.

The dragging of the Delaware has been interrupted to-day, by a rush quantity of floating ice. Only one body has been recovered during the day—that of LUTHER ONEY, colored.

Farmers' Club—American Institute.

No. 351 BROADWAY, Tuesday noon, March 18, 1856.

ROBERT L. PELL, Esq., in the Chair. The Secretary exhibited a fine specimen of the Giant Swan pear, raised by Mr. ANDREW SMITH of Hartford—President of the Hartford River Navigation Company—who has devoted much time and attention to Pears. The specimen before the Club was small, but well preserved. It had been kept in a fully ripened state, in a dark cellar, at a temperature just above freezing.

Mr. PRINCE entered into a long and learned defence of the claims of the Chinese Institute. He criticised the course of the daily press of this City very severely, and becoming personal in his remarks, was called to order.

Dr. WAINWRIGHT stated that the Club was not responsible for reports, and that this whole matter was out of order.

Mr. PRINCE was then allowed to proceed in a modified tone, with the defence of his speciality.

A MORE IMPORTANT MATTER.

For some time past a Committee appointed by the Club have been investigating the kind, quality and amount of food, &c., used by the Railroad and Stage Companies of this City for their horses and mules. Dr. WAINWRIGHT has spent considerable time in these investigations, and presented the following report, which will be found instructive, as well as suggestive:

The amount and kind of food consumed by animals depends on the amount and kind of labor they perform. Fattening animals are generally fed differently from working animals. Species and age make marked differences in the kind of food required by the same animal; climate and season of the year does also to a certain extent exercise modifications. The animals both an increased consumption of food and an increase in weight. Beyond this point there is increased consumption of food but a diminution in weight to a second limit, beyond which both are diminished and the animal is "used up."

The Committee had received returns from the following Stage lines in this City, as shown in the accompanying table:

STAGE LINES.	Number of animals.	Miles daily travel.	Pounds of Cut Hay daily fed.	Pounds of Corn Meal daily fed.	Pounds of Oats daily fed.	Pounds of Bran daily fed.
Red Bird Stage Line.....	116	17	14	18	13½	8½
Spring-street do..	105	21	14	20	4	8 1-2
Seventh-av. do..	257	20	10	12½	1	2½
Sixth-av. do. R..
Horses.....	117	15	20	14	2	....
Mules.....	211	19	10	7	2	....
N. Y. Consolid'd Stage Company.	605	21½	8	17	1-2	2½
Washing. Stables, 121 very horses.	....	....	12	7½*	....	....

* Adding quarts of oats at noon.

It is the object of the stage proprietors to put all the work out of their teams possible without injury to the animals. Where the routes are shorter the horses consequently make more trips, so that the different amounts and proportions of food consumed is not so apparent when the comparison is made between the different lines as when it is made with the railroad and livery horses. The stage horses consume most, and the livery horses least.

The stage horses are fed on cut hay and corn meal wet and mixed in the proportion of about one pound of hay to two pounds of meal—a ratio adopted rather for mechanical than physiological reasons, as this is all the meal that can be made to adhere to the hay. The animals eat this mixture from a deep manger.

The New-York Consolidated Stage Co. uses a very small quantity of salt. They think it causes horses to urinate too freely. They find horses do not eat so much when worked too hard. The large horses eat more than the small ones. They prefer a horse of 1,000 to 1,100 pounds weight. If too small, they get poor and cannot draw a stage. If too large, they ruin their feet, and their shoulders grow stiff and shrink. The principal objection to large horses is not so much the increased amount of food required, as the fact that they wear out more by hard work. They would prefer for feed a mixture of a-half corn and a-half oats, if it were not more expensive.

Horses do not keep fat so well on oats alone if at hard labor, as on corn meal or a mixture of the two.

Straw is best for bedding. If salt hay is used they eat it as we use not many than a bar of 50 pounds of salt in three months. They allow them glanders salt occasionally as a laxation in the Spring of the year, and they eat it voraciously. If corn is too new, they mix it with a-half rye, bran, which prevents scurvy. Jersey yellow corn is best; horses like it the best. They cut all the hay and mix it with the meal and feed it wet. No difference is made between day and night work. The travel is continuous, except in warm weather, when it is sometimes divided and an interval of rest allowed. In cold weather the horses are watered four times a-day in the stables, and not at all on the road. In warm weather four times a-day in the stables, and are allowed a-six on the middle of the route. The amount that the Company exact of each horse is all that he can do. In the worst of the traveling we fed 450 bags weekly of meal of 100 pounds each. They now feed 400. The horses are not allowed to drink when warm. If allowed to do so it founders them. In warm weather a bed of sawdust is prepared for them to roll in. Number of horses, 605. Speed varies, but is about four miles an hour. Horses eat more in cold weather than in warm, but the difference cannot be exactly determined. The Company are dead opposed to the Stone pavement, and rather have cobble stone.

Dr. WAINWRIGHT introduced a spicy letter from Dr. A. BURNLOW, of Attica, Ind., from which the following is an extract:

"I am a great lover of horses—generally keep good ones and do some fast driving, and notice its effect upon horses; and having used them five years in Vermont, and two here, I will give you the result of my observation. Vermont horses, like its inhabitants, are almost invariably raised on very plain diet, but if the former arrive to maturity without having the "heaves," and the latter consumption, they can beat the world for power of endurance. The horses I have seen on any other portion of the Union are all enough to work, and then "blather little," as you say, thinks there must be some one on "the check." The Indiana colts are generally allowed to eat all or nearly all the corn they like Summer and Winter, commencing season as they have teeth to masticate it. The results, for the driving, they are comparatively useless. However, though winter work with them is rarely well, when I first came here my stock with the exception of two or three horses, were stifled with hoes, that are seldom or never known in Vermont; and although some of them may be attributable to the climate, I am convinced much of them are caused by giving them too much corn. These diseases are in part like foundered feet, accompanied with something like a bone formed and over, a certain number, (perhaps of the scapular muscles,) pole evil, central lameness and other inflammatory causes, and blind staggers, which in my veterinary opinion, are not all from corn, but are allied to the same inflammations that follow high living—the same causes (Now I do not like any manner of the Club.)

I have seen a horse, which I thought was high, will be attacked with inflammation of the eyes, one or both, generally chronic or continuous, and in spite of knock-

THE ARTS

POLITICAL.

Letter from Hon. Millard Fillmore, Declining the Presidential Nomination.

Fillmore Republicans.

Albany, Tuesday, March 11, 1856.

To the Honorable Joseph A. King.

MY DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 10th inst. was received this morning, and I frankly acknowledge that I am gratified by the opportunity it affords me to give expression to the opinions and sentiments I entertain relative to the approaching Presidential Election. This I propose to do with perfect frankness, and I am sorry that the narrow limits, I do not feel at liberty to transgress, will not permit me to do it more fully.

Like you, I was one of the original constituent members of the Whig party, and you are, I think, aware of the tenacity and earnestness with which I adhered to its distinctive principles, under the conviction that their ascendancy was essential to the welfare of the country. In its origin, its elements and its aims, a nobler party never existed. But it was mechanic; and for any effective and useful purpose, it has ceased to exist. Its final dissolution has been consummated by the voluntary act of an immense majority of its members, in abandoning with the advice of those to whom they had been accustomed to look as guides. In this important transaction, you bore a conspicuous part. That in so doing, you were actuated by a lofty sense of duty alone, no one who knows you will doubt any more than I do; and the merit of the sacrifice is enhanced by the sacrifice it required. You had not enlisted in the Whig army as a mercenary soldier, and you could not, I am persuaded, have participated in the act of disbanding it without a pang. For myself, I had no hand in the necessary. There was a time, years ago, when I should have been consulted touching a project affecting less than the existence of the political party to which I belonged; but having so long been withdrawn from the arena of active politics, by my judicial station and my absence from the country, it was natural that, in the present instance, I should have been left to glean my information from the public prints.

It is true that I had seen but too much reason to distrust the fortunes of the Whig party, but my hopes were not yet extinct, and my partialities and prejudices remained. I frankly confess, therefore, that it has not been until very lately, nor without a struggle, that I have at length become thoroughly reconciled to the merger of the Whig party in that known as the Republican party. Not, however, that I ever, at any moment, indulged a thought of remaining with the small remnant of Whigs who still adhered to the name, represented before the public, and generally composed, though it was, of men of great personal respectability, some of whom I had been proud to number among my friends. I discussed the question clearly, I will not say the sophistry, whereby I was not disposed to question their sincerity, but the fallacies that pervaded all their published expositions of the principles by which they professed to be governed, not also to see that those principles were wholly unsuited to the present interesting and pregnant crisis; that to adhere to them would be, at least, to abdicate the post of duty, which their peaceful assertion would, in my estimation, be productive of far more evil than good. In referring to the present extraordinary excitement of the country, you will readily understand me to allude, as I do, to the question of Slavery extension and the monstrous brood of theories to which it has given birth.

It was not, I assure you, on account of any doubts I entertained respecting the nature of the duty imposed on me by the renewed aggression of the Slave Power that I hesitated carefully to join the ranks of the new party. My detestation of human Slavery was as strong as yours; and I saw as clearly, and felt as forcibly, that the time had come when, if ever, a stand must be taken by the Free States, to resist, at all hazards, its further encroachments.

The Ordinance of 1787, enforced by Congress immediately after the organization of the National Government under the Constitution, established a line with respect to all the territory then belonging to the United States, beyond which human bondage should never be extended, and which no one ever dreamed of ever disturbing. Had no further territory been acquired, no controversy could have arisen with respect to the geographical limits of Slavery in this continent. But the subsequent acquisition by purchase from France in 1803, of a vast additional region, reopened the question. With respect to the Southern portion of this new domain, embracing by climate no the African Constitution, the Free States acquiesced without a murmur, though not without regret, in its surrender to Slavery. But when, 1819, Missouri, a territory lying so far North as to afford no such pretext for this outrage against humanity, applied for admission into the Union as a State, with a Constitution not only tolerating Slavery, but virtually forbidding its abolition by law—the North resisted, and, for a time, defeated the application. The struggle was renewed, however, at the next session of Congress, when, at length, unfortunately, as I think, a portion of the Northern members, wearied with the contest and dreading the consequences of its continuance, uniting with a majority of the Southern members, assented to the admission of Missouri, in consideration of a solemn compact on the part of their Southern coadjutors, that thereafter Slavery should be restricted to the region lying south of 36° 30'.

Thus ended that interesting and memorable conflict of principle, in which those parties firmly believed, never to be renewed, in fact, they had entered into a compact that it never should be. For more than thirty years this compact, familiarly known as the Missouri Compromise, was held sacred as the Constitution itself, and, morally, no less obligatory. It was so much of its importance to escape discussion in the course of public discussion, until two years ago, it was never alluded to but in terms of profound respect. Then, to the astonishment of the country, a bill was brought into the Senate declaring it "inoperative and void!" The bill was for the establishment of territorial Governments over all the remaining territory comprised within the Missouri Compromise. The object of its framers was to reopen the door to the admission of Slavery into the new Territories. Already, by the proposition was, Southern members had been able to reconcile it to their consciences to vote for it, and by the aid of Northern votes it passed both Houses of Congress, and received the signature of a recreant Executive. The act was accompanied and followed by the promulgation of constitutional heresies, if I dare so utter of dogmas, as revolting to common sense as the act they were designed to palliate is to the dictates of common honesty. Their tendency is, and, if carried out into action, their inevitable effect will be, to extend the lurid shadow of human bondage over the Free States of the Union, and enable the Georgia slaveholder to fulfill his insolent threat to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill. And monstrous as these new doctrines are, having been adopted as party watchwords there is imminent danger that they will be carried out unless they are promptly met by determined opposition. Of the quality of the fruit they have produced, we have a foretaste already in the outrages perpetrated in Kansas. I fear, too, that the time has come, when the Free States are prepared to decide, at once and forever, whether they will, or may, longer yield, their arms and let the dark wave roll on and overwhelm them, or will resist and repel it.

For myself, my decision was made two years ago, and the only question with me since has been as to the choice of means by which, if at all, I could, in whatever degree, render my decision effective. Nothing came in the meantime, should alternatives by this purpose present themselves, apparently, to me, of sufficient, or, at most, a very slight, preponderance, to induce me to depart from the path which I had chosen, as most advantageous, or least objectionable. Waiting a more particular statement of the possible alternatives to which I referred, I came down at once to the state of things, an imperfect survey of which has determined my course of action. Of the two divisions of the Democratic party, as unauspiciously, and even odious, as the appellations of Hunkers and Softs, yet, as the most distinctive and significant, that which adopts the dogmas of Slavery extension and the monstrous brood of theories to which it has given birth.

It was not, I assure you, on account of any doubts I entertained respecting the nature of the duty imposed on me by the renewed aggression of the Slave Power that I hesitated carefully to join the ranks of the new party. My detestation of human Slavery was as strong as yours; and I saw as clearly, and felt as forcibly, that the time had come when, if ever, a stand must be taken by the Free States, to resist, at all hazards, its further encroachments.

The Ordinance of 1787, enforced by Congress immediately after the organization of the National Government under the Constitution, established a line with respect to all the territory then belonging to the United States, beyond which human bondage should never be extended, and which no one ever dreamed of ever disturbing. Had no further territory been acquired, no controversy could have arisen with respect to the geographical limits of Slavery in this continent. But the subsequent acquisition by purchase from France in 1803, of a vast additional region, reopened the question. With respect to the Southern portion of this new domain, embracing by climate no the African Constitution, the Free States acquiesced without a murmur, though not without regret, in its surrender to Slavery. But when, 1819, Missouri, a territory lying so far North as to afford no such pretext for this outrage against humanity, applied for admission into the Union as a State, with a Constitution not only tolerating Slavery, but virtually forbidding its abolition by law—the North resisted, and, for a time, defeated the application. The struggle was renewed, however, at the next session of Congress, when, at length, unfortunately, as I think, a portion of the Northern members, wearied with the contest and dreading the consequences of its continuance, uniting with a majority of the Southern members, assented to the admission of Missouri, in consideration of a solemn compact on the part of their Southern coadjutors, that thereafter Slavery should be restricted to the region lying south of 36° 30'.

Thus ended that interesting and memorable conflict of principle, in which those parties firmly believed, never to be renewed—in fact, they had entered into a compact that it never should be. For more than thirty years this compact, familiarly known as the Missouri Compromise, was held sacred as the Constitution itself, and, morally, no less obligatory. It was so much of its importance to escape discussion in the course of public discussion, until two years ago, it was never alluded to but in terms of profound respect. Then, to the astonishment of the country, a bill was brought into the Senate declaring it "inoperative and void!" The bill was for the establishment of territorial Governments over all the remaining territory comprised within the Missouri Compromise. The object of its framers was to reopen the door to the admission of Slavery into the new Territories. Already, by the proposition was, Southern members had been able to reconcile it to their consciences to vote for it, and by the aid of Northern votes it passed both Houses of Congress, and received the signature of a recreant Executive. The act was accompanied and followed by the promulgation of constitutional heresies, if I dare so utter of dogmas, as revolting to common sense as the act they were designed to palliate is to the dictates of common honesty. Their tendency is, and, if carried out into action, their inevitable effect will be, to extend the lurid shadow of human bondage over the Free States of the Union, and enable the Georgia slaveholder to fulfill his insolent threat to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill. And monstrous as these new doctrines are, having been adopted as party watchwords there is imminent danger that they will be carried out unless they are promptly met by determined opposition. Of the quality of the fruit they have produced, we have a foretaste already in the outrages perpetrated in Kansas. I fear, too, that the time has come, when the Free States are prepared to decide, at once and forever, whether they will remain quiet, their arms and let the dark wave roll on and overwhelm them, or will resist and repel it.

For myself, my decision was made two years ago, and the only question with me since has been as to the choice of means by which, if at all, I could, in whatever degree, render my decision effective. Nothing came in the meantime, should alternatives by this purpose present themselves, apparently, to me, of sufficient, or, at most, a very slight, preponderance, to induce me to depart from the path which I had chosen, as most advantageous, or least objectionable. Waiting a more particular statement of the possible alternatives to which I referred, I came down at once to the state of things, an imperfect survey of which has determined my course of action. Of the two divisions of the Democratic party, as unauspiciously, and even odious, as the appellations of Hunkers and Softs, yet, as the most distinctive and significant, that which adopts the dogmas of Slavery extension and the monstrous brood of theories to which it has given birth.

It was not, I assure you, on account of any doubts I entertained respecting the nature of the duty imposed on me by the renewed aggression of the Slave Power that I hesitated carefully to join the ranks of the new party. My detestation of human Slavery was as strong as yours; and I saw as clearly, and felt as forcibly, that the time had come when, if ever, a stand must be taken by the Free States, to resist, at all hazards, its further encroachments.

The Ordinance of 1787, enforced by Congress immediately after the organization of the National Government under the Constitution, established a line with respect to all the territory then belonging to the United States, beyond which human bondage should never be extended, and which no one ever dreamed of ever disturbing. Had no further territory been acquired, no controversy could have arisen with respect to the geographical limits of Slavery in this continent. But the subsequent acquisition by purchase from France in 1803, of a vast additional region, reopened the question. With respect to the Southern portion of this new domain, embracing by climate no the African Constitution, the Free States acquiesced without a murmur, though not without regret, in its surrender to Slavery. But when, 1819, Missouri, a territory lying so far North as to afford no such pretext for this outrage against humanity, applied for admission into the Union as a State, with a Constitution not only tolerating Slavery, but virtually forbidding its abolition by law—the North resisted, and, for a time, defeated the application. The struggle was renewed, however, at the next session of Congress, when, at length, unfortunately, as I think, a portion of the Northern members, wearied with the contest and dreading the consequences of its continuance, uniting with a majority of the Southern members, assented to the admission of Missouri, in consideration of a solemn compact on the part of their Southern coadjutors, that thereafter Slavery should be restricted to the region lying south of 36° 30'.

Thus ended that interesting and memorable conflict of principle, in which those parties firmly believed, never to be renewed—in fact, they had entered into a compact that it never should be. For more than thirty years this compact, familiarly known as the Missouri Compromise, was held sacred as the Constitution itself, and, morally, no less obligatory. It was so much of its importance to escape discussion in the course of public discussion, until two years ago, it was never alluded to but in terms of profound respect. Then, to the astonishment of the country, a bill was brought into the Senate declaring it "inoperative and void!" The bill was for the establishment of territorial Governments over all the remaining territory comprised within the Missouri Compromise. The object of its framers was to reopen the door to the admission of Slavery into the new Territories. Already, by the proposition was, Southern members had been able to reconcile it to their consciences to vote for it, and by the aid of Northern votes it passed both Houses of Congress, and received the signature of a recreant Executive. The act was accompanied and followed by the promulgation of constitutional heresies, if I dare so utter of dogmas, as revolting to common sense as the act they were designed to palliate is to the dictates of common honesty. Their tendency is, and, if carried out into action, their inevitable effect will be, to extend the lurid shadow of human bondage over the Free States of the Union, and enable the Georgia slaveholder to fulfill his insolent threat to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill. And monstrous as these new doctrines are, having been adopted as party watchwords there is imminent danger that they will be carried out unless they are promptly met by determined opposition. Of the quality of the fruit they have produced, we have a foretaste already in the outrages perpetrated in Kansas. I fear, too, that the time has come, when the Free States are prepared to decide, at once and forever, whether they will remain quiet, their arms and let the dark wave roll on and overwhelm them, or will resist and repel it.

For myself, my decision was made two years ago, and the only question with me since has been as to the choice of means by which, if at all, I could, in whatever degree, render my decision effective. Nothing came in the meantime, should alternatives by this purpose present themselves, apparently, to me, of sufficient, or, at most, a very slight, preponderance, to induce me to depart from the path which I had chosen, as most advantageous, or least objectionable. Waiting a more particular statement of the possible alternatives to which I referred, I came down at once to the state of things, an imperfect survey of which has determined my course of action. Of the two divisions of the Democratic party, as unauspiciously, and even odious, as the appellations of Hunkers and Softs, yet, as the most distinctive and significant, that which adopts the dogmas of Slavery extension and the monstrous brood of theories to which it has given birth.

FROM UTAH.

DOINGS OF THE MORMONS.

Admission of Utah into the Union—Governor Young's Message—A Peace Gentle Peace.

We have received our correspondence and files of papers from Great Salt Lake City to Dec. 31. The Mormons had determined, by an act approved on the 17th December, to take immediate measures to secure the admission of Utah into the Union as a State. A general election was ordered to take place on the 16th February, for the choice of Delegates to a Constitutional Convention, which was to assemble at Great Salt Lake City on the 17th March. This Convention was to be authorized to form and adopt a Constitution; to define boundaries; designate the name of the new State, and memorialize Congress in relation thereto.

Our correspondent writes:

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, Sunday, Dec. 31, 1855.

During the late session of the Territorial Court at Fillmore, the people of that region, if not surprised, were certainly disgusted with the debaucheries committed under the leadership of the presiding Judge. In a territory where drunkenness is considered a loathsome crime, it is, to say the least, unbecoming for a United States officer to degrade his office by an undignified spectacle of himself.

From all the information I have gleaned, since my stay in this Territory, of the former and present proceedings of the majority of the officials sent from the States to manage the affairs of Utah, there seems good warranty for any other set of people, besides the Mormons, resorting to polygamy, for the sole purpose of rushing the population up to the State standard, in order to shuffle off their Territorial character, and with it these official excrescences.

An endeavor was lately made to bring about the arrest of the Indians known to have belonged to the party that massacred GUNNISON's command. The plan was, however, frustrated by the untimely arrest of an innocent Indian; the guilty parties having, in the meantime, taken alarm and placed themselves beyond capture. These Indians had, heretofore, considered themselves safe, because they had delivered up to Col. STEPTOE three worthless victims to justice, and received his assurance of the matter being settled forever.

Winter was inaugurated in the "valleys of the mountains" by frequent snow storms, and until two weeks ago sudden thaws that enabled the cattle to flourish on the ranges, without reducing the small supply of feed in their owner's possession. The severe weather of the past two weeks has, undoubtedly, frozen the ground to a sufficient depth to kill the grasshopper and cricket grubs, and insure small crops of those insects for a few years to come. In the mountains the snow has been accumulating, without the chance of getting into a "melting mood," until it has gauged seven or eight feet in depth, promising an abundant supply of water next Summer for irrigating. The entire population, with the exception of a small fraction, is more or less engaged in cultivating the soil, and feel a dependance upon that fickle dame—the weather. But everybody is now quite elate with the undoubted prospects of an abundant harvest next Fall.

It will be seen by the Message of the Governor to the Territorial Legislature, that application will soon be made for the admission of Utah into the Union. Happily, I am enabled to lay before your readers the following acts, passed and approved Dec. 17, 1855:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah, that an election shall be held in each precinct in the several counties, at the usual places of holding the general election, on Saturday, the 16th February, A. D., 1856, at which time the qualified electors may vote for or against holding a Convention to take the preparatory steps for the admission of this Territory into the Union as a State, and for such persons as they may wish to elect delegates thereto, according to the following apportionment:

Great Salt Lake and Summit, 16; Weber and Desert, 4; Sion and Washington, 8; Davis, 8; Green River, Tooele, Juab and Carson, each 1; Willars and San Pete, 2; Utah, 5.

SEC. 2. The election shall be conducted in accordance with the "Act regulating Elections," approved January 5, 1852, so far as applicable. And so soon as the general abstract of the names voted for as delegates is made out, the County Clerk shall furnish an official notification of election to each person found elected, which notification upon presentation at the office of the Secretary of the Territory, shall entitle the person holding it to a certificate from the Secretary, or to act as such in Convention in case the officer, from any unforeseen cause, should be prevented from giving such certificate.

SEC. 3. The Delegates shall meet in the Council House, in Great Salt Lake City, on the third Monday in March, A. D. 1856, shall qualify by taking the customary oath, which may be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths, and shall proceed to organize by choosing a President, Secretary, and such other officers as they may deem proper.

SEC. 4. The Convention is authorized to form and adopt a Constitution for the new Territory of Utah, with a view to the admission into the Union as a State, on an equal footing with the original States; to define the boundaries by which the new State shall be limited, and designate the name by which it shall be known; to memorialize the President and Congress of the United States for its admission; to take such other lawful and prudent measures as they may deem necessary for the accomplishment of so desirable an object; and to elect and authorize Delegates, whose duty it shall be to present the Constitution, memorial, and other appropriate Convention documents, to the President and Congress of the United States, and to use their best efforts towards procuring a favorable action thereon.

SEC. 5. The Convention shall submit the Constitution which they form and adopt, the names of the Delegates they elect, and their other public documents, designed by them to be intrusted to said Delegates, to the people, for their approval, at such time and places as, and in such manner as it may prescribe; and if approved by the people, the Delegates thus elected shall forthwith repair to Washington, District of Columbia, to perform the duties herein specified, and such other duties as the Convention may with propriety devolve upon them.

SEC. 6. In event that the electors in Carson County do not receive timely notice of the election to be held on Saturday, the 16th day of February next, as herein before specified, the Probate Judge of that County is hereby empowered and required to hold such election.

Message of Gov. Young.

The Annual Message is short, and descants upon the "peace, gentle peace," that rests upon the Territory. The finances stand as follows:

"The revenue, as appears from the Auditor's reports, for the current fiscal year amounts to $17,545 67, showing an increase over last year of $10,968 56. This arises from an increase of property, and a higher per cent. assessed by the last Legislative Assembly. The total amount of increase, as assessed, is $615,205, being over a third more than during years previous. Debt of the Territory, $1,100."

The Governor says:

"We have a very good volume of laws, and I would recommend, so far as they remain applicable to our wants, and are sufficient for probable emergencies, that we do not disturb them. No law passed by the Legislative Assembly of this Territory has been annulled by Congress, although, by a most odious and anti-republican feature in the 'Organic Act,' it retains the power so to do—a power so utterly repugnant to, and subversive of, the principles of our free institutions, that it should be rarely, if ever, exercised.

In order, however, to avoid this, as well as many other questions which might unfortunately arise only to perplex and entangle the relations so unreasonably, yet peacefully, existing in the present form of a dependent State, and to place ourselves, beyond cavil, upon the platform of equal rights, constitutional sovereignty and free Government, based upon the principles sacred to every lover of American liberty as emanating from the people. I recommend that you take the initiatory steps towards our obtaining admission into the Union. Preparatory thereto, it will be necessary to have the census of the Territory taken, and to hold a Convention for the formation and adoption of a Constitution. I would respectfully suggest that this matter be taken into prompt consideration, that, in case you deem it wisdom to make an effort for our admission as a State, the incipient laws may be passed at an early day.

We trust that the present Congress will have wisdom enough to so far recognize the principle of self-government, and the genius of our free institutions, as to abolish in her territories that odious, tyrannical, and absurd system of colonial government which emanated from the British throne, and place them upon that equality of constitutional rights enjoyed by the States in their internal regulations, election of officers and representation.

It has been proposed to open new channels of communication with this Territory from the east through the tributaries of the Missouri, and from the south by way of the Colorado. Doubtless boats built expressly for the purpose, will be able to approach our settlements many hundred miles nearer than at present. Should it be in your power, by chartering companies or rendering other encouragement, to further any such enterprise, you will meet with my most hearty cooperation; I certainly deem it a subject worthy of your consideration."

Schools are commended, a peaceful policy towards the Indians is recommended. In reference to home manufactures, the Message has the following:

"I deem it needless to reiterate my views and feelings in relation to home manufactures, for a community so eager for their promotion, I am happy in believing, perhaps the entire community. Although but few manufacturing establishments, of any considerable importance, are in successful operation, yet a large amount of cloth, leather, rope, iron, brushes and other articles of import, of a very good quality, have been manufactured. The Dumb Indian, without capital, makes a beginning and grows into the business, as facilities and means increase around him.

Some very good iron has been made in the works in Iron County, and the present prospect is very fair for the most sanguine success. I would recommend a continuance of the liberal policy heretofore extended to this branch of domestic manufacture. Other industrial pursuits should also meet with encouragement and aid, so far as compatible with the public interest. Much may be done to promote and encourage the productions of domestic industry, by the adoption of annual exhibitions, and by giving suitable premiums for the best specified articles produced from the native elements."

A touch of magnificent writing, (touching the struggles of party, frenzied zeal, strife for power, and the spectacle of "nations contending for a gory bed,") winds up the Message.

Kansas Emigration Movements in South Carolina.

LARGE KANSAS MEETING IN CHARLESTON—ADDRESS AND RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in Charleston on the 14th inst. Gen. MARTIN presided. An address, with resolutions annexed, presented by the Special Committee appointed for that purpose, were unanimously adopted.

The address opens by recognizing the issue of the struggle in Kansas as the paramount political question of the day. It says that—

"In seeking to attain the object of opening, for the South and ourselves in that Territory, equal political and industrial privileges, there has been neither disposition nor effort to violate in letter the organic laws of this State, or of Kansas, or of the United States; but rather, in our proceedings, to conform to their spirit, and to consult the rights of all citizens under them."

After reviewing the history of the Kansas troubles from a Southern point of view, the address proceeds to say that—

"The election of REDER at a rabble hustings, and then again, under similar but different auspices, of DELAHAY, as the Territorial Delegate to Congress, in face of the regular election of Gen. WHITFIELD as such Delegate, are but other and continued instances of defiance to law, and of attempted disregard of all legitimate safeguards for either our property or constitutional rights. The Squatter Sovereignty Free-Soil Assembly which organized some time since at Topeka, and usurped legislative powers, and the assumed installation of Free-State officers at the same place on the 4th of this very month, in contempt for and disobedience to the regular Territorial Legislature and officials, are still greater specimens of disdain for all authority, but full and treasonable organization in the cause of Abolition."

On the prospect of future difficulties the address says that—

"No apprehensions of protracted or extended civil war, usually so alarming to the conservative and peaceful, need be entertained in view of the present condition of affairs. The dragoons under SUMNER, and the arms of citizen militia, would soon repress the outbreaks of Abolition filibusters. The South wants votes, even more than arms, in Kansas. Our largest aid is need to send both there."

The address finally urges emigration and the adoption of such measures as may be calculated to establish the slave institution in Kansas. Two considerations of "vital importance" for the necessity of Southern emigration are given. One is the safety and interest of the institution in Missouri; for it is urged, if Kansas be made a Free-Soil State, Missouri "will be girded by a cordon of Anti-slave States, with populations intent upon the destruction of that portion of her domestic system, and unscrupulous of the means for effecting it."

"The other consideration has regard to the just share which Southern policy should have in the vast interests and influences which will be concentrated in and wielded by the great Pacific Railroad when built. Kansas will have a local connection with it of the strongest relative influence whether one of the middle or the Southern route be adopted, and it is probable that one of them will be. Her State policy and action in the premises should, therefore, be in unison with those of the South."

The following are the resolutions adopted at the meeting:

1. Resolved, That our citizens have the right to emigrate to and abide in Kansas or any other Federal Territory, and to take with them such property as is recognized by the Constitution of this State, and of the United States.

2. Resolved, That the slave institution is one of the political constituents of this Confederacy, and an element under the sovereignty of each Slave State, and that any attempt to destroy it, other than by the consent and through the legitimate action of those who have its legal control, is alike moral and political treachery to the system of this Union.

3. Resolved, therefore, In view of these cardinal truths, that it is our right and duty as a people to promote the emigration of such citizens as will go to Kansas, with a bona fide purpose of becoming inhabitants thereof, and aiding the constituted authorities in maintaining the Government and laws now in force in said Territory, or such other laws as may be passed for the preservation of slave institutions."

4. Resolved, That while we do not claim that either the State, or any subordinate official authority, or any armed military organization, should as such intervene in the domestic affairs of Kansas, we shall voluntarily, as private individuals, furnish all necessary material aid, within our lawful spheres of action, which may be needed by or useful to those of our fellow citizens who are proper persons, and may desire to emigrate to Kansas, with or without property.

In conclusion, Col. CUNNINGHAM offered the following additional resolution, which was unanimously adopted, and the meeting then adjourned:

Resolved, That Sub-Committees, auxiliary to the Executive Committee of the Association, in the matter of obtaining and collecting contributions, be appointed at the meeting to canvass every interest and portion of the City; of each of which Sub-Committee a member of the Executive Committee shall be Chairman, shall receive the funds collected by it, and pay them over to the Treasurer of the Association.

OTHER MEETINGS.

The Pee Dee Times reports a meeting, wherein the people of Winyah unanimously resolved to follow the example set them by their brethren in All Saints, in raising men and money for Kansas, "which is now threatened to be destroyed by the Abolitionists of the North." A Committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions, and report at a future meeting.

The Georgetown Times reports a meeting held at that place for a similar object. A Committee was also appointed to solicit contributions and otherwise carry out the purposes of the Southern Emigration movement for Kansas.

The Search for the Pacific.

The United States propeller Arctic, which left this port on the 11th ult., in search of the missing steamer Pacific, and sailed again from Halifax, N. S., on the 21st, has not since been heard from at either point. On account of this many persons are beginning to be somewhat apprehensive for her safety. But they are not of those who know the vessel, and are familiarly acquainted with her commander. At the Navy-Yard she is not expected to return for some time, unless she should fortunately meet with the object of her search, or some other vessel in distress. Her commander (Capt. HARSTENE) is an Arctic navigator in every sense, having been on the late successful expedition in pursuit of Doctor KANE. The Arctic is one of the two vessels which composed that expedition, and, not only does he know her sailing and other qualities, but he is also familiar with the mode of navigation and working a vessel on the peculiar, though rather perilous, voyages for which she (the Arctic) was especially intended. The vessel was supplied with abundant stores and provisions for 100 men on a two months' voyage. Beside this Captain HARSTENE, before leaving Halifax, took in a corresponding supply of fuel, with additions to the general stock. She is a full-rigged bark, and she would probably cruise under sail, reserving her fuel, to be used when passing through ice or in towing any distressed vessel that she might fall in with. She has also spars, sails and rigging for refitting vessels that may be found more or less dismantled. Capt. H., to his nautical skill and experience unites great courage perseverance and benevolence, and it is not likely, therefore, that with such ample means as he has been invested with, he will be easily disheartened in his present philanthropic undertaking. He will not simply run out a few degrees from the land, in any direction, and back again, but will cruise far and wide, and labor long and hard before relinquishing his purpose—that of finding the Pacific, or extending relief to some distressed fellow-beings, if such can be found.

It was reported that when the Arctic put in to Halifax, (Feb. 13,) her propeller was foul, and that she had been near foundering, having had eight feet of water in her hold, as though she was in distress, and unseaworthy. Her propeller was foul, but it was only by a boat's painter becoming jammed between the hub of the propeller and the stern-post of the vessel. Not being able to use the engine, she was at one time in rather dangerous proximity to the breakers while coming into that port, but finally went clear by the aid of her sails alone. Mr. WILLIAM FOX, who went to Halifax as her, as Assistant Engineer, testified that her machinery was in perfect order, as the vessel herself he considers her about as staunch and firm as the could be. (It is solid mass of wood and iron. The report of her having eight feet of water in her hole, he says, was false; for that she had three or four feet, at the second day out, which was taken in during a gale, in consequence of the bunker plates not having been battened down.

NEW-YORK CITY.

THE ALMSHOUSE.

The Board met on Monday evening at 5 o'clock. A letter was received from the Director of the Orphan Asylum in reference to enlarging that building, and referring to the present power to contract to the City by the Legislature, to report the lease of Rutgers Square. Referred to the Committee on Lands and Places.

LETTER FROM THE POSTMASTER—NEW POST-OFFICE.

A communication was received from the Postmaster, and referred to the Special Committee, on an improved Post-Office. It was as follows:

POST-OFFICE, New-York, Friday, March 14, 1856.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

I cheerfully comply with the request contained in your resolutions of the 12th inst., the receipt of which I have the honor to acknowledge.

I subjoin a copy of a letter from the Mayor of this City to the Postmaster-General, relative to the, subject of an improved Post-Office, which is not intended to be a correspondence communicated by the Mayor to the Board of Aldermen. A copy of the letter was transmitted to me by the Postmaster-General at my request, with permission to use the same. Also, enclosed is a copy of the petition referred to in the letter of the Mayor to the Postmaster-General. It is worthy of remark that of the thirty-seven signers of the petition, all of them, I believe respectable and esteemed citizens, only seven, at Spoken by small places of residence annexed to their signatures, are within half a mile of the junction of Sixth-avenue and Broadway. These are the only ones, doubtless, who could use an office at that place. Many of the others are some two miles from that location; but several of them, I am informed, own property in the neighborhood.

The following are the improvements decided upon for the "more speedy collection of letters from, and delivery of letters to the inhabitants of this City, part of which have already been made. While the rest will be at an early day—certainly not later than the 1st day of June next:

First—A partial equalization of the compensation of the carriers, so as to secure the benefit of frequent deliveries of letters to the less thickly populated portion of the delivery of this office.

Second—An increase in the number of carriers, enabling them to make, not only more frequent, but also more speedy deliveries. When I took this office there were forty-two regular carriers. Now there are eighty-nine.

Third—An increase in the number of boxes statement about the City for the reception of letters, from about twenty to about one thousand. All of these boxes have not been located yet, but they are made, and are sent out as fast as suitable places are selected for them.

Fourth—The substitution of new, neat, and strong locks on the boxes, for the old, unsightly, and insecure locks. These boxes are all under the United States Mail lock, and letters can be deposited in them with entire confidence.

Fifth—An increase in the number of collections each day from the boxes. We now make four collections, formerly three.

Sixth—Necessarily an increase in the number of collectors. When I took this office there were eight collectors, now there are twenty.

Seventh—The establishment of four outside stations auxiliary to this office. Premises for these stations have been hired, and are in the street floors of the following houses: No. 129 Spring-street, near Greene; No. 68 Grand-street near Attorney; No. 305 Eighth-avenue, near Twenty-ninth-street; and No. 407 Third-avenue, near Thirteenth-street.

Eighth—The rendezvous of the up-town carriers at the stations for their respective districts, saving the time now employed in going from and returning to this office.

Ninth—An efficient system of exchanges by horses and wagons that City letters will be conveyed directly to the station for the district within which they are to be delivered, without previous transmission to this office.

Tenth—Four deliveries by carriers each day at 9 and 11 A. M., 2 and 4 P. M., throughout all of the City up to Fifty-fourth street, which is the extent of the delivery of the Post-Office.

As I cannot obtain possession of some of the stations until the first of May, the last four improvements cannot be carried into effect until some time in the course of that month.

From and after the 1st of June next, therefore, every resident of the paved portion of the City will be within 1,500 feet of a United States mail-box, which will be opened at four stated times each week day, and the letters contained therein immediately forwarded to their places of destination, and there will be four regular deliveries by carriers each week-day up to Fifty-fourth-street. These results I am determined shall be thoroughly accomplished. I regret that the City did not consent to the location of boxes at the several Police Station-Houses. Even if it was deemed inexpedient to allow policemen to receive letters for deposit in the boxes, the location of boxes at the Station-Houses, by reason of their being always open, would be a great convenience to the public. If it had been authorized I would have provided for an extra collection from these boxes at an hour in the morning at which ordinary places of business are closed.

It is proper I should add that the great improvements I have specified could only be made by the authority of Judge CARDOZO, the Postmaster-General, and the manifestations of his great desire for the greater accommodation of our community, all the power given to him by the Laws of Congress. Every suggestion I have made for the improvement of the business of this office has, after proper consideration, and with such modifications as the circumstances required, been authorized.

Increased facilities for warehouses have been granted to every department of the office. I make this statement, as, I believe, to some extent, contrary impressions have prevailed. Yours, respectfully,

ISAAC V. FOWLER, Postmaster.

(Copy.)

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, April 27, 1855.

MY DEAR SIR: I have the honor to inclose to you a memorial from some of our most influential and valuable citizens in favor of a Branch Post-Office in the upper part of this City.

Let me assure you in all sincerity that no delay should be had in this matter.

It is absolutely required, and Government will be doing justice in returning it.

To compel our citizens to travel four or five miles for their letters, or suffer the delay and uncertainties which continually characterize the system of carriers, is a hardship they should not bear.

Very truly, your friend,

(Signed.) FERNANDO WOOD.

Hon. JAMES CAMPBELL, Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.

SCHOOL MONEYS.

On motion of Alderman VOORHIS, the Corporation Council was requested to draft a memorial to the Legislature, and submit the same to the Board, to modify the present law so as to secure for the support of the Free Schools of this City, all the money raised by direct taxation in the City and County of New-York for school purposes.

The Committee on Finance reported in favor of remitting in part or entire, the personal taxes of various persons named. Adopted.

The Committee on Roads reported in favor of concurring with the Councilmen, in regulating, paving, &c., various streets. Adopted.

The Board then adjourned until to-day at 5 o'clock

THE COUNCILMEN.

Adoption of the Boole Charter.

The Board of Councilmen met on Monday evening, President PINCKNEY in the Chair.

The Report of the Special Committee against the use of Castle Garden as an Emigrant Dépôt, was received and made the special order for the first meeting in April next.

The Board then took up the remainder of the draft of the Charter presented by Councilman BOOLE, and adopted it with amendments as follows: (The first portion was passed on Wednesday last and published in the TIMES of Thursday.)

SEC. 22. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to publish, two months before the annual election of charter officers in each year, for the general information of the citizens of New-York, a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Corporation, during the year ending on the first day of the month in which such publication is made; and in every such statement, the different sources from the City revenue, and the amount received from each; the several appropriations made by the Common Council, the objects for which the same were made, and the amount of moneys expended under each; the moneys borrowed on the credit of the Corporation; the authority under which each loan was made, and the purposes for which the same was obtained, shall be clearly and particularly specified.

SEC. 23. It shall be the duty of the Mayor, immediately on the passage of this law, to organize an executive council, consisting of the Comptroller, the Corporation Counsel, the President of the Croton Aqueduct Department, the Street Commissioner, the City Inspector, the Commissioner of Streets and Lamps and the Commissioner of Repairs and Supplies, to assist him in supervising and carrying on the executive duties of the City, which duties shall be clearly defined by ordinance of the Common Council.

The present heads of departments shall hold their offices for the period for which they were severally elected, and nothing in this act shall so apply, or be construed so to, in any manner, affect their respective terms of office, or the salary or other compensation for services rendered, as by law now established; but at the expiration of the period for which these officers were elected by the people, it shall be the duty of the Mayor to nominate to the Common Council, for confirmation, any of such officers.

The Mayor and Common Council shall, in like manner, have power to fill any vacancy that may occur in any of the offices enumerated in this section.

If any nomination, made in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be rejected by the Common Council, the Mayor shall, within ten days thereafter, nominate other and different persons. The Mayor shall have the power to appoint a Marshal, and all clerks in his office.

SEC. 24. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to provide for the accountability of all officers and other persons, to whom the receipts or expenditure of the funds of the City shall be intrusted, by requiring from them sufficient security for the performance of their duties or trust, which security shall be annually renewed; but the sureties in any bond shall remain in force until new security shall be given.

SEC. 25. The Clerk of the Board of Aldermen shall be ex-officio, the Clerk of the Common Council, and shall perform all the duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the Common Council, except such as shall be assigned to the Clerk of the Board of Aldermen, and shall be the custodian of the Seal of the Corporation, at all reasonable times, the record and minutes of the proceedings of the Common Council, except such as shall be specially assigned to other clerks.

SEC. 26. It shall be lawful for the Common Council of the City to establish such other departments and bureaux in the City as they shall deem necessary for the public good, and to confer upon the heads of such departments such duties as they may direct, not inconsistent with this act; but no expense shall be incurred by any of the departments or officers herein or by this act established, or by any other officer or department, which shall have been authorized by the Common Council, unless the same shall have been authorized by a vote of three-fourths of the Common Council, nor shall any expense be incurred by any officer of the Common Council, nor shall any officer of the Common Council be directly or indirectly interested in any contract, work or business, or in the profits thereof, or receive any money or compensation of whatever kind from the City Treasury, or compensation of whatever kind from the City Tre

[illegible]

[illegible] said Ellen shall pay to the said Richard the [illegible] and every day dollars in full of a [illegible] hundred and eighty dollars, commencing [illegible] day of [illegible] and ten dollars shall be in lieu thereof in [illegible] dollars on the fifth day of February next, and the like sum at the expiration of each quarter of three months thereafter, until the whole shall be paid.

And that the parties shall be at liberty to dispose of their respective property, by will or otherwise, with the [illegible] and did, if necessary, of the other, and without any obstruction.

And that the said Ellen shall cease to use the name of Cox, and shall resume the name of Van Wyck, her maiden surname.

In witness whereof the parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals this 14th day of December, 1865.

RICHARD COX.
ELLEN C. COX.

Sealed and delivered in presence of W. Hillman.

City and County of New-York, ss.—On this 14th day of January, 1866, personally appeared before me, Richard Cox and Ellen C. Cox, the parties known to me to be the same persons described in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and severally acknowledged that they executed the same, and the said Ellen C., in a private examination by me, separate and apart from her husband, acknowledged that she executed the same freely and without any fear or compulsion of her said husband.

J. VAN NAMEE, Commissioner of Deeds.

The Court then decided that the letter of repudiation, proving nothing and only confirmatory of the intention to establish this action, was unnecessary, inasmuch as the action is bad. It was, therefore, ruled out.

TESTIMONY OF FREEMAN S. PAINE.

Freeman S. Paine, being sworn, said: I reside at No. 64 Varick-street; I am now in the employ at Bushnell's Sergeantsville; I was, in 1864, a policeman of the Eighth Ward; I know defendant; I have known her in the neighborhood of a year.

Q.—In that year did you see defendant away from her home? A.—Yes, Sir.

Q.—On how many occasions? A.—Ten or twelve.

Q.—Where? A.—In Broadway, Canal, Sixth-avenue and Thirty-eighth streets.

Q.—On any one of these occasions were you then acting as policeman? A.—Yes.

Q.—Were you at any time directed to follow and observe her conduct? A.—Yes.

Q.—Give us the result. A.—Along about the first of March I saw her start from the house in St. Mark's-place and go to the Sixth-avenue and take a car; she went up as far as Sixteenth-street, then took an Eighth-street stage and rode down to the corner of Eighth-street and Sixth-avenue; from another Eighth-street stage to Thirty-eighth-street; there I saw met a boy, probably fifteen or sixteen years of age; he was a gentcelly-dressed boy; they walked to Broadway and Twenty-eighth-street, and there they got in a coach—a private affair, I take it—and drove up town; where they went to I do not know; they drove rapidly away.

Q.—When did you next see her? A.—When I first saw her it was in March, and from that I saw her pretty much daily up to the 19th March.

Q.—On any other occasion where did she go? A.—I saw her go to Thirteenth-street and stop at a good many houses there.

Q.—Was there any other occasion on which you saw her take a carriage? A.—On no other occasion.

Q.—Did you at any other time see her in the neighborhood of Thirty-eighth-street and Broadway? A.—I do not recollect to have done so.

Q.—Do you well know the Canal and Broadway; have you mentioned the circumstance of seeing her there? A.—I believe I have said I saw her in Canal-street; I saw her go into stores in Canal-street and Broadway.

Q.—Did you ever see her enter a house on the corner of Canal and Broadway? A.—Don't think I did.

Q.—Do you mean to state that in your neighborhood? A.—I missed her in Canal-street on one occasion.

Q.—Where did she go to? A.—I do not know.

Q.—At that time was there an improper house on the corner of Canal-street and Broadway? A.—Yes, the house had a very bad name.

Q.—Do you state positively what course she was taking at the time you missed her? A.—She was turning Canal-street corner from Broadway; I was only a few yards behind her but when I got to the corner she was not to be seen.

Q.—While you followed her did she change her gait any? A.—She did.

Q.—Just describe it more particularly? A.—I saw her come out of her house, dressed in deep mourning, with a slow gait till she got to the Sixth-avenue; she changed her dress frequently.

Q.—Let us understand. Do you mean while on these excursions? A.—I have reason to believe that she was not a married lady; sometimes she wore a plaid shawl, and sometimes a darker dress than at other times.

Q.—What is your impression as to the identity?

The Court desired Mr. Schaefer to refrain from pressing questions such as this, which were manifestly improper.

Q.—Is the person of fast carriage you may have seen the lady before? A.—Not the facts; I might at the time have remembered it, but cannot now recall it.

Q.—How does that lady compare in size and figure with the lady you spoke of?

Mr. Gerard objected and denominated the course of counsel as "good."

Mr. Schaefer thought it unculled for to make any such remark. The thing called good manners could be advantageously observed by his opponent.

Q.—Is about as much they were about the same size.

Q.—Did you notice Nick's wife? A.—Yes, I think she generally wore a brown veil.

Mr. Gerard.—Did many women go up the stoop of that house? A.—Yes, they went a good many.

Mr. Schaefer.—Whether or not had that house a good or bad reputation in your neighborhood? A.—Yes, Sir.

Q.—Which? A.—Bad.

Q.—Do you remember more than one lady of this lady's calls? A.—No, Sir; I remarked this one I refer to, because I thought she must be a married woman. A gentleman need always to follow her into the house.

Q.—Describe the gentleman? A.—He was about the size of the Doctor there. [Laughter.]

Mr Gerard.—We supposed that; go on.

Witness.—He was a dark complexioned man; I cannot say if he had whiskers or not, it is so long ago, and I did not charge my mind with it.

Q.—From your of the Doctor you can say whether it was brown? A.—Oh! no, it was not black.

Catherine Leonard was next called; being sworn she said: I resided with Mrs. Green during 1862 and 1863; that was opposite the house No. 224 Varick-street; I have not seen defendant until this morning.

A MISSING WITNESS.

Mr. Gerard objected to any further questioning of a witness who positively stated she did not know the party and had never seen defendant.

Mr. Schaefer, observing that he should not make much out of this witness, dismissed her and called Abigail H. Maxwell, who did not answer.

Dr. Van Norden appeared in her behalf, and stated that she was too sick to be brought from her residence, and that he was willing to testify as to the nature and extent of her sickness.

Mr. Schaefer desired a commission to issue for her examination, but Mr. Gerard objecting, consideration of the motion was laid over for the present.

JAMES WILLIAM PECK EXAMINED.

Mr. James William Peck, being Sworn, said: I reside at No. 126 Henry-street; I have known defendant since her marriage with Dr. Cox; I have since 1851 seen her walking in the street dressed in mourning; I thus saw her the latter part of April, 1865, on Broadway, between Barclay-street and Park-place; she was getting out of a stage at the time; she had on a widow's veil, but I did not notice whether she wore two or one; if one, it was a thick one.

ABOUT THE LETTER OF REPUDIATION.

Freeman J. Paine was called as a witness, but was not at this time sworn.

Mr. Schaffer proposed to submit in evidence a letter of repudiation, written by plaintiff and sent to his wife. He called

J. H. Rogers, who, being sworn, said: I reside at No. 108 East Fortieth-street; I know the parties to this suit; I have known Dr. Cox ten or eleven years, and Mrs. Cox since her marriage with him; I served a duplicate of that letter on the latter on Nov. 26, 1865; I served it at Jamaica, L. I.

Letter objected to by counsel for defence, and submitted to the Judge for perusal and decision as to its admissibility.

Examination resumed.—Q.—Are you acquainted with the fact of defendant's residing at the corner of First-avenue and Eighth-street? A.—I am.

Q.—Stop that name did she pass there? A.—By the name of Van Wyck.

Q.—When was that? A.—A year ago last Summer.

Q.—I will ask if you served a summons on complaint in this action on her? A.—I did.

Q.—At what place? A.—At that house.

Q.—To what name did she answer? A.—Van Wyck.

Q.—You inquired for her by that name? A.—I did.

Q.—She answered? A.—She did.

Q.—(Pointing to Mrs. Cox)—That is the lady? A.—It is.

Q.—Do you know whether she kept boarders there? A.—I do not.

Q.—When she presented herself you knew her? A.—I knew her.

Q.—Did you know her as the plaintiff's wife? A.—I did.

Mr. Stoughton here stated that properly demanded that he should state that this was of the name Van Wyck was in accordance with the deed of separation, signed by herself and husband.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Mr. Gerard.—Are you the sexton of Dr. Cox's church? A.—I am.

Q.—When you took that letter; who did you find defendant living with? A.—In the house of Mrs. Van Wyck, her sister-in-law.

Q.—Did you ever tell that lady (defendant) that Dr. Cox told you that he married her for the benefit of his children? A.—No, Sir.

Q.—Did he ever tell you so? A.—No, Sir, never.

Q.—When Dr. Cox married Mrs. Van Wyck, where did she live? A.—I understood that she lived in Lexington-avenue.

Q.—When he married, where did he live? A.—I think he was boarding then in Mott-street.

Q.—Where did he go to? A.—To her boarding-house in Lexington-avenue, No. 15; he took his two children with him.

Q.—Did he find the house already furnished? Objected to, and objection sustained.

Q.—Were they living separately or apart when you served that letter on Mrs. Van Wyck? A.—Apart, Sir.

Q.—How long had they lived apart? A.—I cannot remember; I could not say whether it was for weeks or months.

Mr. Schaefer.—What do you mean by living apart. Do you mean that he had left her? A.—She was in Jamaica, Long Island, and he was in New-York.

Mr. Schaefer.—That is all you mean?

Witness.—That is all.

THE DEED OF SEPARATION.

The deed of separation was then produced, and put in as evidence, as follows:

Richard Cox, Rector of Zion Church in the City of New-York, and Ellen C. Cox, his wife, have agreed and do agree each with the other, as follows, to wit:

That whereas they were married hereto was on the fourteenth day of May, 1851, believing in each other in matrimony under sound principles, and prospective home, and we desirous that the marriage tie and all other connections between them should be dissolved, and that the parties should at all times forbear to act as if they had never been united in marriage, and each other, both as towards [illegible] respectively [illegible] other [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1856.

[illegible] DAILY TIMES is published [illegible] Cents. Subscription will be [illegible] Tuesday and [illegible] Saturday, is mailed [illegible] Copies. Terms—Five [illegible] Price in wrappers [illegible] Address, [illegible] Nassau-st., cor. Beekman. RAYMOND, WESLEY & CO., Publishers.

[illegible] California will be issued To-morrow [illegible] Price 25 cents. It will include the Prescott [illegible] Commercial Summaries, Reports of [illegible] Marriages, Deaths, &c. The [illegible] Single copies, in [illegible] ready for mailing, sixpence. Agents will please send in their orders as early as possible.

[illegible] the United States Senate yesterday, [illegible] of a bill to increase the compensation of Members of Congress, and to fix the time for the annual meeting. A bill was introduced to regulate the appraisement of imported [illegible] Mr. HOUSTON then presented a memorial from the Legislature of Maryland [illegible] the resolutions of the Virginia Legislature condemning the action of the Naval Retiring Board, and proceeded to make a speech occupying over three hours in the delivery, in favor of the repeal of the Act establishing the Board, and highly denunciatory of Executive action. His remarks abounded in personalities, and the characters of Commodore MERRIFIELD and DUPONT, and other members of the Board, were freely commented on. Mr. CHAFFEE is to speak in reply to-day. The House again questioned the application of the Committee on Elections in the Kansas contested-election case.

☞ The Committee on Elections of the State Senate yesterday made a unanimous report, relative to the case occupied by Dr. BRADFORD. It is adverse to Dr. TRAVERSIER's claim, and pronounces all the charges and specifications against Mr. EMMONS groundless. The report was unanimously adopted. The bill relative to [illegible] Institutions was passed, as was also the bill to incorporate the Turnverein in this City. The resolution complimentary to Mr. GRINNELL and giving a gold medal to Dr. KANE, was unanimously adopted. The resolution to amend the Constitution, so as to allow free suffrage to colored citizens, was debated. The bill in relation to Prospect-square, Brooklyn, was ordered to a third reading in the Assembly; and the appropriation bill, giving $20,000 to the Colonization Society, was debated.

Letter from Judge Conkling.

We publish in another part of this morning's paper an able and interesting letter from Judge CONKLING, setting forth the reasons which lead him to regard the success of the Republican movement as essential to the peace and harmony of the Union, and to the general welfare of the Confederacy. He gives in it his unqualified adhesion. His sketch of the steady progress of the Slave-driving interest towards ascendancy in the General Government, is exceedingly clear and forcible.

The letter derives additional significance, from the fact that Judge CONKLING has long been an intimate personal and political friend of Mr. FILLMORE, by whom when President, he was appointed United States Minister to Mexico; and has never before acted with any party which had for its object resistance to the aggressions of Slavery. Former political connections, therefore, have had nothing to do with his determination to act hereafter with the Republicans.

The letter will be found worthy the attention of our readers.

The New Central American Difficulty.

Among the most recent accounts from Central America, are reports of a hostile league against WALKER's Administration in Nicaragua, by some of the States of the late Confederacy. The first intelligence of this movement was communicated to the State Department some two months ago, through one of the foreign legations. The details of the alleged combination, as we understand, were given with some particularity—and they corresponded with those of the plan mentioned in the intelligence by the last arrival. Guatemala proposed the alliance, and was to furnish 3,000 troops to support; the contingency of San Salvador was specified as 2,000 men; and Costa Rica was solicited to join the alliance with 1,500. According to our information from Washington, Mr. WALKER has not referred to these schemes nor has he spoken anything indicating a change of the opinion expressed in his dispatches three months since, that WALKER's power was established on a solid and enduring basis. We do not attach importance to the opinions of Mr. WALKER, relative to WALKER's position and prospects, because our Minister was, beyond question, one of the instruments by which the success of the adventurer was secured; but that is a fact likely to sharpen his vigilance in detecting causes of real alarm to the new Government.

It appears probable that if the threatened coalition against WALKER had proceeded so far as the raising and arming of troops, that [illegible] would have satisfied Mr. MARCY of the fact, and his opinion to do so, is in fact negatively proved by the instructions to Commodore [illegible], as already authorized.

We do not believe that WALKER has anything to fear from a combination of the nations. He is in the prime of manhood, of that class which [illegible] adventurers will not venture to face in battle. It is argued that he cannot long keep power in the field those who have made him the country, and who have since aided and tendered their services. Upon this point our information is not definite, but it is certain that he possesses fertility and resources for exhausting, transporting and manoeuvring an army superior to any upon which his adversaries can rely. His men supply their own arms, and wherever means of transportation exists in the country are in their hands, and they will experience no greater difficulty in procuring food than the troops opposed to them. The want of money is a deficiency common to all parties in that war-stricken region; but even in this respect, we think WALKER's position will compare favorably with that of the least destitute of his enemies.

The real source of danger to the foreign faction, which, under the lead of WALKER, has seized upon the Government of Nicaragua, is not, according to the opinion of the most intelligent observers of events in Central America, the open or latent hostility of the people, however bitter that may be, but in the quarrels which he has provoked with foreign powers, and in the dissensions among his filibuster recruits. The United States cannot overlook the seizure of the boats belonging to the Transit Company, nor the revocation of its charter—acts which tend to the closing of the shortest Isthmus route between our Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Great Britain has made demands for redress in various cases of grievance presented by her subjects, and has, beside, grounds for interposition in the annexation of the territory covered by the Protectorate which she cultivates with such jealous fondness. France, it is stated, has already brought to bear her favorite argument of a well equipped fleet, in support of a claim of indemnity for losses suffered by her citizens in the late disturbances. It is not improbable that the latter powers are coöperating in a plan having for its object the expulsion of WALKER and his associates, and to that end they may enter into the designs of the States specially endangered by his administration. For the present, the policy of the United States is, and ought to be, limited to keeping open the Nicaragua route to California; but should experience prove, what it seems fast developing, that the security of that route, which has become so indispensable to our commerce, is incompatible with a Government of the character of that now in power in Nicaragua, necessity will compel this country to accept the alternative of forcible intervention for the pacification of Central America.

Federal Usurpation—The Pacific Railroad.

We have already called attention to the fact, that the Senate Committee upon the Pacific Railroad is prepared to report in favor of submitting the project to competition. Another feature of the plan has since come to light. The Commission to whom the bids are to be addressed is to consist of the Secretary of War, assisted by other members of the Cabinet, who shall arbitrate among the different propositions, select the one most agreeable to that functionary, and proceed to execute the contract with the successful parties. In this easy way all the protracted discussion, and variance, and delay, resulting from a popular discussion of the matter, and a selection of route, may be avoided, and the result reached at once with the utmost expedition.

It may be remarked, in this connection, that all legislative results are reached with immense expedition, in the hands of a despotism. There is no surer mode of attaining speed in legislation than to dispense with the voice of the people. Firmans and Ukases are never delayed by debates in a Chamber of Deputies, or votes in the House of Nobles. So striking, indeed, is the merit of the autocratic system, that the Senate has not been able to shut its eyes to it; and we accordingly observe that body, for the sake of speed, assuming the prescriptive rights of the popular branch, in regard to the origination of money bills, advocating appropriations of millions at a time, to be disposed of at the will, and doubtless for the most corrupt electioneering projects, of the Administration; and proposing, for the same expeditionary objects, to remove a question properly in the hands of the people, out of those hands, to place it in the custody of the Executive.

In any other circumstances than the present, such transfers of power might be viewed with indifference. They would be comparatively harmless did the Senate occupy that impartial point of equilibrium between the People on the one hand, and the Executive on the other, which the Constitution assigned it. Were the relations of the Federal Government with the States what they once were; the sovereignty of the latter maintained as it should be against the encroachments of the former, the immediate effect of such usurpations would be imperceptible. But the course of things is painfully different from this. All, and infinitely more than the old Federalists claimed for the Federal Power, has been added to it by the Democratic Party of to-day. Upon every issue the rights of the States give way. State Sovereignty is practically obsolete in the presence of Federal usurpation. State laws are nullified by Federal legislation; State Courts are denied jurisdiction in the presence of the Federal judiciary; the action of the people, under laws guaranteed by the action of Congress, is repressed and repudiated, either by mob violence stimulated by the Federal authorities, or by threats of dispatching to the scene of disturbance Federal armies, and of inflicting the penalties of treason upon the assertors of rights as once popular and legal. Never, indeed, since the formation of the Union, were the encroachments of the Federal Government upon the reserved rights of the States and the people more dangerous and alarming. They point to the early dissolution of the whole nicely-balanced system created by the fathers. They threaten the entire elimination of the republican element, with the substitution of precisely such a scheme as that of the CESARS in Rome, and the BONAPARTES in Paris. What, in fact, is the essential difference between the Government administered by LOUIS NAPOLEON, and that [illegible] by Mr. FILLMORE, save that the latter is styled President and the former Emperor? The Internal Revenue will be as fruitful in detecting it. And here lies the most alarming feature of any. At the very moment the Central Government usurps from its exterior but not subordinate States these extraordinary powers, we find the popular department of that Government losing all authority. The Senate, deserting its mission, fraternizes with the Executive. They conspire to place the whole power of law-making and law-enforcing in the hands of the President and his Cabinet. Its measures are all dictated at the White House. It has passed no act for the last seven years that has not tended to weaken the sovereignty of the States, and to disfranchise the people. The people, whether in municipal organizations, or in their representative capacity in the lower House of Congress, have found themselves, by dint of senatorial audacity, and the operation of federal patronage upon their own delegates, losing every day some of those reserved functions and guarantees, without which the name of Democracy is a naked sham. When, therefore, such a moment is selected for transferring the once sacred prerogative of self-taxation from the people to the Executive; and for giving to the same power the sole control of a matter involving the outlay of hundreds of millions of the people's money; and the power of dictating a route for a new railroad, in which the whole nation, indeed the whole world, is interested, and which Congress has not hitherto acted upon, simply through apprehension of proceeding upon an inadequate expression of the popular will—when such momentous powers are torn from the legislative department, and assigned to the Executive, it may fairly be inquired what one republican characteristic remains to the Government? It is an oligarchy in disguise; an oligarchy, absolute over the people, defiant of the States, and all the more powerful because retaining Democratic forms and symbols. The United States are governed by an aristocracy, of which the Cabinet and Senate are the expressions. It is the work of a slow and silent revolution, none the less radical because its muffled steps failed to arouse popular alarm.

It is not so much, therefore, that the obvious intent of the Committee is to leave the choice of a route to the Secretary of War, or to a Commission in which his voice will be omnipotent, because he is known to be strongly prejudiced in favor of an extreme Southern track, that we protest against this new outrage. But, detecting in it, as we do, a fresh stride towards popular disfranchisement and Federal aggrandizement, we should be shamefully wanting in our duty did we neglect to point general attention to the fact, and to mark it as fraught with danger. The whole energies of the Federal administration are retro-active. Unless removed from present hands, and redirected in the path of progress and probity, the passing generation must stand by the grave of the Republic. The whole duty of the patriot lies in earnest opposition.

Emigration Westward.

The opening of Spring will produce a lively emigration to the West. The rich fields that await owners, cultivators, and comfortable houses, in Iowa, Minnesota and regions further west, to say nothing of the prairie lands of the more thickly populated States of Illinois and Indiana, are full of promise to the enterprising farmer and mechanic. Every Spring shows a larger proportion of emigration from New-York and the Eastward than its predecessor did, and a considerable depletion of the active farming population owes its origin to the inviting prospects of Western life. A significant test of this feeling is observable in country newspapers. A fair proportion of all the advertising consists of notices of "vendues" and announcements noting the time and place of sales of stock and furniture. When a man moves West, he takes as little material as possible with him, depending upon the resources of the country for his future supplies, and hence the general selling-out that follows as the first consequence of the decision to abandon the old home for a new.

Young America is not content with the narrow patrimony that his father's thrift and enterprise have secured him. A paltry hundred and fifty acres, placed in comparison with the virgin lands which may be had almost for the asking, are in his view but barren and unprofitable. Lands wear out, fertilizers are costly, labor is dear, and the work of keeping up the farm to the standard of a fair market value is at least as great as that which would be required to subdue a larger territory and reap a richer return in a more Western longitude. Another inciting cause of emigration is found in the growth of the villages. The expansion of trade and the demand for building-lots is rendering more valuable the farming lands which lie in the neighborhood of rural centers. Farms which formerly possessed a very ordinary value, have suddenly become important pieces of property, commanding $100, $125 and $140 per acre. Contiguity of farm property to thriving villages, which are brought by the Railroads into direct and speedy communication with market, is a reason for asking prices that two generations back would have considered utterly exorbitant. Plats of well-tilled land are being pushed into market at high prices, and the demand increases rapidly, although, as yet, it scarcely keeps pace with the supply. Our own columns bear witness to the eagerness for sale of the farming population in the vicinity of this City; and the country newspapers furnish fresh announcements of a similar character from week to week.

The obvious tendency of this exodus of our agricultural population is to produce improvements of Western territory at the expense of Eastern. A father, dying, leaves his farm to be worked by the eldest son, or to be sold and its proceeds divided among the children of the family. He cherishes a hope that the son will keep it in the name, and improve it as it has been improved during a long series of years. But the son prefers a more active life. The farm goes, if not at private sale, then under the hammer—generally for a handsome price, if it be a desirable property. The family are placed equably; the main hale produce and westward, or perhaps he takes up business in the larger towns or in the city; and the farm passes into new hands, little acquainted with progressive farming, and so runs down, and as the village borders nearer it, is cut up into building-lots, 100 feet by 100, or even into smaller sections, and becomes eventually a part and parcel of a prosperous town. Exceptions to this operation of a natural rule are not unfrequent, yet this tendency of the new movement is becoming a notable feature of the times.

The great proprietors of land in the Eastern and Middle States have generally pursued a uniform course, preferring to develop and centralize their resources. Their property is in their own hands, governed exclusively by themselves, and is undergoing such improvements as science and experience may suggest. These men, a class of which there are types in our own State, have no inducement to dispose of their landed property, see nothing to gain by emigration, enjoy a handsome income, and are prominent as well as permanent citizens of the Commonwealth. The smaller proprietors, numbered by thousands in this State, and by tens of thousands in the North and East, enjoy fewer privileges and seek more enlarged opportunities. Hence the rapid emigration from East to West, and hence also the extraordinary growth of Western settlements.

The East does not suffer materially from the operations of these laws of population. What we lose here in farming industry is but a trifle, after all, in comparison with the development of commercial enterprise. Farmers presently become merchants, merchants will enlarge into capitalists, capitalists affect by the extent and character of their enterprises the commercial reputation of the country. The West is a boundless region, fertile in resources, magnificent in prospect, and growing as a young giant grows. She is carving out new States, developing new sources of industry, and adding each year a mass of capital to the resources of the nation. The East must hold its own. The West will help her. The growth of one is a guaranty of the security and prosperity of the other. Emigration westward is no bar to Eastern acquisitions. Interlacing lines of canal and railroad bring all interests into union, and pioneers in new forests are the men who continually widen the circles of commercial industry, and wealth, and enterprise.

Later from Havana—Arrival of the Cahawba.

The United States Mail steamer Cahawba, J. D. BULLOCK, Commander, arrived last evening from New-Orleans, viâ Havana, having left the latter place on the evening of the 12th. Nothing new had transpired at the latter place.

The British men-of-war Powerful and Arab were in port. The Admiral was expected daily.

Sugars are slightly declining. Freights improving slightly. Molasses getting down; 100,000 boxes Sugars on hand against 185,000 of last year, same time. Health good, and weather the same. The papers contain nothing new.

The late Fracas at Yale College.

Mr. FISK P. BRAWER, Tutor in Greek at Yale College, who was severely assaulted on the night of the 3d inst., by disorderly Sophomores, has nearly recovered from the effects of his wounds, and will be able shortly to resume his duties in the College. The civil authorities of New-Haven have taken notice of this breach of the peace, and have arrested MARTIN VAN BUREN LEE, from Louisiana, a member of the Sophomore Class, and one FARRAR, a subfreshman, as ringleaders, and bound them over for trial, which will occur in a few days. HENRY B. HARRISON, Esq., of New-Haven, the present candidate of the Republican Party in Connecticut for Lieutenant-Governor, will appear for the people, and JAMES D. EXERS, Esq., of New-Haven, for the prisoners. The Faculty of the College, as well as the municipal authorities of the city, are endeavoring to identify the other parties that participated in this outrage. But no further arrests have yet been made.

NEW-YORK CITY.

The English Chartist Meeting in Honor of John Frost.

A large meeting of the English residents in this City was held last night at the Astor House in honor of JOHN FROST, the Mayor of Monmouth, Wales, in 1839, and "the martyr to the cause of British Freedom," as the call of the meeting styled him. It will be remembered that in the above year a Chartist demonstration was made in several parts of Great Britain, and among others in Monmouth which, as is too often the fate with rebellions of a misgoverned people, was unsuccessful. FROST was arrested, found guilty of high treason, and sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered. This punishment was commuted by the English Government to transportation for life; but, after fifteen years suffering in the British penal Colonies of Australia, a conditional pardon, similarly to that shortly before granted to Mr. SMITH O'BRIEN, was vouchsafed to Mr. FROST. He was allowed to quit Australia, but was not permitted to set foot upon his native soil. He accordingly set sail for this country, and arrived here a few weeks since.

Last night, as we have said, a meeting was held in honor of him at the Astor House. About 300 were present—all, or nearly all of them, English Chartists. Mr. WILLIAM THOMPSON was called to the Chair. Messrs. FARNEN and WICKET responded to the resolutions, and then Mr. FROST was introduced to the meeting. Mr. FROST is a venerable, white haired, gentlemanly man,—of superior education and attainments, one whom the Fathers of our own Revolution would not to all appearance have been ashamed to have hailed as a brother. He read a long and interesting paper, describing the Chartist movement in England, his own share therein, his trial, sentence, sufferings for fifteen years, seven of which were passed as an associate of the lowest convicts,—the thieves and burglars of England. He was vociferously applauded at the commencement and end of his address.

Mr. MASON then, after a forcible speech, in which he dwelt upon the cruel misgovernment of the working classes of Great Britain, and the incompetency of the ruling powers, read a memorial to the Queen, praying her to grant to JOHN FROST a full pardon, that he may, after so much suffering, return to his native land, and to the guardianship of his family.

An address to the Radical Reformers of the United States and Canada was then read by Mr. ROSE, after which three cheers were given for Mr. FROST, and three more for British Liberty, when the meeting adjourned.

The Shakers.

FREDERICK W. EVANS, an Elder in the New-Lebanon Society of Shakers, delivered his second lecture on Shakerism, in the Tabernacle, last evening, before about three hundred persons. Though the subject has seldom been discussed publicly in this City, the audience was thus meagre, probably because there was a charge of a quarter at the door, while before Mr. EVANS' lecture was free, and the novelty of the thing went with the first occasion. He reviewed the origin and philosophy of his Brotherhood, and with a good deal of ingenuity wheeled some Scripture prophecies into the line of its defence.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

The Board met yesterday at 4¼ o'clock. Governor SMITH took the Chair.

The Clerk proceeded to read the usual regulations. These and the minutes occupied about an hour, but presented no unusual peculiarity.

Governor OLIVER offered a resolution in favor of an old keeper and bell-ringer, one Shadbolt, who, though not absolutely blind, lost his sight in the service of the Board from an accident. The minutes were amended by awarding this person $100 per annum, instead of $50.

[illegible]

The Secretary then read the following letter from the President:

[illegible]

Gov. TAYLOR seconded.

Gov. DUER thought the course proposed by Gov. TIEMANN would be most respectful.

On vote, such was decided.

Gov. OLIVER proposed, and Gov. TAYLOR seconded the proposition, that a Committee be sent to request Gov. DRAPER to withdraw his resignation. Messrs. OLIVER, TAYLOR, and FREE were so appointed.

After the transaction of other business, of no public interest, the Board adjourned.

Vessel Seized.

The schooner Falmouth, outward bound, was seized yester day morning while being towed through the Narrows, by Deputy United States Marshal K. DE ANGELIS, and brought back and anchored at the Navy-Yard. She was seized on suspicion of being intended for the slave trade, having all the necessary fixtures on board for that business. The Captain and Mate were not found on board. Capt. WATSON, of the United States Marines, and a file of 12 men were placed in possession.

☞ The United States steam-propeller Niagara, launched on the 23d February, will go on the Dry Dock to-morrow to be stepped. While on the Dock FRASE & MURRAY will put in her stern-pipe and shafts, stern-pieces, &c. It is expected she will be in the dock about five weeks. FRASE & MURRAY, as soon as she is ready to receive her machinery, will at once commence its erection. The boilers, weighing near 300 tons, have been finished for the last six months.

Her three engines are all finished at their shop, and connected as they will appear in the ship when steam is on. Their arrangements are closed for a steamer to carry the machinery to the New-York Navy Yard, where the ship is to lie, and FRASE & MURRAY's arrangements are such, that no doubt the ship will be ready for her trial trip in six months from this time.

The weight of the entire machinery is estimated at 750 tons.

☞ The sixty-third New-York Trade Sale opened at BABES BROTHERS yesterday, with a full catalogue. The attendance was not as large as it often has been—still it was good for a first day. The books sold were from the houses of ARNOUX, LEHMAN & BLAKINGTON, J. HARDING, JAS. M. ALLEN, MERIAM, B. WALKER, BUTLER, and BOUTELLE. To-morrow they take up HARPERS' catalogue.

☞ There is no ice in the rivers that gird our City now. The water is entirely clear. The weather is warm and Spring-like.

☞ It commenced snowing at 12¾ o'clock this morning.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

ARREST OF A FUGITIVE.

A young man named Daniel Wood alias Smith, was brought before Justice OSBORNE, yesterday, charged with stealing from his employer, J. Gerrey, of Westmoreland, N. H., $60 in money and about $100 in clothing. A telegraphic message giving an account of the robbery and the probable flight of the robber to New-York, was received by the Chief of Police on Saturday night. An officer was dispatched to the New-Haven Railroad Depôt, who, on the arrival of the night train, arrested the former just as he was leaving the cars. The accused was committed until the arrival of Sheriff Wyman, of New-Hampshire, with a requisition for his delivery.

WANTED A CHEAT WRECK.

William Weeks, an honest-looking young man, went into a jewelry store in Division-street on Monday afternoon, and requested to look at a watch with a view to purchase. A gold one was shown him, but he said he did not desire one so costly. One valued at $25 was then handed him, and with it he instantly made tracks up the street, pursued by the storekeeper, some citizens, and a Seventh Ward policeman. Weeks was finally overhauled and locked up. He was yesterday committed by Justice WOOD of the Essex Market Police Court. The object of the accused in running away with the silver, and not with the gold watch, will be understood when it is stated that the theft of any article not exceeding $25 in value, is only petty larceny, and punishable, at the utmost, with six months in the Penitentiary. The theft of any amount exceeding this sum is grand larceny, which is punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison. Weeks, being posted in the law and the chances of detection, preferred the risk of the minor punishment.

KILLED.

Chas. Netto was instantly killed on Monday, at the foot of Fifty-ninth-street, East River, by the falling of a boiler upon him, which he was assisting in hoisting on board a vessel.

LONG ISLAND.

☞ The minority report of the Brooklyn Board of Education, which declares "that it is incompetent to supply the schools with free books," was adopted last night, by ayes, 29; noes, 10. There is no money in the Treasury.

CIRCUIT COURT, (BROOKLYN,) CALENDAR—For this day, March 19—Nos. 50, 67, 68, 69, 90, 91, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101.

BROOKLYN CITY COURT CALENDAR—For this day, March 19—Nos. 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82.

Death of James C. Forsyth Confirmed.

The Ulster Republican says the fact of the death of JAMES C. FORSYTH, the Sager and Whig politician, at Hereford, England, is placed beyond question by letters recently received. The Republican also gives some particulars not before published:

It appears that after leaving this country, Mr. FORSYTH went to the south of Europe, and probably extended his travels to Algeria. Returning to England the following Spring, (1854,) he passed through Hereford on his way to Wales, and styled one night in that city at the Green Dragon Hotel. To this house he returned in the Fall of 1854, and remained there until his death, Dec. 27, 1855.

During the early part of his sojourn in Hereford, his time was almost wholly occupied in reading, and he won the very favorable regards of those with whom he was brought in contact. He was occasionally absent for a week or two, (probably on the Continent, with the fruitless expectation of receiving letters of remittance from this country,) and after his last absence, he became very much depressed and irregular.

Until this period, his bill at the hotel had been regularly paid, but soon after, he stated to the landlord by a letter, (which has been placed in the hands of his friends,) that a disappointment in receiving money compelled him to ask for a loan upon the security of his watch and some other trifling articles, with which to pay his bills and his passage to America. Immediately after, he was taken sick, suffering much pain until within a few days of his death, which occurred without a struggle.

The rapid approach of decomposition prevented the keeper of the hotel from keeping the body more than two days, when it was interred in St. John's churchyard, Hereford. The letters of Mr. BAGLEY, the hotel keeper, evince much personal interest in the deceased, and a very commendable course and spirit, in every respect.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO WHOLESALE AND COUNTRY DRUGGISTS,
BARNES & PARK,
No. 204 Broadway, corner of Duane-st.,
Invite the attention of close buyers to their immense stock of
PATENT MEDICINES.
By far the largest assortment in either Hemisphere, and upon terms that cannot fail to command the attention of large dealers throughout the world. All articles at and below manufacturers' prices, either by the single package, dozen or 100 gross.
BARNES & PARK,
New-York, Cincinnati, and San Francisco.

IMPORTANT!
"THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION YOU HAVE HITHERTO HAD TO ASK HIMSELF, is, "am I supplied with one of WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER FIRE-AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES
For the preservation of my books and valuables?" If not, proceed at once to the depôt,
NO. 128 WATER-ST., NEAR WALL, NEW-YORK,
Or No. 32 Walnut-st., Philadelphia, and obtain one (before it is too late) secured with one of
WILDER'S POWDER AND BURGLAR-PROOF LOCKS.
R. G. WILDER & CO.,
Patentees and Manufacturers.

WINDOW SHADES.
IMPROVEMENTS AND ENTERPRISE.
KELTY & FERGUSON, No. 344, Broadway, and Number-st., have, at great expense, completed and "patented" their machinery for manufacturing WINDOW SHADES, and are now prepared to supply the trade with an unrivaled assortment, FOR THIRTY PER CENT LESS than ever before sold. Access was allowed to no other persons, under our patent, manufacture with us, either for sale or use. Also, GILT CORNICES, BROCATELLE, PLAINES, DAMASKS, LACE and MUSLIN CURTAINS, &c.

GARDEN ORNAMENTS.—JAMES BEEBE & CO., Iron Founders, No. 348 Broadway, New-York, offer for sale a full assortment of Ornamental Garden Ornaments, Vases, Fountains, Garden Chairs, Large Balls, suitable for gate-posts or for public buildings and cemeteries. Hamersley, corner of Reade, Cortlandt and Hudson-sts.

[illegible]

THE CRYSTAL PALACE, [illegible] of the State Fair of Detroit, contained [illegible] SAYRE AND BAIN, LOUISVILLE, [illegible] FIRE CHILLED AND WROUGHT IRON BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES AND BANK [illegible] New-York.

LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF [illegible] 24 & CO. will sell at public auction, [illegible] 9th inst., at 11 o'clock, [illegible] Brooklyn, [illegible] Alex. Administrator's sale of house and lot [illegible] Street, and First-place, Brooklyn. [illegible] can be had at the office of the Auctioneers, [illegible]

HERRING'S PATENT CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES, with HALL'S PATENT PORCELAIN LINING, [illegible] London, 1851, and the World's Fair, New-York, 1854, and this is the best, and the only [illegible] that received a medal at the London World's Fair, [illegible] Fair Locks." The subscribers are the only persons authorized to make and sell the Champion Safe, with HALL'S Patent Porcelain Lining. A. C. HERRING & CO., Green Block, Nos. 128, 130 and 132 Water-st.

HERMIA.—ONLY PRIZE MEDAL AWARDED TO MARSH & CO., by the Industrial Exhibition of [illegible] Hermia, for their new patent [illegible] Fair of the American Institute awarded the [illegible] return to this Truss in 1854. Retaining [illegible] victory—Professor Mitchell, chairman of the Jury, John R. Carnochan, Jas. Kennedy, [illegible] mercantile and other testimonials current [illegible] to seen at MARSH & CO.'S, No. 74, Broadway, New-York, and MARSH, CORLISS & CO., [illegible] st., Cincinnati, Ohio. Open from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M.

ELEGANT CARPETINGS.
SMITH & LOUNSBERRY, NO. 49 BROADWAY, ARE now prepared to exhibit their new Spring goods, which for variety, brilliancy, [illegible] the assortment will be found a large [illegible] Also, a large and elegant assortment of [illegible] of all widths, and all other goods connected with the trade.

THOSE SUFFERING FROM BILIOUS ATTACKS, sour stomach, sick headache, dyspepsia, or costiveness, should [illegible] facilities which have [illegible] MANFORD'S INVIGORATOR. A sample [illegible] 138 Front-st., and try it gratis. Sold by MANFORD & CO., Proprietors, No. 138 Front-st., and druggists generally.

BERRIE & CO., FASHIONABLE HATTERS, 301 BROADWAY.—Have ready and now offer [illegible] Spring and Summer fashions, [illegible] with their improved ventilators, [illegible] other improvements, render their hats lighter [illegible] comfortable to the head than any ever offered to the public.

STEARNS & MARVIN'S WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES of every desirable size, [illegible] improved finish, secured by Sampson's Patent Glass Proof Ia Safe Lock, may be found [illegible] at the store No. 108 Water-st., New-York, and at No. 40 Murray-st. STEARNS & MARVIN.

ONE PRICE CARPET WAREHOUSE.
YOUNG & JAYNE
No. 262 Broadway, cor. Franklin-st.
Importers and dealers in Carpetings of every description. The latest patterns and best styles of the season. [illegible] prices.

A RARE CHANCE TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—We have over 100 different patterns of [illegible] new and handsome style, that we offer [illegible] less than the usual price, for a few days, [illegible] the coming sixty days. W. F. DALEY & CO., Hosiers, Nos. 621 and 623 Broadway, between Bleecker and Houston.

CHRISTADORO'S HAIR-DYE, WIGS AND TOUPEES.—Superior to any other. Warranted [illegible] elegant private rooms for applying his Hair Dye. [illegible] the standard article of the kind. [illegible] with and testimonials [illegible] sold at CHRISTADORO'S, No. 6 Astor House.

DINNER SETS! DINNER SETS! [illegible] per ship Montreal. Prices very low. [illegible] & CO., Marble Stores, Nos. 257 and 259 Broadway.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.—THE ORIGINAL [illegible] Reliable, the Intuitive.—The adoption of the [illegible] every of imitations, proves the value of the original. [illegible] Dye, Black and Brown, or applied, in a private room, at BATCHELOR'S Wig Factory, No. 233 Broadway.

WIGS, WIGS, WIGS.—BATCHELOR'S WIGS [illegible] Toupees are the most natural and durable [illegible] excel all others. They are adopted at once by the world for their graceful beauty, ease and durability [illegible] to a charm. The lowest and best price is [illegible] Made and sold at BATCHELOR'S, No. 233 Broadway.

IRON BEDSTEADS.—JAMES BEEBE & CO., No. 348 Broadway, offer for sale a large stock of [illegible] stands, of their own manufacture, of the most [illegible] workmanship. Also, Bed Racks, Screws, Fire Irons, &c. No. 348 Broadway, New-York.

SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES.—ALL PERSONS who wish for information in regard to Sewing Machines can obtain it by applying at our office for a copy of Singer & Co.'s Gazette, containing the Patents, Sewing-machine Intelligence, Testimonials, &c. Copies supplied gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO., No. 323 Broadway, New-York.

THE GREAT TRADE SALE OF THE NEW-YORK Book Publishers' Association will commence TO-MORROW (Thursday) MORNING, at 4 o'clock, at the Auction Rooms of LEAVITT, LORD & CO., Nos. 377 and 379 Broadway, corner of Walker-st.

PETERSON & HUMPHREY, CARPET DEALERS, have removed to their new store, No. 334 Broadway, opposite St. Nicholas Hotel, and open with an entire new stock of carpeting on MONDAY, March 17.

BELLS.—MENELLY'S CELEBRATED BELLS, of all descriptions, with the most approved fastenings, constantly on hand and for sale, at FAIRBANKS' Warehouse, No. 189 Broadway.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ Insurance Against Burglary!
EXTRA SAFE PAD LOCKS
FOR STORE DOORS,
DETECTOR TILL LOCKS,
EXTRA SAFE NIGHT LATCHES
AND ALL DESCRIPTIONS OF BUILDING HARDWARE,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
MANY, BALDWIN & MANY,
No. 49 John-st., corner Dutch.

☞ To Daguerreotypists and Photographers.—All Chemicals warranted pure and of the most moderate terms. Gilmore Iodine, Hydriodic, Iodo, Bromized Iodine, Iodo Gold, Blotting Paper, Nitrate, Acetate and Cyanide Silver, Red and White Varnish, Substrate Iron, Cyanide Potassium, in all quantities, by Dr. L. PEUCHT WANGER, No. 90 William-st.
N. B.—Rare metals, such as Palladium, Nickel, Iridium, Manganese, Osmium and Antimony; also, all Essential Oils, such as Lemon, Bergamotte, Orange, Peppermint, Sassafras, Wintergreen, &c.

☞ Hegeman, Clark & Co.'s (late Ketchum, Clark & Co.) GENUINE COD LIVER OIL has stood the test of eight years' experience, and is acknowledged the best and purest article made. Sold only by Eagle and Mortar are on the label, and our signature on the cork, without which it is not genuine. HEGEMAN, CLARK & CO., Nos. 138, 275, 281, and 423 Broadway. Wholesale Depôt, No. 138 Broadway.

BEADS
☞ OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
NO. 189 BEEKMAN-ST.
H. P. BROWN,
No. 189 Beekman-st., New-York.

☞ The New Gutta-Percha Manufacture, Patent.—Accomplishes three desiderata:
1. It saves all the gum, some prefer the fine, it cooks the steak through without burning the outside.
2. It prevents any smoke in the kitchen or house.
Five sizes, from $3 to $6. Sold at the Agency and Foreign Patent Agency, No. 10 Dunne-st., 100 feet east of Broadway.

☞ The Hammonton Settlement Association [illegible] Hammonton—Now numbering 127 members, will leave New-York about the 15th of April; they will make an [illegible] ment long, at $1 25 per acre, and have [illegible] forth. Meeting every WEDNESDAY EVENING, at 128 Bowery. All members are notified to meet [illegible] and pay their last installment on shares. [illegible] WILDE, Secretary.

☞ Singing Classes.—Gilmore Hall, [illegible] Fifth-st., Williamsburgh. Female [illegible] classes commence Tuesday, March 25, at 4 o'clock P. M. Practice class on [illegible] day, March 25, at 4 o'clock P. M. Practice class on [illegible] day. New scholars should come at 1.

☞ Spring Mattresses.—At No. 13 Bowery, [illegible] door above Broome-st. Open every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Hair, WIRALL, formerly 2 Bowery.

☞ Bank Gold Pen Manufactory,
No. 14 JOHN-ST.,
GOLD PENS AND PENCILS.
JOHN FOLEY, Manufacturer.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

FACTS NOT FICTION!

NOBLE DEEDS OF AMERICAN WOMEN,

With Biographical Sketches.

Edited by J. W. CLEMENT, with an introduction by Mrs. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

One 12mo vol., illustrated. Price $1 25.

Single copies sent by mail, postage prepaid, on receipt of price.

A new edition now ready.

MILLER, ORTON & MULLIGAN,
Publishers, No. 25 Park-row.

PATENT SYSTEM OF WRITING.

EVERY ONE HIS OWN TEACHER.

MAC LAURIN'S PATENT SYSTEM OF WRITING.

PATENTED BY U. S. GOVERNMENT, FEB. 14, 1854.

IN A SET OF 8 BOOKS. PRICE, $2 PER SET. ONE SET CAN BE USED BY A DOZEN LEARNERS.

Sent by mail, prepaid, to any part of the Union, on receipt of price.

Schools and dealers supplied on liberal terms.

This perfectly original and novel system of instruction, (and the only one ever patented,) puts it in the power of every man, woman and child in the country to become, without the aid of a master, an accomplished writer. By any other known process, none but persons having a natural faculty or natural talent for writing acquire great proficiency, while by this system the ability is insured to all to obtain the highest possible combination of correctness and rapidity. A pamphlet, containing full explanations and directions, will accompany each set of books; or the pamphlet will be sent to any address, without charge, on the receipt of a postage stamp. The ablest educationists in the country have examined the system, by thorough examination, and have expressed their confidence in the all-sufficiency of the system.

EXTRACTS FROM THE MANY TESTIMONIALS IN POSSESSION OF THE PATENTEE.

From JAMES N. MCELLIGOTT, LL.D.:

"The pupil is compelled to unite in his practice correctness of form with rapidity of execution. These, as is well known, are the capital requisites in the formation of a good penman, and it is the engaging feature of Mr. Mac Laurin's system, that they come out of the practice inculcated in his course of exercises by a sort of natural necessity."

BENJAMIN HARRISON, ESQ., Principal of Bancroft Institute, says:

"For these reasons, then—its reduction of penmanship to a simple mechanical process, its immense saving of time, the most important consideration, where the period allotted to education is so limited; the combined precision and rapidity of character; its admirable arrangement adapted to the pupil by blocks, graduated steps; and the power of making the worst persons to write well—I think it far superior to all other methods, and destined to secure a wide and deserved popularity."

Mr. CHARLES GOODRICH says:

"A mere examination of the work is sufficient to convince the most superficial observer that it must be what it purports."

From JOHN W. BULKLEY, Esq., Superintendent Common Schools in the City of Brooklyn:

"I confidently recommend your System as superior to all others with which I am acquainted."

SAMUEL S. RANDALL, Esq., Superintendent Common Schools in the City of New-York, says:

"I have no hesitation in saying that I regard the principle upon which it rests—the culture and development of the muscles of the hand and arm—as eminently a sound and philosophical one, and indeed as the only mode in which a free, easy and graceful style of penmanship can be attained."

From JOHN H. FANNING, Esq., Principal of Ward School No. 12, New-York:

"Your system imparts grace and freedom in the control and use of the pen, thus combining (what in this business age is a desideratum) correctness of form with rapidity of execution."

From the Southern Repository and College Review.

"MacLaurin's system proposes to produce a combination, in the highest possible degree of correctness of form and rapidity of execution; and we do not see how it can fail to accomplish it."

From the Knickerbocker.

"It is philosophical in its principles, and logical and rational in its deductions it must accomplish, in every instance, the object it proposes to effect."

Published by W. S. MACLAURIN & CO.,
No. 365 Broadway, New-York.

HUMBOLDT'S IMPORTANT WORK ON CUBA.

NOW READY!

THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

BY ALEXANDER HUMBOLDT.

TRANSLATED FROM THE SPANISH, WITH NOTES AND A PRELIMINARY ESSAY.

BY J. S. THRASHER.

BRINGING DOWN THE HISTORY TO THE PRESENT TIME.

With a Map. 12mo: price $1 25.

It is believed this work, by the eminent Humboldt, now first presented to the public, under the auspices of a gentleman whose facilities have rendered his position invaluable for such a purpose, will be read with interest by the Public. An accurate and smooth Map, from the latest Spanish authorities, accompanies the book.

CONTENTS.

Preliminary Essay—Comprising a complete View of the Territorial, Political, Industrial and Social Relations of the Island.	Population.
	Slavery.
	Races.
	Sugar Culture.
General View.	Agriculture.
Physical Aspect.	Commerce.
Climate.	Internal Communications.
Geography.	Revenue.
	A Trip to Trinidad.

From the New-Orleans Courier.

This excellent work has never been presented in English, and will be welcomed with pleasure by many thousands who will lose no time in availing themselves of it as a source of information on a subject of growing interest and importance. It will be enriched by considerable additions, written by the translator, which will put the reader in possession of a knowledge of the very latest political and political condition of the Islands. The knowledge which Mr. Thrasher has of Cuba from a long residence there, and from his having devoted many years to a study of its condition and its relations to the mother country and the United States, eminently qualifies him for the preparation of such a work. Of the merits of the original no doubt can be entertained. Whatever science is cultivated the name of Humboldt is justly honored. We shall await the appearance of this work to make more extended comments.

DERBY & JACKSON, Publishers, New-York.
Can be ordered through any bookseller.

BE IN TIME

TO SECURE

YOUNG AMERICA.

No. 12 this day published.

Its splendid jokes are too numerous to mention, While its humorous illustrations defy description.

BROWN STUDIES. (Continued.)

Increase in interest and are creating a great sensation.

THE MODERN SULTAN OF GRANADA

Shows up the Nicaragua question.

A SITUATION WANTED

Will open the eyes of anxious parents.

"I DREAMT THAT I DWELT IN MARBLE HALLS"

Will call a tear to the eyes of the friends of "Live Oak George."

SIC TRANSIT GLORIA &c.,

Shows how Walker's bombshell knocked the Bulls and tickled the Bears.

YOUNG NEW-YORK BEFORE AND AFTER GOING TO EUROPE!

Will make the sisters of our artists very, very shy.

DIFFICULTIES THAT AIN'T TO BE GOT ROUND MUST BE SURMOUNTED.

Is a hint to a fleece during the Hoop epidemic.

YOUNG AMERICA 1776, AND YOUNG AMERICA 1856

Is too true to laugh at.

ANOTHER OF THE THINGS THAT WORRY LADIES

Almost to death, will come home to the bosoms of every good housewife.

While the spicy editorials, dashing strictures and cutting satire, jokes, paragraphs, and palpable hits, will be read with gusto, and appreciated by all sensible people.

Only 6 cents a number, or $3 50 per year.

For sale by all newsdealers, and by

T. W. STRONG, No. 98 Nassau-st., New-York.

NEW MUSIC.—"Be Kind to Each Other," by Mr. Bishop, "Good Night," duet, as an excellent song for the home circle. "The Wind and Music are both Gone," a duet, "Ye Mariners of England," a favorite sailor's song, by Graves, 50 cts. "Life but a Ballad," by Rodgers, 25 cts. "Lovely Fairy Bella," 50 cts. "Rich and Poor," by Graves, 25 cts. "Sigh," by T. S. Cook, 25 cts. Sent free of postage, on receipt of advertised price. Catalogues sent free. Dealers and the trade will be treated with the usual liberality. COOK & BRO., 198 Broadway.

THE HOME NEWS, a weekly family journal, edited by Rev. Dr. THOMAS FRANCIS MEAGHER, is published every SATURDAY, on our publication office, No. 29 Ann-st., one of Nassau and Gold-sts. Terms, $2 per annum.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

NOW READY!

A WORK OF GREAT INTEREST.

GREENWARD;

OR, WOMAN'S TRIALS AND TRIUMPHS.

By Rachel Gilmore.

1 vol., 12mo, 384 pages. Cloth, price $1.

Though the writer of this work is young, she is evidently an experienced writer, and we feel confident, from the merit of Greenward, that she has one who will make her mark in the field of literature, and take her stand in the very foremost rank of our most gifted authors. There is a freshness in the conception, a force and vigor in the execution of this book, that show the writer to be one who has thought deeply and earnestly upon the subjects of which she treats; and consequently she writes forcibly and with the power and effect that spring from the heart.

It is the story of a young girl who, placed at first in a situation which keeps in check the aims and aspirations which fill her young heart and fire her ardent imagination, finally breaks through the barriers that oppose her progress, and becomes what her fine natural talent fitted her to be—a highly educated, fascinating woman. She loves not wisely, but too well—is disappointed, and then turns her attention to an idea and plan for which she always had a fancy—to devote her fine talents to the purpose of elevating the social and physical condition of her own sex. These schemes are considered Utopian by her friends, and she is stigmatized as a dreamer and visionary. Finally, they carry their opposition so far as, by false representations, to decoy her into an asylum for the insane where she is confined, with the determination to cure her of what they consider her theoretical notions. She finally escapes from the asylum, triumphs over her false friends and the difficulties that beset her path, pursues her cherished plans with success and becomes the instrument of rescuing from degradation and misery many of her own sex. But, alas, for human resolves; love which she had scorned, finally triumphs, and she at last fills the position of a loving wife—one which she was so well calculated to adorn.

DE WITT & DAVENPORT,
Publishers,
Nos. 160 and 162 Nassau-st.

DARING DEEDS OF AMERICAN HEROES,

With Biographical sketches. Edited by JAMES O. BRAYNAK.

This is truly an American book, and exhibits instances of noble daring and heroic fortitude that must thrill with pride the heart of every patriot.

A new edition just published by

MILLER, ORTON & MULLIGAN, No. 25 Park-row.

Single copies sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price, $1 25.

REMOVAL.

CHARLES SCRIBNER has removed to Nos. 377 and 379 Broadway.

NEW WORKS IN PRESS,

AND NEARLY READY FOR PUBLICATION, BY

CHARLES SCRIBNER.

I.—THE THREE GARDENS—Eden, Gethsemane and Paradise; or, Man's Ruin, Redemption and Restoration. By Rev. WM. ADAMS, D. D. 1 vol. 12mo, $1 25.

II.—SIGHT AND HEARING—How Preserved, how Lost. By J. H. CLARK, M. D. 1 vol. 12mo, 75 cts.

III.—THE SECOND MARRIAGE. By CHARLES BURDETT. 1 vol. 12mo.

IV.—LIFE OF PRINCE TALLEYRAND. 1 vol. 12mo, with portrait.

V.—REALITY; Or, THE MILLIONAIRE'S DAUGHTER. By Mrs. L. C. TUTHILL. 1 vol. 12mo, $1.

VI.—A KEY TO THE BIBLE; or, The Principles of Common Sense, by which the Scriptures should be interpreted. By Rev. DAVID DODE. 1 vol. 12mo.

VII.—THREE PER CENT. A MONTH. By CHARLES BURDETT. 1 vol. 12mo.

A REGULAR SIDE-CRACKER

IN THE

YANKEE NOTIONS

FOR APRIL

THIS DAY PUBLISHED.

Containing the first part of

BILLY VEDKINS

And nearly

ONE HUNDRED COMIC ILLUSTRATIONS,

Besides thirty-two pages of

LITERARY MATTERS.

Comprising the cream of the current fun of the world.

Tickles everybody, and secures an early copy.

Only 12½ cents per number, or $1 25 per year.

For sale by all News dealers and by

T. W. STRONG, Publisher, No. 98 Nassau-st.

PUBLISHED THIS DAY,

BY ARTHUR T. JONES,

ONE THOUSAND COPIES

OF A

HORSE STORY,

Including the impeachment of JOHN ORSER, High Sheriff of the City and County of New-York, with the decision of the Governor of the State thereon, and the trial and conviction of Deputy Sheriff THOMAS CARLIN, for a misdemeanor; and all of the correspondence connected therewith, from November, 1854, to February, 1856.

Those who take an interest in the administration of public justice in the City of New-York, can receive a copy gratis, until the edition is exhausted, by sending to No. 115 Broadway.

AWFUL CATASTROPHE ON THE DELAWARE.

BURNING OF A PHILADELPHIA AND CAMDEN FERRY-BOAT.

Terrible scenes during the excitement! all to be illustrated in No. 16 of FRANK LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED SATURDAY NEXT, MARCH 22.

IRVING'S

LIFE OF WASHINGTON.

G. P. PUTNAM & CO., No. 321 Broadway.

STATIONERY.—CHARLES H. LYON & BROTHERS, No. 2 Beekman-st.—ENVELOPES AND WRITING PAPERS.—We are now furnishing to the Trade the most extensive and varied assortment of the above goods to be found in this country. Our stock, which is larger than ever before, comprises every grade of quality and price, including the latest and most approved styles, which we are offering at prices unusually low.

With increased facilities for manufacturing, and recent improvements in the process, we are now able to keep pace with the increasing demand for our Envelopes, and at the same time to furnish an article of superior workmanship.

To large buyers we are prepared to offer extraordinary inducements by reason of our large contracts with some of the best paper mills in the United States.

WRITING PAPERS.

BILLET, COMMERCIAL NOTE, LADIES' NOTE, LADIES' BATH, BATH POST, QUEEN POST, CAP, FLAT CAP, ETC.

The above gilt edge, plain, ruled or quadrled, wove, laid and fancy laid, White, Buff, Canary, Lilac, (both separate or assorted,) &c., embracing various shades of quality and price.

Orders from any part of the United States promptly attended to. CHAS. H. LYON & BROTHER,
No. 2 Beekman-st., New-York.

PUBLICATION OF THE LONDON JOURNAL IN NEW-YORK.—ON SATURDAY, March 22, the LONDON JOURNAL will be published at No. 60 Nassau-st., New-York; price: Two cents weekly. J. SMITH has been informed by the publishers that he has made arrangements with the proprietor of the LONDON JOURNAL, to publish that work simultaneously with the time of publishing in London; No. 575, to be published on March 22d, will be the commencement of a new volume, and also that of a new romance, of great interest, by the author of "Wildfire." All communications to be addressed to J. SMITH, No. 60 Nassau-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK WAG.—Read by everybody.—No. 14 now ready, by all newsvenders—3 cents a copy. Splendid illustrations, stories, romances, poetry, &c. Rich Correspondence from Lowell, Boston, Washington, Philadelphia, &c. Subscription, $1 a year. Specimen numbers free. P. F. HARRIS, Editor,
Office No. 103 Nassau-st., N. Y.

SHAKESPEREAN READINGS—By the successful American debutante Miss MARY AGNES CAMERON, assisted by Mr. B. FAIRCLAUGH, tragedian, at the Brooklyn Athenæum, on THURSDAY EVENING next, 20th March, at 7½ o'clock, doors open at 6½.

KIGGINS & KELLOGG—Offer special inducements to BOOK AND BLANK-BOOK buyers, at their new store, Nos. 128 and 130 William-st., between John and Fulton sts.

NATIONAL ACADEMICIANS.—See your Chef d' Œuvres presented to the world in the NEW-YORK PICAYUNE of this week. Price only three cents.

BEGADWAY RAILROAD—WHO WANTS IT?—See its advantages set forth in the clearest light in this week's PICAYUNE. Price only three cents.

IVISON & PHINNEY—Have removed from No. 119 Fulton-st. to No. 321 Broadway.

PAPER HANGINGS.

SPRING IMPORTATION, 1856.

SOLOMON & HART,
NO. 126 BROADWAY,
Opposite the Park,
ARE NOW RECEIVING FROM FRANCE,
DECORATIVE PAPERS,
OF NEW AND RICH DESIGNS,
In panel, gold, satin, velvet, and wood imitations, with Borders, &c. to correspond.
Also,
CHAMBER AND OTHER PAPERS,
IN EVERY VARIETY OF STYLE AND PATTERN.
Their stock of WINDOW SHADES of THEIR OWN MANUFACTURE and UPHOLSTERY GOODS, CURTAIN MATERIALS AND FURNITURE COVERINGS, of the finest importations, is also full and complete.
Which they offer Wholesale and Retail, at such prices as to present unusual inducement to purchasers.

REMOVAL.

FRANCIS PARIS & CO.
Have removed to No. 21 Chambers-st. to No. 342 Broadway, corner of Worth-st., where may be found the largest and the best assortment of
DECORATIVE PAPER HANGINGS,
Suitable for every style of house architecture.
Also every variety of the trade.
CITY AND COUNTY DEALERS.

THE GREATEST JUVENILE ACTOR—WHAT'S THE BEST BABY!

WEBSTER'S [illegible]

WEBSTER'S [illegible]

DRY GOODS.

FROM THE AUCTION SALE

OF DAMAGED GOODS,

AT THE STORE OF W. TOPPING & CO.,
No. 99 Broadway,
REMSEN & DINGEE,
Nos. 204 & 206 4th-av., near 14th-st.,
On MONDAY, March 17,
Will offer, in addition, with the remaining stock
OF FALL AND WINTER GOODS,
And, also, some Lord
Of the above Sales,
Burnt, Soiled and Perfect,
Consisting of
PRINTED LAWNS, ENGLISH LONG CLOTHS,
IRISH LINENS, MUSLIN DRAPERY,
DAMASK TABLE LINENS, EMBROIDERIES,
NAPKINS, DOYLIES, TOWELINGS, &c.
As the above goods are sold
By the order of the Insurers,
GREAT BARGAINS MAY BE EXPECTED.

THE DRESS GOODS

Are of the latest Spring Styles,
Imported expressly for the Spring Trade,
REMSEN & DINGEE,
Nos. 204 and 206 4th-av., one door below 14th-st.

THE CONTINUATION OF COLEY'S WET GOODS SALE.

RARE BARGAINS

FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

THE REMAINING

WILL CLOSE OUT THE ENTIRE STOCK.

THE STOCK MESSRS.

Pure Irish Linen Sheetings.
Damask Table Linens.
Linen Pillow Casing and Sheeting.
Damask Napkins and Towelings.
Marseilles Quilts and Counterpanes.
Rose and Whitney Blankets.
Flannels, Hosiery, &c., &c.
ALSO,
WILL OPEN THIS DAY,
THREE CASES
NEW SPRING SILKS,
From 4s. to 6s. per yard.
A. G. COLEY, No. 289 Grand-st.

HOTELS AND HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

LINENS! LINENS!! LINENS!!!

IN EVERY VARIETY.

CHAS. G. HOOK, No. 759 Broadway,
WILL OPEN MARCH 17,
AN EXTENSIVE INVOICE
OF PURE IRISH LINENS,
Comprising
Damask Diaper Cloths.
Damask Table Cloths.
Plain Sheeting and Pillow Casing.
Napkins and Towelling.
Pure Irish Linen Shirting and Fronting.
Marseilles Quilts and Counterpanes.
BOUGHT AT AUCTION,
AT REDUCED PRICES.
Sold at a trifling advance.
CHAS. G. HOOK, No. 759 Broadway.

L. H. MOORE & CO.,
No. 192 BROADWAY,
Have in store, and are daily receiving from auction and other sources, their Spring supply of

FANCY SILK GOODS,

Consisting in part of an extensive assortment of RICH FIGURED HAT, CAP and TRIMMING RIBBONS, DRESS TRIMMINGS, English, French and German Black and Fancy Silks, SILK TRIMMING LACES, FRENCH CORSETS, EMBROIDERIES, CURTAIN DRAPERIES in LACE and MUSLIN, STRAW GOODS, Every variety of TUSCAN, FLORENCE, LEGHORN, BRAIDED, FEDAL, SUTLAND, SPLIT STRAW HATS.

The attention of all cash buyers is invited to an examination of our Stock, which is all marked plainly in figures, and is offered at FIVE PER CENT. advance, and will be constantly replenished throughout the season.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

A CHOICE ASSORTMENT

Will be opened MONDAY, March 17,

BY

CHAS. HEARD & CO., No. 261 Grand-st.,

Comprising

Rich Plaid and Stripe Silks.
Rich Stella Shawls.
Rich India Crape Shawls.
Rich Paris Printed Bareges.
Rich Printed Lawns.
Rich Printed Challis.
Rich Barege Delaines, &c., &c., &c.

Prices lower than usual.

CHAS. HEARD & CO., 261 Grand-st.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

THE STOCK OF DRY GOODS IN STORE,
No. 179 Grand-st.

Consisting of

SILKS, SHAWLS, MERINOS,
PARAMATTAS, PLAIDS, DE LAINES,
CALICOES, FLANNELS, CASSIMERES,
SATINETS, SHIRTING, LINENS, TABLE
DAMASK, NAPKINS, MARSEILLES QUILTS,
BAREGES, PRINTED MUSLINS,
LAWNS, GINGHAMS—And a Large Stock of DOMESTIC GOODS;

All to be sold at a great sacrifice
By order of the ASSIGNEE.

NEW SILK HOUSE.—1856.

WILLIAM W. WRIGHT & CO.,
(Late Norwood & Wright),
No. 93 Liberty-st., New-York,
Invite the attention of the trade to their CHOICE ASSORTMENT OF FASHIONABLE DRESS TRIMMINGS,
EMBROIDERIES, RIBBONS,
GLOVES, MITTS, THREAD LACES,
LACE GOODS, WHITE GOODS,
BLACK GROS D'ITALIE AND GRO DE RHINE SILKS,
FANCY DRESS SILKS, SHAWLS, MANTILLAS, &c.
CASH AND SHORT TIME BUYERS
Are solicited to examine our Stock.

LINENS! DOMESTICS! FLANNELS!

A large stock of every description always on hand,
AT UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!
Including
Irish Linen Shirtings, Sheetings, Table Cloths, Napkins, &c.
Blue, and Brc. Cotton Sheetings, Shirtings, Jeans, &c.
White, Scarlet and Fancy Woolen Flannels, &c.
LORD & TAYLOR, Nos. 255, 257, 259 and 261 Grand-st.,
And new numbers 47 and 49 Catharine-st.

CURTAIN MATERIALS.

SATIN DAMASKS,
LAMPASETTS,
BROCATELS,
SATIN LAINES,
TAPESTRIES,
LACE CURTAINS,
CORNICES,
TASSELS,
GIMPS, &c., &c., &c.

New Goods this season. A. T. STEWART & CO.
Broadway, Chambers and Reade sts.

SPRING DRESS GOODS!!!

Will be open on and after Monday, March 17,
AN IMMENSE VARIETY
Barege, De Laines, Alpacas, De Beges, Challies, Printed Lawns, Brilliants, Organdies, &c., &c.
CHOICE STYLES! LOW PRICES!!
LORD & TAYLOR, Nos. 255, 257, 259 and 261 Grand-st.,
And new numbers 47 and 49 Catharine-st.

TO THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

SMITH BROTHERS, Nos. 138 and 140 Fulton-st., New-York, Manufacturers of Fire Clothes.

Call the attention of firemen to their large stock of drab and blue beaver, pilot and felt cloths which they have now on hand.

Samples of their fire coats can be seen at their stores.

SMITH BROTHERS, Nos. 138 and 140 Fulton-st.

BLACK SILKS.

LEADBEATER'S ASSIGNMENT,
No. 347 Broadway.
Closing the Assignment.
The entire stock for unprecedented sale.
BEAUTIFUL BLACK SILKS AT ONE DOLLAR.
By order of Assignees.
G. B. WILLIAMS & CO.

MARSEILLES QUILTS.

LEADBEATER'S ASSIGNMENT,
No. 347 Broadway.
FIVE HUNDRED VERY FINE MARSEILLES QUILTS,
At tremendous bargains.
G. B. WILLIAMS & CO.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

LEADBEATER'S ASSIGNMENT,
No. 347 Broadway.
TREMENDOUS BARGAINS THIS WEEK.
In Broché, Stella, and other Shawls.
By order of the Assignees.
G. B. WILLIAMS & CO.

OPENING OF SPRING MANTILLAS.

The subscriber has just opened his new styles of SPRING MANTILLAS.

The most unusual is unsurpassed, both in richness and variety, embracing rich and elegant styles of Paris-made lace and silk goods, in entirely new patterns.

Those from all sections are respectfully to call and examine the stock, as they will be offered at prices to suit on the most favorable terms. J. E. MILLS,
Nos. 56 and 58 Chambers-st.

COLORED DRESS SILKS.

LEADBEATER'S ASSIGNMENT,
No. 347 Broadway.
Two cases for sale this week.
The entire stock must be sold,
By order of
G. B. WILLIAMS & CO.

RICHARDSON'S

IRISH LINENS, DAMASKS, &c.

The public will please bear in mind that the genuine goods are always sold with the full signature of the firm, viz.: "RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN," J. BULLOCKS & J. B. LOCKE, Agents,
No. 56 Pine-st., New-York.

NEW BAREGE BOMBE,

ORDERED BY THE LATE FIRM OF LEADBEATER & CO., No. 347 Broadway,
ON SALE THIS WEEK,
BY ORDER OF ASSIGNEE,
One hundred and fifty beautiful Robes,
at 62½ and 75 cents a yard.
G. B. WILLIAMS & CO.

BAREGE BOMBE! SPRING BOMBE!

LE BOUTILLIER BROTHERS have just received an invoice of the above, for the spring trade, also, several other new and desirable Dress Goods, at No. 57 Canal-st. and No. 5 Hamilton-st.

WHITE GOODS! WHITE GOODS!!

[illegible]

DRY GOODS.

[illegible]

NEW SPRING GOODS.

[illegible]

$500 FLOUNCED SILK ROBES,

FROM AUCTION,
At 12 Dollars Each,
A. T. STEWART & CO.
Broadway, Chambers and Reade sts.

SPRING EMBROIDERIES AND LACES.

Full assortment of new SPRING STYLES now ready,
AT VERY LOW PRICES!
Including French, Swiss and Swiss Embroideries and Laces of every description.
LORD & TAYLOR, Nos. 255, 257, 259 and 261 Grand-st.,
And new numbers 47 and 49 Catharine-st.

ALL THE NEW PATTERNS,

In real Axminster, Wilton, Velvet, Tapestry, Brussels, three-ply, and Imperial Ingrain

CARPETS.

Manufactured by Crossley & Sons, Templeton & Co., and others, imported this Spring, for sale, wholesale and retail, by A. T. STEWART & CO.,
Broadway, Chambers and Reade sts.

CARPETS! OIL CLOTHS! RUGS!

Selected expressly for our Spring Sales, and including all the newest and most desirable Patterns,
AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES!
Tapestry, Brussels, Velvet, Three-ply, Ingrain, and Low Priced Carpets.
Brussels, Velvet and Worsted Rugs, Mats, &c.
English and American Oil Cloths, 4-4, 5-4, 6-4, &c.
LORD & TAYLOR, Nos. 255, 257, 259 and 261 Grand-st.,
And new numbers 47 and 49 Catharine-st.

RICH SPRING SILKS!

An extensive and elegant assortment of
PLAIN AND FANCY BROCHE; BROCADES, &c.
Also,
CHEAP SPRING SILKS.
Very high luster and choicest styles of the season.
20,000 yards STRIPES and PLAINS, at 25 to 75 cents.
LORD & TAYLOR, Nos. 255, 257, 259 and 261 Grand-st.,
And new numbers 47 and 49 Catharine-st.

GRAND SPRING OPENING!

Of superb English Medallion, Velvet, Tapestry and Brussels Carpets.
Elegant Window Shades and Velvet Table Covers.
HIRAM ANDERSON, No. 99 Bowery.

SPRING MANTILLAS.

On MONDAY, the 17th inst., we shall offer a large assortment of new and desirable Spring Mantillas, especially adapted to immediate wear.
J. BECK & CO., Nos. 255 and 261 Broadway.

BEAUTY! ELEGANCE! ECONOMY!

Handsome Tapestry Brussels Carpets, 62c. per yard.
Beautiful Spring Style Ingrains, 44c. per yard.
Gold Window Shades, 16c. per pair.
HIRAM ANDERSON, No. 99 Bowery.

GENIN'S BAZAAR.—No. 513 BROADWAY.—Grand Spring Opening on THURSDAY, March 20, 1856. The Public are most respectfully informed that on the day above named a choice assortment of the latest novelties in Ladies' and Children's apparel will be on exhibition, all of the very best make, and such as cannot be surpassed, if paralleled, in this City. GENIN'S BAZAAR, No. 513 Broadway, under St. Nicholas Hotel.

LACES.—MILLS & GRANT would call the attention of purchasers to their new goods in Spring styles French embroidered collars, sets, bracelets, sleeves, &c.; an extensive assortment of muslin bands, edgings and insertions; also lace mantillas, points, veils and new of the lowest market prices; a carton of embroidered muslins from 12c. to 18c. per yard. No. 371 Broadway.

TO ALL WHO USE SEWING MACHINES.—The best six-cord white thread, from JOHN CLARK, Jr. & Co. of Mile End Glasgow, on spools, containing 1,000 yards, warranted superior to any offered to sell, by WILLIAM WHITEWRIGHT, Sole Agent,
No. 98 Maiden-lane.

OPENING DAY AT GENIN'S LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S OUT-FITTING BAZAAR.—No. 513 Broadway, St. Nicholas Hotel.—JOHN N. GENIN will open on THURSDAY, 20th inst., a magnificent assortment of Ladies' and Children's Spring Bonnets and Head Dresses. Also, 100 cartons of French Flowers, Ribbons, &c., &c.

CORSETS! CORSETS!—Mrs. GAYNOR has now on hand for the Spring Trade, a splendid assortment of all kinds of corsets, to which she invites the attention of the ladies, (wholesale and retail.) No. 48 3d-av., near Tenth-st., and No. 368 6th-av., near 14th-st.

DAMAGED LINENS.—Table cloths, prints, ginghams, jaynts, challies, black bombazines, black silks, black & colored broad cloths, cassimeres, hosiery and curtain muslins &c. For sale by
WM. MATHEWS, Nos. 52 and 54 Catharine-st.

OPENING DAY AT GENIN'S BAZAAR.—THURSDAY, March 20.—Rare advantages in Boy's Clothing, in design, fit, and finish, the Boys' Clothing made to order at Genin's Bazaar, St. Nicholas Hotel, Broadway, surpassing any manufactured in the United States. HERTOG, who superintends the cutting, stands alone in that department.

MARSEILLES QUILTS.—1,000 Marseilles Quilts, to be sold for account of Underwriters. Also, the balance of Chalis and Barege Delaines, from 8d. to 1s 6d. per yard—a decided bargain. C. G. HOOK, No. 759 Bowery.

SEWING MACHINE SILK AND TWIST.—The Finnell lasting twist, in black and colors, the best in use, for sale. THOMAS THORP,
Sole Agent, No. 67 Liberty-st.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

$25,000.—SPECIAL CAPITAL.—Two young men of experience in banking, are desirous of forming a partnership with some person who can furnish the above amount. They desire to open a banking office in some new and flourishing village of the West. Both at present are engaged in one of the most successful banks of this City, and can give undoubted references as to their character and ability for such an undertaking. The great demand for capital at the West will undoubtedly (with proper management) secure to the parties making such an arrangement profitable returns. Address, stating where an interview may be had, B. and W., Times Office.

BUSINESS AND CAPITAL.—A well-educated, first-rate business man, wishes to engage in some extensive business, to which he could devote all his time and energies for a few years, with a salary and an interest in the business. Would go to any part of the country or the world, if inducements were sufficient. References unexceptionable. Address METAL, office of the Daily Times.

VALUABLE BAKER'S ESTABLISHMENT FOR SALE.—On Lexington-av., corner 29th-st., now in successful operation. The poor health of the owner is the only reason for selling. House four stories in perfect order, with large oven and vaults. The whole will be sold at a bargain. Apply to E. H. BROWN, No. 71 Wall-st., from 1 to 3 P. M.

PARTNER WANTED IN THE BOOK-AND STATIONERY BUSINESS.—Wanted a partner with a capital of five thousand dollars, to buy an interest in an old and well established book-store in this City, and now doing a very good safe business. Full particulars given on personal application. Address EDWARD WILSON, Post-Office, New-York.

COAL-YARD FOR SALE CHEAP.—Situated near one of the Ferries, and in one of the best localities in Brooklyn, now doing a good business. The office, fixtures, horse, cart, and everything connected with the business for sale. Satisfactory reason for selling. Apply to H. STREET, No. 346½ Pine-st., New-York.

CLOTHING STORE FOR SALE.—The stock, fixtures and lease of store, No. 128 Bowery, near Avenue D, an old established stand and now doing a good business; satisfactory reasons given for selling out. For terms, which will be reasonable, apply on the premises.

FIRST-CLASS BOARDING-HOUSE.—The lease and furniture of a strictly first-class boarding-house, now doing a successful business, yielding over $22,000 per year, for sale. Apply to CHAUNCEY BARNARD, No. 96 Broadway.

$5,000.—A WHOLESALE LIQUOR MERCHANT.—With a good and increasing business, wishes to meet with a partner who has this amount of capital. Address M. M., Times office.

AGRICULTURAL.

NEW CHINESE POTATO.—DIOSCOREA BATATAS.—[illegible]

[illegible]

CHINESE POTATO.—Imperial Rice-White variety, genuine, sound of American growth, in the ear, at $2 and $3 and $10 each. Go safely by express. Jersey Potato (entirely distinct) $12 per bbl. Orders with cash enclosed executed immediately. A full Seed, Plant and Nursery Catalogue, Flowering plants in quantity, Bouquets, New Annual Chinese Aster, Cockscomb, Amaranth, Cypress Vine, Tricolor Geranium, Cuphea, &c. Priced Catalogues of Trees, Plants and Seeds sent to applicants. WM. R. PRINCE & CO.,
Flushing, New-York.

HONDURAS GUANO.—Just received by the bark Lizzie Ellen direct from the Island, 50 T. in sacks of the superior Guano, (which is the Sombrero Guano that brought by the ship Sombrero last year.) This Guano is now landed in excellent order, and will be sold in lots to suit purchasers, at the store of the undersigned, or delivered by the Agent. As the quantity is limited, early application will be necessary. Apply to
A. W. JONES,
No. 34 Cliff-st., corner of Fulton.

PERUVIAN GUANO.—[illegible]

[illegible]

PUBLIC MEETINGS.

JOHN FROST.—A [illegible] above distinguished [illegible] the City Assembly rooms, [illegible] March 21, 1856, [illegible]

CHAS. KEEN, No. [illegible]
CHAS. M'CARTHY, No. [illegible]
ROBERT NICHOLS, [illegible]
THOMAS JONES, Dock-st.
GEORGE MURPHY, [illegible]
ROBERT WILD, Chatham-st.
HENRY SHARP, Treasurer.
EUGENE M. SULLIVAN, Secretary, No. [illegible] 10 p. m.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—A meeting of the Special Committee of the Board of Aldermen on the subject of Piers &c., for the reclamation of the water front, will be held on THURSDAY next, March 20, at 4 P. M.

Architects and other persons who may wish to submit Plans for renewal of Piers already submitted to the Board, or new Plans designed to be presented,

AM. GEORGE W. VARIAN, Chairman.
AM. WILLIAM TUCKER.
AM. F. K. VALENTINE.
AM. JAMES GRIFFITHS, Committee.
AM. JOSIAH O. BROWN.

THE REPEALING OF REPEALING IN IRELAND.—LECTURE BY JOHN MITCHEL ONLY FULL REPORT.—The NEW-YORK CITIZEN, of March 22, will contain the report of Mr. Mitchel's Lecture, from his own manuscript, on the repeal of Revolution in Ireland. The lecture commenced in this number. The Citizen is the only journal published full reports of Mr. Mitchel's two lectures. It is now in its third volume. Price, 6d. or single copies, 6d per annum. Office No. 16 Spruce-st.

BROOKLYN LECTURES.—Dr. [illegible] Third Lecture on the Great Apostle of Liberty, will be delivered from Tremont St. at the Church of the Redeemer, on MONDAY EVENING, March 24, at the request of the Ladies, in connection with a Christmas Gift Festival, in behalf of the Home for Aged and Indigent Females.

NINETEENTH WARD REPUBLICANS, 1856.—The first ward club of the Nineteenth Ward have called a meeting at Odd Fellows' Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, the 19th inst., at 8 o'clock, and those friendly to the cause are requested to attend. JOHN OSBORN, Chairman pro tem.
G. T. Gregory, Secretary p. t.

FLUSHING.—I. B. BROWN, whose Dramatic and Poetic Readings have become so popular in Brooklyn, Newark, Flushing, &c., will give an evening of Dramatic Institute, on WEDNESDAY, March 26, at 7½ o'clock. Tickets 25 cents; children half price.

VETERANS OF THE WAR OF 1812.—[illegible]

[illegible]

FINE ARTS.

NEW DRAWING [illegible] Price, neatly bound, $1 25. For sale by W. SCHAUS, No. 351 Broadway.

THE BEST OF THEM STILL—THE BLESSED BABY!

COURBAUD'S ITALIAN [illegible]

[illegible]

COURBAUD'S FOUNDS [illegible]

[illegible]

DANDELION COFFEE.—[illegible]

[illegible]

THE MANHATTAN GAS LIGHT COMPANY.—[illegible] Three Dollars. [illegible] JOHN B. HOWARD.

REMOVAL.—GEO. A. BOSBING & [illegible] Nos. 8 Wall-st., to [illegible] opposite of Pine.

FOR SALE.

[illegible]

FOR SALE.

[illegible]

FOR SALE.

[illegible]

TO LET.

[illegible]

TO LET.

[illegible]

FINANCIAL.

[illegible]

HOUSES, &c., WANTED.

[illegible]

BOUNTY LANDS.

[illegible]

INSURANCE.

[illegible]

TO LET.

[illegible]

AUCTION SALES.

[illegible]

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

ADMINISTRATORS' SALE OF VALUABLE LEASEHOLD PROPERTY.—ADRIAN H. MULLER will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, by order of the administrator of Ernest Fink, deceased, the following described property:

Second-st.—The lot, with the frame buildings thereon, on the south side of Spring and Mott-sts., known as No. 21; the lot is 24 feet 3 inches front, 24 feet 9 inches rear, 92 feet 10 inches on west side, and 106 feet 3 inches on east side, in the same more or less.

Avenue D.—The lot, with the 2-story brick-front dwelling-house thereon, in rear of the above, and known as No. 263 Mott-st.; the lot is 20 feet front by 47 feet deep, be the same more or less.

Broadway.—The large and valuable lot on the north side of Spring-st., known as No. 22, with the 3-story brick-front dwelling, and 2-story addition thereon, in good order; the lot is 21 feet front, 23 feet 3 inches rear, 110 feet 3 inches on west side, and 116 feet 7 inches on east side; in the same more or less.

Mott-st.—The lot, with the 2-story frame dwelling-house thereon, in rear of the above, and known as No. 263 Mott-st.; the lot is 20 feet front by 47 feet deep, be the same more or less.

Broadway.—The large and valuable lot on the north side of Spring-st., known as No. 22, with the 3-story brick-front dwelling, and 2-story addition thereon, in good order; the lot is 21 feet front, 23 feet 3 inches rear, 110 feet 3 inches on west side, and 116 feet 7 inches on east side; in the same more or less.

Fifth-avenue.—Four lots, each 25 feet front, on the west side of Fifth-ave., between 16th and 17th-sts., each 25 feet by 100 feet 6-12 feet.

Forty-second-street.—Five lots south side 50th-st., commencing 185 feet west of 6th-av.

Forty-second-street.—Eight lots on the south side of 42d-st., between 5th and 6th avs., each of full size, commencing 175 feet from the 5th-av.

Forty-second-street.—Thirteen lots of ground on the south side of 42d-st., commencing about 140 feet west of the 5th-av., extending about 100 feet west of Broadway and 16th-av., each lot of full size.

Forty-second-street.—Eight lots on the north side of 42d-st., commencing about 25 feet west of the 3d-av., each 25 feet by 100.

The title to the lots of the above property is unquestionable, and the sale will be unreserved and unlimited. Sixty-five per cent of the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage.

Maps of the property can be obtained of Messrs. A. J. BLEECKER & CO., No. 7 Broad-st., 10 days previous to sale.

This sale was intended for the 5th of March, but is adjourned to the 20th of said month.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

ADMINISTRATORS' SALE OF VALUABLE LEASEHOLD PROPERTY.—ADRIAN H. MULLER will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, by order of the administrator of Ernest Fink, deceased, the following described property:

Second-st.—The lot, with the frame buildings thereon, on the south side of Spring and Mott-sts., known as No. 21; the lot is 24 feet 3 inches front, 24 feet 9 inches rear, 92 feet 10 inches on west side, and 106 feet 3 inches on east side, in the same more or less.

Avenue D.—The lot, with the 2-story brick-front dwelling-house thereon, in rear of the above, and known as No. 263 Mott-st.; the lot is 20 feet front by 47 feet deep, be the same more or less.

Broadway.—The large and valuable lot on the north side of Spring-st., known as No. 22, with the 3-story brick-front dwelling, and 2-story addition thereon, in good order; the lot is 21 feet front, 23 feet 3 inches rear, 110 feet 3 inches on west side, and 116 feet 7 inches on east side; in the same more or less.

Mott-st.—The lot, with the 2-story frame dwelling-house thereon, in rear of the above, and known as No. 263 Mott-st.; the lot is 20 feet front by 47 feet deep, be the same more or less.

WILLIAM INGRAM, Auctioneer.

WILLIAM INGRAM & CO.—Will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, at 10½ o'clock, at the store of Messrs. A. J. Ottman, No. 399 Broadway, without reserve, an entire stock of cabinet furniture. This assortment embraces every article of parlor, dining room, library, bedroom and nursery furniture, of the latest styles and most exquisite carving, all manufactured under Mr. Ottman's immediate supervision; every article will be sold to the order of the above gentleman retiring from business on the 1st of April.

Rosewood Furniture—superb carved rosewood parlor furniture, en suite, of exquisite carving, of every style, antique, Elizabethan, Louis 14th, and the latest Parisian styles, covered with crimson, maroon, green, white and gold satin and silk, brocatel and broadie, &c., &c., in great variety.

Bedroom of every design, with heavy plate glass doors and backs, with marble and rosewood tops, most elaborately carved rosewood centre and pier tables, card and side tables of various designs and patterns, ladies' secretaries and escritoires, encoignuns, music, etageres, richly carved rosewood mirror frames, plate glass, &c., together with a large general assortment of elaborately carved rosewood, black walnut, oak and mahogany parlor, bedroom, dining-room and library furniture of every description.

THOMAS J. MILLER, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE—FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.—Under the direction of JAMES C. WILLETT, sheriff, in pursuance of a judgment of the Supreme Court.—VALUABLE DWELLING-HOUSES AND LOTS, 146 MORRIS-ST.—THOMAS J. MILLER will sell at auction on SATURDAY, March 22, 1856, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange:

TWENTY-FIRST-STREET.—The two elegant English basement houses on 21st-st., 176 feet east of 10th-av., opposite the Episcopal seminary. The houses are 16 feet 8 inches front by 50 feet deep, four stories high, well handsome brownstone fronts, built in a substantial manner and beautifully finished, with all the improvements of furnace, gas, water, closets, baths, &c. Lots 22 feet; late the property of Caleb O'Farrell. Sale positive. For maps, apply to PHILIP FERRIS, corner of Meade and Jackson-sts., or at the office of the auctioneer, No. 51 Fine-st. JONAS W. TERRILL, Administrator.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

AGREEABLE SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—ADRIAN H. MULLER will sell at auction, on WEDNESDAY, March 26, 1856, at 12 o'clock M., at the Merchants' Exchange, by order of Edward Roberts, assignee, the following desirable property:

Sixth-ave.—Lot, on northeast corner of 6th-av. and 61st-st., opposite Central Park.

Also, a very valuable house with all modern improvements, and lot, on south side 35th-st., east of 6th-av., known as No. 48.

Also—Lot on south side of 33d-st., 125 feet west of 6th-av.

An undivided half-interest of the southerly half of the block between 3d and 4d avs., and also an undivided half-interest of the southerly half of the block between 2d-av. and East River, to 40th and 41st-sts., with water right in front.

For further particulars apply to the auctioneer, No. 38 Wall-st.

ANTHONY J. BLEECKER, Auctioneer.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY ON STATEN ISLAND, AT AUCTION.—ANTHONY J. BLEECKER & CO. will sell, by public auction, on WEDNESDAY, the 9th day of April, 1856, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, the following valuable property, on Staten Island, viz.: On Spring Hill, Staten Island, in the township of Castleton, on the road from Port Richmond to the Black Horse Tavern, and known as Edmund's (formerly Pinkney's) Farm, consisting of about 40 acres, in a high state of cultivation, with convenient buildings, erected by the late owner without regard to cost. This property has been at many splendid views and sites, suitable for country seats, and is well watered from springs and brook, of which there is an abundance, so that this property would afford ample opportunity for manufacturing purposes, as breweries, &c. For further particulars apply at the office of the auctioneer, No. 7 Broad-st., New-York.

A. C. TUTTLE, Auctioneer, office No. 94 Broadway.

LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF FANCY GOODS, DIAMOND AND GOLD JEWELRY, BEDROOM STATUARY, &c., at No. 639 BROADWAY.—A. C. TUTTLE will sell on FRIDAY, at 10½ o'clock at the large rooms, over the store, No. 639 Broadway, a large and valuable assortment of rich fancy goods, including gold watches, diamond and gold jewelry, statuary, bronzes, clocks, vases, ormolu, alabaster vases, &c., to pay advances, and sold without reservation.

Also, a small assortment of ROSEWOOD PARLOR FURNITURE, rosewood secretary and book case, bedroom furniture, &c. Terms cash, and a deposit required. Catalogues on the day of sale.

THOMAS J. MILLER, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF THE STEAMBOAT ROBERTON AT AUCTION.—PHILIP F. WILKINS will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, 1856, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, unless previously disposed of at private sale, the steamboat ROBERTON, now lying at the foot of 12th-st., East River. Her dimensions are as follows: Burden, 100 tons; length, 121 feet; breadth, 25 feet 2 inches; depth, 9 feet; 6 under, 37½ inches, 10 feet stroke; she is in perfect running order and fully equipped in all respects. For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, 11 Wall-st.

EDWARD F. FRANKLIN, Auctioneer.

BY FRANKLIN & NICHOLS.—Sale of household furniture, by order of an execution issued by the Sheriff, will be sold at the store, No. 19 Nassau-st., near John, on WEDNESDAY MORNING, 19th inst., the whole of the furniture of a dwelling house, removed for convenience of sale. Also, a large quantity of master cabinet made furniture, the whole comprising an assortment of the trade, and making this sale worthy the attention of the trade and housekeepers. Sale without reserve. For particulars see Herald.

EXECUTOR'S SALE AT AUCTION.—Of Real Estate, property in Newark, N. J. The undersigned will offer for sale at public auction, on the premises, on FRIDAY, March 28, at 3 o'clock P. M., the valuable property situated at the corner of Broad and William-sts., known as the City Hotel. The lot is about 55 feet 8 inches front on Broad-st., and 150 feet on William-st., and after reaching the depth of 120 feet has a width of about 70 feet 8 inches, for the distance of 37 feet 6 inches, and is about 200 feet deep on the north line, and communicates with a commodious alley on the rear, on which it has a front of 35 feet. The hotel was built in a most substantial manner, and is a very desirable property. It occupies the whole front, and is about 140 feet long, is four stories high, besides a basement and attic.

The property will be set up at the price of $12,000, and will be sold to the highest bidder above that sum. Ten per cent of the purchase money will be required to be paid down, when the deed will be delivered on the premises, at 12 M., on that day. The balance of the purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage of the premises for 3 years, at interest at 6 per cent, per annum, from May 1, 1856, payable half-yearly. Persons desirous of purchasing can have a particular examination of the premises by calling on the undersigned, or on the office of Messrs. H. Nevins, deceased.

DAVID R. NEVINS, Executor.

CONFISCATED GOODS AND SHIPS SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION.—Notice is hereby given that the entire Dunkirk ships belonging to the Russian Government, which are to be seized from the port of Dunkirk, will be found on sale at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, April 2, 1856, at 12 o'clock M., at the office of the undersigned, and offer to be found, and the terms of the Commissioner of Prizes, Office, No. 2 Hall of Records; and maps of the same may be found at the Merchants' Exchange, New-York, Feb. 26, 1856.

Dunkirk, Feb. 26, 1856.

JAMES H. SMITH, Jr., Commissioner.
A. C. FLAGG, Commissioner.
ROBERT KELLY, Chamberlain.
PETER B. VORHEES, Chamberlain, Finance Committee.
GEORGE A. BARNES, Ch. F. C. & Commissioner of Commissioners of Sinking Fund.

CHRISTMAS & TEWSON & MOLNEE, Auctioneers.—Sales of public property have every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, at 3 o'clock, P. M., in the Merchants' Exchange, Wednesday, SPECIAL SALES ON MONDAY, TUESDAY, THURSDAY and FRIDAY. Office, Nos. 41 and 43 Broad-st., between Wall and Beaver-sts. Cash advances made on goods, merchandise, stocks, &c., with the trade and business men. Refer to Chemical Bank, Tradesmen's Bank, Commerce Bank.

AUCTION SALES.

W. S. MILLER, Auctioneer.

BY HOUGHTON & STELLER.—TO-MORROW (Thursday), at 10½ o'clock, on the two floors of No. 113 Nassau-st., the entire trade sale of cabinet furniture, being the entire stock on hand, and sold by assignment of manufacturers, being the stock accumulated during Winter of about 100 consignees, on which we have made cash advances, and now offered for absolute sale, amounting to over $50,000—just ready for exhibition. Also, the entire furniture of a first-class private house.

The stock will embrace the most fashionable styles of rosewood, oak, mahogany, black walnut, and enameled parlor, chamber, dining-room, library, and drawing-room furniture, elaborately carved, and is finished with the most costly material.

Parlor Furniture—Elegant carved rosewood parlor furniture, en suite, covered with French brocade, satin, four-colored silk brocatel, moquet figured reps, plush, French satin de laine, and English hair-cloth; ladies' rosewood cabinets, with rich etageres with French-plate mirror fronts, richly carved music-cabinets, music-stands, carved rosewood centre-tables, with Egyptian, black, and gold and white Italian marble tops; richly carved mahogany sofas, tête-à-têtes, Voltaire and spring-seat parlor and reception chairs, Turkish easy chairs.

Dining-room and Library Furniture—Rosewood, mahogany, black walnut, and oak patent extension dining-tables, chairs to match, covered in plush, figured reps, and cane seats; sideboard, rich bookcases and secretary, walnut, oak, and mahogany cases, Voltaire chairs, &c.

Chamber Furniture—Elegantly carved rosewood and mahogany bedsteads, dressing-bureaus with marble tops and French-plate glasses, marble-top enclosed washstands and commodes, richly decorated and enameled and cottage chamber suites, several of which are very valuable; several wardrobes, richly carved armoire, with French-plate doors and lined with mahogany and cedar; lounges and lounge-beds, covered in fancy de laine, reps, and hair—chairs to match; walnut cottage furniture, rosewood and other dressing-tables, plain mahogany and walnut chamber furniture, three suites in oak, sofas, tête-à-têtes, mahogany French chairs, spring-seat, arm, and rocking chairs, divans, sewing-chairs, &c.

Also, at 12 o'clock, 8 new and second-hand piano-fortes, 1 Chinese bedstead, and 12 Brussels and ingrain carpets.

E. C. HALLIDAY, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—On 25th, 26th, 27th, 40th sts., 3d-av., and on Greenwich-st.

E. C. HALLIDAY will sell at auction WEDNESDAY, March 19, 1856, at 12 o'clock at the Merchants' Exchange:

25th-st.—The handsome three-story and English basement house and lot, No. 33 West 25th-st., 19 feet by 98 feet, 9 inches.

Also, the three-story and basement brick house and lot, No. 34 West 26th-st., 18 feet by 98 feet, 9 inches.

3d-av.—Two lots on southwest corner of 3d-av. and 26th-st., 24 feet, 8½ inches by 100 feet.

Also, the four three-story and basement brick houses and lots Nos. 572, 574, 576 and 578 2d-av., each 20 feet by 75 feet.

25th-st.—The three-story and basement brick house, No. 177 East 25th-st., 22 feet by 100.

Also, Three lots on south side East 25th-st., between 1st and 2d avs., each 25 feet by 98 feet, 9 inches.

40th-st.—The lot on the south side of 40th-st., 250 feet east of the 2d-av., 25 feet by 98 feet, 9 inches, in 2d-av., and 29th-st. The lot on the easterly side of the 2d-av., beginning 24 feet, 8½ inches south of the corner of East 29th-st., forming an L on the latter street, being 24 feet, 8½ inches wide on the Avenue, 36 feet, 4 inches on East 29th-st., and 50 feet deep.

Also, The two adjoining lots on 2d-av.; each 24 feet, 8 inches by 80 feet.

Greenwich-st.—The three-story and English basement brick house and lot No. 741 Greenwich-st., 18 feet, 9 inches by 50 feet.

Also, the 2½-story and basement brick house and lot, No. 743 Greenwich-st., 18 feet, 9 inches by 50 feet.

Maps can be had at the Office of the Auctioneer, No. 4 Wall-st.

SILVESTER STOVE, Auctioneer.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE—THIS DAY, March 19, at 10½ o'clock, at No. 37 West 26th-st., near 6th-av., large sale of elegant household furniture, consisting of a general assortment, viz.: large and costly pier and mantel mirrors, rich Wilton and velvet carpets, elegant rosewood piano forte, three elegant rosewood sofas of parlor furniture, covered in rich satin brocade and maroon velvet, rosewood secretary, bookcases, solid carved rosewood centre, sofa and pier tables, three costly rosewood etageres, marble tops, with mirror, doors and back, Turkish and reception chairs, in rich tapestry, elegant rosewood card tables, rich lace window curtains and shades, bronze and ormolu clocks, costly decorated vases and parlor ornaments, &c., with a number of elegant oil-paintings, landscapes and other subjects, dining-room and chamber furniture, dining extension table, elegant gold-band China dinner set, decorated China, tea and coffee sets, ruby and crystal cut-glass ware, rich pearl and silver cutlery, cake baskets, castors, &c., magnificent carved rosewood and mahogany bedsteads, do. bureaus and washstands to match, with marble-tops, costly China toilet sets, elegant hair mattresses, feather beds and bedding, French oval mirrors, mahogany settee furniture, in hair cloth, cottage and mahogany spring-seat chairs, rosewood hall stand, English oil-cloth, stair carpets, &c. This sale will be found worthy the special attention of those in want of first-class furniture. Catalogues on the morning of sale.

PHILIP F. WILKINS, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF AN ELEGANT COUNTRY SEAT AND 50 VILLA SITES AT NYACK, ON THE HUDSON RIVER.—PHILIP F. WILKINS will sell at auction on TUESDAY, March 25, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, about three acres of land, with the fine mansion-house thereon, situated at Nyack, within a few hundred feet of the river. The house is large, in perfect order, (just very painted in fresco,) and the grounds are well stocked with every variety of fruit. Also, 50 villa plots, which will be sold in parcels to suit purchasers. For health, beauty of prospect, &c., Nyack is unsurpassed by any place on the river, and its proximity to the City, with which communication can be had several times in each day, renders this property very desirable for those wishing country residences. For further particulars and maps apply at the office of the Auctioneer, No. 11 Wall-st.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

VALUABLE PROPERTY ON TENTH-AVENUE, 123D AND 124TH-STS.—ADRIAN H. MULLER will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange:

Tenth-avenue.—Two lots on northeast corner of 19th-av. and 123d-st., each 25x100 feet.

Also—4 lots on the southeast corner of 10th-av. and 123d-st., each 25x100 feet.

One Hundred and Twenty-third-street.—7 lots south side 123d-st., 100 feet east of 10th-av., each 25x100 feet 10 inches.

Also—4 lots on north side 123d-st., 100 feet east of 10th-av., each 25x100 feet 10 inches.

One Hundred and Twenty-fourth-street.—4 lots on south side 124th-st., in rear above, each 25x100 ft. 10 ins.

For maps, &c., apply to the auctioneer, No. 38 Wall-st.

TUNIS MOSSELL, Auctioneer.

ATTRACTIVE SALE OF ELEGANT OIL-PAINTINGS, HANDSOME FURNITURE, &c.—THIS (Wednesday) MORNING, at 10½ o'clock, at No. 81 Nassau-st. Also, French china ornaments, mirrors, mattresses, &c. The above goods can be examined, free, before sale, and will be found in large variety, and sold entirely without reserve, after half-cost start. Also, entire contents of counting-room, safe, sofa, melting, carpet, shades, chairs, &c. Ladies will find sufficient room for comfort, and great object to attend early.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

HOUSE AND LOT ON THIRTY-FOURTH-ST.—ADRIAN H. MULLER will sell at auction on THURSDAY, March 20, 1856, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, the following desirable residence, 34th-st.—Very English basement brownstone front house and lot No. 139 West 34th-st., furnished with all the modern improvements and in complete order, gas, furnace, water-closets, &c. To be positively sold to the highest bidder. House 24 feet 3 inches front, by 55 feet deep; lot 26 feet 9 inches deep. $5,500 can remain on mortgage.

A. C. TUTTLE, Auctioneer.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE SALES.—The subscriber, thankful for past favors, informs his friends and the public that he is prepared to devote his personal attention to sales of furniture at private dwellings, as also to stocks of cabinet-makers or others this season.

As he keeps no auction room, those who may require his service can depend upon having their interest faithfully executed. A. C. TUTTLE, Auctioneer,
Office No. 94 Broadway.

ANTHONY BLEECKER, Auctioneer.

FOR SALE—SIXTEEN HOUSES AND LOTS.—Valuable Property for investment, in the eastern portion of the City, situated on 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 21st and 26th sts., and 7th-av., to be sold by ANTHONY J. BLEECKER, at Merchants' Exchange, New-York, on March 19, 1856. Terms easy.

For maps, &c., apply to the Auctioneer, No. 7 Broad-st.

JOHN P. MONTGOMERY, Auctioneer.

300 CASES BOOTS, SHOES AND BROGANS AT AUCTION.—On THURSDAY, March 20, at 10½ o'clock, at the store of S. N. DAVIS & CO., No. 56 Beekman-st., 300 cases boots, shoes and brogans, fresh and seasonable goods, adapted to City or country trade, without reserve, for cash. Regular auction sale every Thursday.

W. C. ALBERTUS, Auctioneer.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF SPLENDID HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE in Brooklyn.—W. C. ALBERTUS, Auctioneer, will sell, on THURSDAY, March 20, at 10½ o'clock, No. 19 Court-st., Brooklyn, a general assortment of rosewood, mahogany and walnut furniture, beds and bedding. E. LOTT, late Sheriff.
E. TRIPLER, Deputy.

GEORGE COOK, Auctioneer.

GEORGE COOK WILL SELL—THIS DAY, March 19, at 10½ o'clock, at No. 442 Broadway, a large stock of custom-made furniture, viz., parlor, chamber and dining-room suits of various kinds, centre, side and sofa tables, bedsteads, bureaus, washstands, &c. Sale positive. Catalogues ready.

REED & COLE, Auctioneers.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—Situate on the northwest corner of Bedford and Willoughby-sts., Brooklyn, by REED & COLE, Auctioneers, No. 342 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, on THIS WEDNESDAY, 19th, at 12 M. A first rate chance for investment. 70 per cent can remain on mortgage.

JOHN E. VAN ANTWERP, Auctioneer.

HARDWARE AUCTION NOTICE.—JOHN E. VAN ANTWERP'S Fifth Regular Spring Trade Sale of Hardware will take place on THURSDAY, 20th, at 10 o'clock, at the store No. 216 Pearl-st. Catalogues now ready. Terms, four months.

R. B. FRANKLIN, Auctioneer.

PLANTS AT AUCTION.—On WEDNESDAY, 19th inst., at 10½ A. M., at No. 7 John-st., a choice collection of camellias, hyacinths, azaleas, and a general assortment of choice greenhouse plants, in full bloom and fine condition.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

ADRIAN H. MULLER.—Will hold his weekly sale of Stocks THIS DAY, at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange. The list includes, among a variety of first-class stocks, 100 shares Market Bank Stock.

A. C. TUTTLE, Auctioneer.

AT THE BAZAAR—NO. 91 GROSBY-ST.—A large stock of furniture, carriages, harnesses, &c., every MONDAY and WEDNESDAY, at 10 o'clock.
JOHN H. GATFIELD, Proprietor.

ADMINISTRATORS' SALE.—Will be sold at public auction, on the premises, at Tarrytown, Westchester Co., on Hudson River, New-York, on March 19, 1856, at 12 M., the above dwelling house and lot, situated on Old Post-road, near the Railroad depot, late occupied by Cornelius Van Tassel, deceased.

GALES VAN TASSEL, } Administrators.
CORNELIUS SMITH, }

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE CONSULTATIONS.

DR. WATSON continues his practice in a peculiar class of diseases, in which he has treated many thousands, many from each state and country, during the last twelve years. Any one may be the patient from home, and expect him to be discreet, while for most recent cases there is a cure in twenty-four hours. Dr. WATSON desires to state that, as many have been deceived by the statements of certain quacks that they were injured by drugs, patients are respectfully invited to call, in the first place, on those in no danger for consultations.

W. WATSON, M.D.,
Many years Surgeon to the Lock Hospital; Author of "The Quaker and Cure;" numerous claims, &c. Office No. 60 Walker-st., fourth door west of Broadway.

ROMAN EYE BALSAM.

FOR WEAK EYES AND INFLAMED EYELIDS.—This balsam is the very best preparation that can be used for Inflammatory Diseases of the Eyes and Eyelids. When the disease is confined to the external coat of the eyeball and lining of the eyelid, it acts almost like magic in allaying all irritation and inflammation. Price 25 cents per jar. For sale by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, No. 100 Fulton-st.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.—Mr. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures every kind of humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over 1,100 cases, and never failed, except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over 300 certificates of its virtue, all within 20 miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a running sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of boils.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth or stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the eyes and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in curing consumption, as water will extinguish fire, is cure will the same humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that said another; after a trial, it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising—first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846; second, that it should cure all kinds of humors.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1852, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day. In April, 1854, I sold over a thousand bottles per day.

No chance of diet over necessary—eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day; children over 5 years, dessert spoonful; children from 3 to 5 years, tea-spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Dr. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of Scrofula.

Manufactured by DONALD KENNEDY, No. 130 Warren-st., Roxbury, Mass. Price $1.

MARSH, ORVIS & CO., No. 150 Greenwich-st.; BOYD & PAUL, Chambers-st.; F. C. WELLS & CO., Franklin-st.; McKESSON, ROBBINS & CO., No. 115 Maiden-lane; HAYLAND, BARRAL & RISLEY, Warren-st.; WARD, CLOSE & CO., Maiden-lane; and retailed by all respectable Druggists.

Wholesale agents for New-York: CHAS. H. RING, No. 192 Broadway; C. V. CLICKENER, No. 81 Barclay-st.; A. B. & D. SANDS, No. 100 Fulton-st., and retailed by all respectable Druggists. Also by Mrs. HAYES, No. 175 Fulton-st., Brooklyn; BARNES & PARKS, No. 204 Broadway.

REPRESENTATIVE IN AMERICA.

DR. BARROW, No. 51 Greene-st., near Canal, New-York, the sole representative and proprietor of the celebrated TRICHOGENE—THE GREAT EUROPEAN DISCOVERY.—Protected by Royal Letters Patent of England, and secured by the sales of the Ecole de Pharmacie de Paris, and the Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna.

TRICHOGENE No. 1.—Is the remedy of general and long debility, loss of virile power, premature decay, and all the distressing consequences resulting from early abuse. Its effects are efficacious in youth, manhood and old age; the virile powers would not become impaired, even in the decline of life, if the Cordial were administered at the proper period, and the valuable life made to flow to its influence, thus rendering its use invaluable to those entering the marriage state.

TRICHOGENE No. 2.—Completely and entirely eradicates all traces of those disorders which copaiva and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote for, to the ruin of the health of a vast portion of the population.

TRICHOGENE No. 3.—Is a great European remedy for that class of disorders which unfortunately the English Physician treats with mercury, to the inevitable destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the Sarsaparilla in the world cannot remove.

TRICHOGENE No. 1, 2 and 3, are alike devoid of taste or smell, and all possessing qualities. They may lay on the table without their being detected.

Price $1 in cases at $6 each, or four times the quantity in one for $20, which saves $3; and in $27 cases, whereby there is a saving of $9; divided into separate doses, as administered in Paris, Lafleurand, Rouen, &c.

To be had, wholesale and retail, and forwarded immediately on receipt of remittance to any part of the world by H. L. BARROW, M. D., No. 51 Greene-st., near Canal, New-York. Attendance daily from 11 A. M. till 2 P. M., and from 4 to 8 P. M. (Sundays excepted) unless by previous appointment. No. 51 Greene-st. near Canal. Will remove on the 1st of May next to No. 157 Prince-st.

RICORD'S PRACTICE.—The undersigned, formerly a pupil with RICORD, of Paris, and with the celebrated Surgeons of this City, Drs. CARNOCHAN and MOTT, may be consulted, confidentially, in his specialty, (which also includes all diseases of the throat and lungs,) at his consulting rooms, No. 516 Broadway, opposite the St. Nicholas Hotel, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 5 to 8, daily. He tenders to all afflicted positive assurance of relief, and those who have been abused by "specifics," antidotes, books, "so-mercury," and like effusions of the numerous medical charlatans of the day, may rely on his skill as one who has had ample hospital and other opportunities, not enjoyed by the majority of those who pretend to be specialists, viz., the extended observations of the famous Hospital du Midi, in Paris, under RICORD himself, together with the many new and efficient remedies of this eminent surgeon, render failure impossible.

For the satisfaction of the interested, it is proper here to state that RICORD'S treatment of venereal diseases—which comprehends the derangements of those organs as well—is the modern and only rational system (combining rapidity of cure with entire safety to the constitution) recognized by science, as it expressly rejects the old, empirical, secret and hazardous employment of such pretended specifics as mercury, cubebs, copaiva, &c. Recent cases quickly and without any pain, and long standing ones relieved in every instance. The subscriber's treatment of Gonorrhœa, constitutional, scrofulous, mercurial and nervous diseases, is based entirely on the modern and improved science of medicine, and has been eminently successful.

It may be mentioned, for the information of patients residing in the country or distant cities, that they can at any time consult the subscriber by letter, giving a plain statement of their case, when the necessary medicines adapted to it will be prepared and sent to them.

Consultations on Francais.

C. D. HAMMOND, M. D.,
Physician, Consulting and Operative Surgeon.

TO SUFFERING HUMANITY.—DR. HUNTER'S NERVE CORDIAL is the remedy for general and local Debility, Loss of Sexual Vigor, Premature Decay, and all the distressing consequences arising from early abuses, &c. Its effects are efficacious and salutary, beyond conception, in youth manhood and old age; indeed, the virile powers would not become impaired, even in the decline of life, if the Cordial were administered at the proper period, and the valuable life made to flow to its influence, thus rendering its use invaluable to those entering the marriage state.

Dr. HUNTER'S NEW MEDICAL WORK, THE VADE MECUM, giving the London, Paris and Vienna treatment, 300 pages, full of colored plates. Among its contents is the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses; latest discoveries in reproduction; quacks, their recipes and specifics; nervous debility, local and general, from excess and indiscretion in youth. Price four shillings. To be had of Dr. HUNTER himself, No. 8 Division-st., New-York, located, and consulting from early abuse, &c. Its effects are efficacious in youth, manhood and old age; the virile powers would not become impaired, even in the decline of life, if the Cordial were universally adopted; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering its use invaluable to those entering the marriage state.

Dr. HUNTER'S NEW MEDICAL WORK, THE VADE MECUM, giving the London, Paris and Vienna treatment, 300 pages, full of colored plates. Among its contents is the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses; latest discoveries in reproduction; quacks, their recipes and specifics; nervous debility, local and general, from excess and indiscretion in youth. Price four shillings. To be had of Dr. HUNTER himself, No. 8 Division-st., New-York, located, and consulting from early abuse, &c. Its effects are efficacious in youth, manhood and old age; the virile powers would not become impaired, even in the decline of life, if the Cordial were universally adopted; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering its use invaluable to those entering the marriage state.

Dr. LARMONT'S PARIS AND LONDON MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE.—Eleventh edition, 240 pages, 76 colored figures, cloth $1. Among its contents is the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses; latest discoveries in reproduction; quacks, their recipes and specifics; nervous debility, local and general, from excess and indiscretion in youth. The author's Paris and London treatment, from 11 to 2, and 6 to 9 P. M., No. 42 Reade-st., corner of No. 280 Broadway, New-York. His book is also sold at No. 323 Broadway. We commend Dr. LARMONT to the afflicted.—*Sun, Herald, Tribune, Sunday Mercury, Sunday Times, Sunday Atlas, Sunday Leaves, Sunday Dispatch

New-York Daily Times

NEW-YORK CITY.

(Advertisement.)

New-York, March 14, 1856.

Rev. Francis Vinton, D. D.:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR: Participating in the great interest and pleasure mentioned by the subject matter of your admirable and instructive address, on "The Gentleman," on the occasion of its recent delivery at the Hall of the Mercantile Library, we are induced and attractive expositions of social and moral subjects will supply a desideratum in the place of our public entertainments, powerfully tending to form a better and nobler public sentiment, a purer current morality, and a more refined and cultivated social bearing in the community, we are induced to respectfully and cordially unite in inviting you to afford us an early opportunity of again listening to your eloquent unfolding of the same and similar themes of general interest.

With the sentiments of our high personal regard, and most appreciative of the value of your effective talents in this department of public instruction, we remain ever and to all who may enjoy the pleasure of listening to them.

We remain sincerely yours,

James E. Ray, Gurnee Gore, William Gamer } Committee.

Albert Gallatin, Christopher Wolfe, Thomas Ashcroft, James A. Burtes, Jonathan Lewis, Jr., Joseph Hudson, Thomas T. Shaw, William G. Bull, Robert T. Haines, Conrad Kaltenrich, Thomas H. Seymour, William C. Booth, Peter Sayler, John A. Condit, S. Tuomey, Henry H. Elliott, James B. Sanford, Thomas B. Carp, George Wood, Thomas Wallace, John S. Williams, Thomas J. Shaw, Dr. E. S. Nichols, Thomas H. Tyler, Thomas F. Jeremiah, Thomas M. Seymour, Benjamin Blanton, Peter Sayler, Charles A. Mockeslar, S. Tuomey, And others.

New-York, March 15, 1856.

To James E. Ray, George Gore, William Gurney, Committee: Albert Gallatin, Dutch Street, and others:

Gentlemen: Your note requesting me to repeat the address delivered some by lecture, "The Gentleman," and other kindred themes," in compliance with your request, and the kindness of your expressions, you have enforced by many names of high repute among your fellow-citizens.

Which gives delicate pleasure I accede to your joint desire, and will begin the department by repeating "The Gentleman" on Tuesday evening, 25th March.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

FRANCIS VINTON.

Tickets for the course will be delivered at the Hall of the Mercantile Library, Astor-place, on TUESDAY Morning, March 18, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Price 50 cents. Can be had at the drug stores of Messrs. GRAHAM, CLARK & CO., Broadway; at GERRY'S, Broadway and Tonnele-street; of VAN SCONDEN & Co., No. 48 Wall-street; and at the door on the evening.

(Advertisement.)

PARKER'S NATIONAL THEATRE.—The great success attending this Genuine Theatre is truly wonderful. Night after night the house is crowded to overflowing, and all seem very pleased. A greater variety of amusement is given here than at any other theatre in New-York, which accounts for its success. A good company, plenty well done, good order, and no fear to be had at the National. To-night, the Drama of "The Wreck," "Mabelina," and "Rose Michel."

(Advertisement.)

BARNUM'S MUSEUM.—Barnum's Museum is crowded to overflowing, and does it. The "Wonderful Lamp" is the attraction in the Museum nightly, and the delight of all who witness it by and expression. Such beauty and such spirit—such startling magnificence! Perhaps you have witnessed. Played this afternoon, as well as to-night again.

(Advertisement.)

MAGNIFICENT GOODS, WARRANTED PERFECT.—Wilson, Rogers & Dixon, Nos. 206 and 208 Sixth-avenue, will continue to sell, until the whole is disposed of, all the choice lots, sold as damaged goods, from the late auction sale of W. Tousey & Co. The only reason for which they need is a critical examination. Only think, pure Irish linens at one shilling per yard, with pound towels at 6d., 9d., and 1s. per yard, and so on through the whole catalogue. Call early and take your choice.

(Advertisement.)

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.—The Stock of Dry Goods in store No. 279 Grand-street, consisting of Silks, Shawls, Mousses, Paramattas, Plaids, Delaines, Calicoes, Flannels, Cassimeres, Satinets, Shirting Linens, Table Damask, Napkins, Marseilles Quilts, Sheeting, Printed Muslins, Lawns, Ginghams, and a large stock of Domestic Goods, all to be sold at a great sacrifice. By order of the Assignee.

(Advertisement.)

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.—Hunter's Medical Repository is devoted to the popular discussion of the nature, causes, prevention and cure of all forms of pulmonary disease, and is published on the 1st of every month. Specimen numbers sent on application to the Editor, ROBERT HUNTER, M. D., No. 320 Broadway, New-York.

(Advertisement.)

SPRING CLOTHING.—ALFRED MUNROE & Co., No. 441 Broadway, have now in store, (and are constantly receiving,) a splendid assortment of Spring and Summer clothing for boys; also, Spring overcoats, business coats, vests and pants for men.

(Advertisement.)

KNOX!!! KNOX!!! KNOX!!! Four dollars only! Four dollars only!!! Four dollars only!!! Hats of the Spring style, at this price—the best article to be found in the City, can be bought of him at No. 212 Broadway.

(Advertisement.)

MARSHALL'S PATENT CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES—Nos. 135, 137 and 139 Water-street, New-York.

(Advertisement.)

HYATT'S Patent Lights, 102 West Broadway, New-York. See advertisement on fifth page.

SALES OF STOCKS AT PHILADELPHIA.—Tuesday—First Board—$1,000 Gambier and Amber Rail-road 6s, 70; $2,000 Allegheny Co. 6s, 72; $600 City warrants, 94; $7,000 City 6s, 91; $300 do., 93; $1,000 Wilkesbarre 6s, 80; 8 Mechanics Bank stock, 34¼; 3 Mechanics Bank stock, 34¼; 50 Schuylkill Nav. Pref. stock, 29¾; 4 Lehigh Navigation stock, 54¼; 100 Long Island Railroad, 16; 100 North Penn. R. R., 15; 2 Bank of Penn., 120½; 18 City Bank, 47; 14 Girard Bank, 124; Sixty Prices.—United States 6s, 96, 117¾; Phila. 6s, Water, 104 (@105); Penn. 5s, 93¼ (@94); Read. Bonds, 89¼ (@89); Reading Bonds, '70, 84 (@85); Read. Railroad 6s, 92¼ (@93); Pennsylvania Railroad, 46¼ (@46¾); Morris Canal, 14¼ (@14¾); Schuylkill Navigation 6s, 70¼ (@70¾); Schuylkill Navigation Stock, 29¾ (@30); Schuylkill Navigation Preferred, 30 (@30¼); Long Island, 16 (@16¼); Nicholas, 74 (@74¼); Girard Bank, 124 (@124¼); Union, 104¼; Union Canal, 10¼ (@10¾); New Jersey, 146; Susquehanna Canal, 16 (@17).

MARRIED.

In this City, on Sunday evening, March 17, by Rev. Mr. Wilson, at his residence, Mr. GEORGE W. SAYRES, of Lynn, Mass., to Miss SARAH ANN WILMER, of this City.

At Yorkville, on Sunday evening, March 16, by Rev. Mr. Lee, Mr. FREDERICK B. ROSE, jr., to Miss ELIZA C. VAN-ALLEN, all of Yorkville, N. Y.

At Jersey City, on Monday, March 17, by Rev. Mr. Gray, LEWIS H. DONALDSON, of New-York, to Miss CHARLOTTE, eldest daughter of Capt. Isaac Ludlow, of the former place.

DIED.

In this City, on Tuesday morning, March 18, Dr. THEODORE BOTTS, in the 30th year of his age.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the residence of his father, Mr. Jacob Botts, No. 48 Ludlow-street. The remains will be interred in Trinity Cemetery.

[illegible]

And yet he knew it not.

In this City, on Monday, March 17, ELIZABETH, only child of Mr. Thomas and Mary Ann Wilson, aged 1 year, 3 months and 17 days.

At Rockaway, L. I., on Sunday morning, March 16, Mr. JOHN BOGERT, in the 80th year of his age.

In this City, on Monday, March 17, Rev. JAMES S. DUNHAM, formerly of Newburgh, in the 84th year of his age.

In this City, on Monday, March 17, after a lingering illness, Mr. JAMES DUNHAM, in the 52d year of his age. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the residence of his father, Mr. Jacob Dunham, No. 48 Ludlow-street. The remains will be interred in Trinity Cemetery.

[illegible]

In this City, on Tuesday, March 18, Mr. ROBERT M. CHURCH, aged 28 years.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, from his late residence, Madison-av., between 26th and 28th sts., on Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, without further invitation.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

Sales at the Stock Exchange. MARCH 18.

[illegible]

TUESDAY, March 18—P. M.

The Foreign Exchange Market for the Cunard steamer to-morrow is less firm in tone than for the previous packet, and few calls are made on London over 109¾ ⅌ cent. The range is 109¾@109¾. On Paris, first-class mercantile bills offered at 5.18¾; Bankers', 5.17½. The steamer will take about $550,000 in Bullion, and $200,000 in Bonds and Stocks of various descriptions, bought on orders by the last packet. The remittances otherwise will be to a moderate amount. The Importing trade have not been large buyers of Exchange, though the steamer will not sail until 2 o'clock to-morrow, and the remittances may yet be considerably increased. The Money Market is easy, at previously quoted rates, the only decided change being in long-date paper, 6 to 8 months, which is less freely taken.

The Stock Market exhibits a very healthy tone and closed rather firm this afternoon, as on yesterday; Erie Shares, 56¼@⅝; Panama, 104¼@105; Illinois Centrals, 90; Transit Shares, 15¾@18, with large sales at 18; Reading, 90⅝ and New-York Central Bonds, 89 for the Sixes and 102½ for the Sevens. State Stocks firm, for Tennessees; weaker for Virginias. The Legislature of the latter State has adjourned without making provision for a General Banking Law.

The decrease in the line of actual, as well as gross, deposits on the Bank Statement, which appeared this morning, having caused surprise—as the deposits had been steadily going up for several weeks before—we deem it proper to repeat that the Western mails were embargoed by snow early in the week, and that as many as five or six letter mails and express crates from Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, &c., were not received until Saturday. This delay caused the ordinary mercantile deposits to be drawn down, while it prevented an accumulation of country Bank balances.

A Committee of Investigation has been constituted in the House of Assembly, at Albany, upon the circumstances which attended the consolidation of the New-York Central Road three years ago. Nothing new has transpired about the affair, and the terms and general particulars of the consolidation compact were made public and commented on at the time. Whatever of secret or private history was then deemed irrelevant to public discussion of the cost and value of the line as consolidated, has since lost much, if not all its interest, and the alleged abuses placed beyond legislative remedy, if indeed they were of a character to be made amenable at any time to it. At all events the present move is evidently outside of all that concerns the stockholders in the road, the capital and worth, and the consolidated property, or its ability to return good dividends. The end probably arrived at is, that by threatening somebody about this old affair, something to the advantage of the New-York Central Company, now proposed in the Legislature will be prevented.

We understand that the long pending suit, under which about $250,000 were claimed by Mr. SAMUEL G. OGDEN of Mr. WILLIAM B. ASTOR, on an unsettled account of partnership transactions between the plaintiff and the late JOHN JACOB ASTOR, has been terminated by the payment of $195,000 to Mr. OGDEN.

Among the Street rumors to-day, growing out of the Nicaragua Transit affair, is one to the effect that in the lobby of the Opera House on Monday evening, Mr. JOSEPH L. WHITE assumed an attitude of personal hostility to Mr. CHARLES MORGAN, by refusing to return the salutation of the latter. There is considerable feeling evinced in other quarters against Mr. MORGAN, and the report that he has the steamship Orizaba ready to sail for Nicaragua under the RANDOLPH grant—after several weeks preparation to put her in readiness in anticipation of the new grant—is not calculated to allay the excitement. It is still suspected, however, that unless Mr. VANDERBILT, now in Washington, receives some well-founded assurance of interference on the part of the United States Government—which there is no very good reason to look for—the whole difficulty will in some other way be compromised, and the threatened competition withdrawn, possibly on a sale or surrender of the new grant. It has transpired that the number of holders and speculators in the Transit Stock has been greatly enlarged of late, under the influence of certain parties connected with the Pacific Mail and Panama Railroad, who bought largely for themselves, and induced or led others to buy who would otherwise have followed VANDERBILT and his party into the speculation.

The Sub-Treasury received to-day $235,051, of which $50,000 was by express from the Chicago office. The disbursements were $46,449. The regular balance this afternoon $5,294,964. It is now nearly time for the disbursement of the remainder, about $1,600,000, of the Mexican Indemnity, which will be made on the return of the special messenger sent to the City of Mexico for the extinction of the vouchers.

We append the following questions for our paper, which goes to Europe by the Cunard steamer to-morrow, from actual sales to day and the circulars of the brokers connected with the Foreign business in Stocks and Bonds:

	Present.	Last.		Present.	Last.
N. Y. 6s, 1875	117	116	Michigan, 1st mort	91¾	90¾
N. Y. 6s, 1876	[illegible]	107	Michigan Cent'r	80¾	80¾
Penn. 5s, old	94	94¼	Illinois Centrals	90¾	90¾
Penn. coupons	[illegible]	90	Ill. Fundings	90¾	90
Kentucky	94¾	101	Gal. & Chic. Stock	107	[illegible]
Virginia	84¾	85	Mich. Cen. 8s, 1869	104¾	104¾
Tennessee	93¾	93¾	Panama 7s	105	104
Virginia	94¾	84	Ohio & Penn. 1st	80¾	80
Illinois, 1847	113	110	Penn. Central 6s	89¾	89¾
Louisiana	90¾	90	Reading 6s, 1870	91	91
Missouri	89¾	87	N. Y. Cen. shares	91¾	91¾
California	90	90	Erie shares	56¾	56
Ohio, 1868	103¾	103¾	Illinois Central	87¾	88
Ohio, 1869	103¾	103¾	Galena	118	118
N. Y. City 6s, long	97	96	Michigan Central	69¾	[illegible]
Philadelphia	91¾	91¾	Mich. Southern	69¾	[illegible]
Baltimore	94	94	Panama	142	[illegible]
Cincinnati	99	99	Reading	90¾	90¾
Chicago	91	90	Pacific	[illegible]	[illegible]
Louisville	91	91¾	Erie	56¾	56¾
Philadelphia	90¾	90	Hudson	84¾	84
Pittsburg	94	94	Ohio Trust	11	10
St. Louis	90¾	90	Del. and Hud.	129	128¾
Sacramento	90¾	90	Penn. Coal	99	100
San Francisco	104¾	104	Bills on London	108¾	108¾
N. Y. Central 7s	102¾	102	Paris	5.17¾	5.17¾
N. Y. Central 6s	89	89¾	Bremen	78	78
Erie, 1866	94	94	Hamburg	36¾	36¾
Erie, 1868	89¾	90	Frankfort	41¾	41¾
Erie, 1871	89¾	84

READING ROAD—FEBRUARY, 1856.

	1856.	1855.
Received from coal	$145,495 09	$189,180 08
Received from merchandise	26,666 65	20,712 20
Received from travel, &c	17,127 34	17,725 49
Total	$190,289 58	$277,617 77
Transportation, renewal fund, roadway dumpage, and all charges	124,792 24	104,867 04
Net profit for the month	$65,497 34	$51,350 64
Net profit for previous two months	61,970 08	232,888 82
Total net profit for 3 mos	$127,467 42	$284,239 46

NEW-ALBANY AND SALEM ROAD.

First mortgage bonds	$2,605,000
Second mortgage bonds, $1,000,000, third mortgage, $547,500	1,547,500
Bonds of Crawfordsville and Wabash Railroad	179,000
Bills payable, &c	281,023
Total debt	$4,612,523
Capital stock outstanding	2,170,044
Total cost	$7,001,566
Half year's earnings, to Dec. 31, 1855	$193,027
Less expenses	177,649
Net revenue, six months	$215,385
Interest paid	188,478
Surplus	$61,913
Deferred interest	58,600

The earnings of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company for February, were:

Passengers and Mail	$14,256 41
Freight and Miscellaneous	80,584 47
Total	$112,752 88
Earnings February, 1855	107,743 29
Increase	$5,046 49

Sales of Real Estate. MARCH 18.

BY A. J. BLEECKER & CO.

Col. of P. and S., Nos. 65, 67, 69 Crosby, 75x100, $35,000; 9 lots on 93d-st., near 4th-av., $400 each, 20x10. 800; Leasehold prop. Nos. 15, 15, 17 Crosby, 75x100. 65,500; House and lot on 8th-av., near 46th-st. 5,025; House and lot No. 9 West 30th-st., 17x90. 7,000; 9 h's & l's, 6th-av., n'r 29th-st., $5,500, 25x100. 12,600; Leasehold prop. No. 94 Clinton-place, 26x100. 7,000; House and lot No. 246 West 44th-st., 20x100. 5,600; House and lot No. 210 West 48th-st., 25x100. 4,600; 1 lot on 46th-st., near 9th-av., 25x100. 825; 2 lots on 64th-st., n'r 8th-av., each $950, 25x100. 1,900; House and lot on West 27th-st., 19x39. 3,500; House and lot adjoining, 19x39. 3,700

English Money Circular.

EXTRACT.] NEW-YORK, Tuesday, March 18.

There has been no important change in the leading features of the market since our last report of 4th inst., and except for a few of the more speculative stocks, the variations in prices have not been material. The general tendency of the market has been downward. A disposition to await the result of the peace negotiations at Paris, and further developments regarding the differences between Great Britain and this country, have operated as a check upon business, and the transactions of the fortnight have consequently been moderate. The effect of the existing abundance of money, to some extent counteracted by the renewed shipments of specie to Europe and the rapid increase of loans by the banks in this City, which, however, is believed to be warranted by the large prospective addition to their specie reserve from the payment by the Treasury in June, on account of the Texas debt, and the expected receipts of gold from the interior, in the course of the Spring.

State stocks, although inactive, are generally firm, at about our last quotations. The only transactions of any importance have occurred in Virginia, Tennessee and Missouri 6s. A new issue of $1,000,000 New-York State 6s, on account of the Erie Canal Enlargement, redeemable 1st November, 1878, is to be negotiated on the 25th inst. As the stock will be required for banking purposes, it will probably command a large premium. For United States loans there are occasionally private purchases at a fractional advance upon the Government offers; but the demand from this source being limited, the greater part of the certificates which come into market are forwarded to Washington for redemption. The aggregate purchases by the Treasury, on account of the $1,500,000 advertised for in the last proposals of the Secretary, amounted, on the 8th inst., to $794,671, of which about $400,000 came from foreign holders. The amount still outstanding of the loan due 19th November next is $506,718. CAMMANN & CO.

Money Circular for Europe.

[TRANSLATED EXTRACT.]

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, March 18, 1856.

Since our advices of 10th inst., there has been an absence of speculative feeling, and the Stock Market, with a few exceptions, has slightly receded. On the leading Railway shares the depression has been more marked. This decline is partly the result of apprehensions of an approaching specie drain, which is likely to be stimulated, (such seems to be the impression,) by the dearness of money in London, the facility of getting discounts here, and the heavy imports of merchandise. It is, however, likely that the exports of domestic produce will be large enough to prevent the exports of gold from exceeding the California receipts. There has been a heavy fall during the week on the shares of the Nicaragua Transit Company—a purely fancy Stock, not comprised in our quotation list, but which is the object of much attention with our domestic capitalists. This decline was caused by the decree annulling its charter, issued by General WALKER. The fall was from $39 to $18 ⅌ share. Money abundant, but in more active demand. Loans on calls 6@7. First-class paper, 7 ⅌ cent. Names less current, 8@9. Exchanges firm, with an active business in Sterling at 109¾, and in France at 5.17½@5.18¾. German Exchanges without alteration of note.

MARIE & KANZ.

Money Circular for Europe.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, March 18, 1856.

TRANSLATED EXTRACT.]—The gradual rise of exchange on Europe, the resuming of special exportation, although on a limited scale, and a somewhat more active demand for money, notwithstanding a continued increase in the discounts from our banks, are the prominent features which deserve attention as having an influence on our market. During the three days subsequent to our advices of the 10th inst., prices were weak, when the news from Nicaragua brought advices of the attachment of the property of the Nicaragua Transit Company by the provisional government of that province. This news caused a sudden and heavy fall in the shares of the Company; and other stocks, especially those of a more speculative character, were from sympathy affected by it. The arrival of the Liverpool steamer, bringing us advices of the 1st instant, improved a little the tone of the market; nevertheless, with the exception of two or three stocks, which are quoted at a rise in London, our subjoined table of daily quotations shows a general decline.

DE COPPET & CO.

Spirit of the Trade Circulars.

A. S. DE LUKE'S FLOUR AND GRAIN CIRCULAR.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—State and Western.—In my last circular of the 10th inst., per America, old Boston, a buoyant market was reported. This was of short duration. With discouraging accounts at hand per Arabia, 12th inst., the export inquiry fell off, and for the local and Eastern trade, only a very moderate demand prevailed. The decline in prices since my last is about 25@37½c ⅌ bbl.—the present rates being still above the generally expected shippers' orders. There is a little doing however for export to France. Clearances from New-York, from March 10 to March 17, both inclusive: To London, 3,740 bbls.; Liverpool, 8,625; Havre, 2,957; Antwerp, 580; Cayenne, 1,326; Bombay, 141; Australia, 200; Liberia, 104; British Provinces, 792; South America, 764; West Indies, 1,198.

WHEAT.—The market was in very inactive state, until the latter part of the past week; since which a better inquiry has prevailed, principally for milling—but at irregular prices. Good to Prime Canadian White can be quoted at 90@92c ⅌ bush.; Western White, 91@93; Southern do, 92@95; Western Red, 87@90; Southern do, 88@92; Canadian Red, 85@87; Rye, 60@62; extremely nominal. Clearances from New-York, from March 10 to March 17, both inclusive: To London, 24,376 bushels Wheat; To Liverpool, 24,376 bushels Wheat; To Havre, 16,767; Antwerp, 4,000; British Provinces, 1,000; South America, 1,400; West Indies, 400.

RYE.—The demand has been quite limited for the past week, for distilling purposes, which have to-day nominally, sellers, at 58@60c ⅌ bush. for Western and Southern; Jersey, 60@62c; Pennsylvania, 62@65c.

INDIAN CORN.—The inquiry has been fair for export and home consumption, and the prices have ruled firm, sellers only offering moderate. Southern and Jersey yellow, 75@76c; Southern Mixed and White, 74@75c; Western Mixed, 74@75c; Western Yellow, 76@77c. Clearances from New-York, from March 10 to March 17, both inclusive: To Liverpool, 24,376 bushels Corn; To Havre, 16,767; Antwerp, 4,000; British Provinces, 1,000; South America, 1,400; West Indies, 400.

PEAS.—The demand has been quite limited for the past week, for distilling purposes, which have to-day nominally, sellers, at 90@92c ⅌ bush. for Southern and Western; Jersey, 92@95c.

OATS.—The demand has been quite limited for the past week, for distilling purposes, which have to-day nominally, sellers, at 38@40c ⅌ bush. for Southern and Western; Jersey, 40@42c.

BARLEY.—Sales of Canada West, 1,000 bushels, at 70c ⅌ bush.

BARLEY MALT.—Sales of Canada West, 1,000 bushels, at 90c ⅌ bush.

BEEF.—Prime Mess Beef commands $15@$16 ⅌ bbl. Beef Hams are in fair supply and good demand, with sales, in lots, at prices ranging from $18@$19 50 ⅌ bbl.

BUTTER.—Sales of Ohio, 14c. for Ordinary; 15c. for Prime; 16c. for Extra; 17c. for Fancy; 18c. for Extra Fancy; 20c. for Extra Fancy Western Reserve; 18@20c. for Fancy Western; 16@17c. for Extra Western; 14@15c. for Prime Western; 12@13c. for Ordinary Western; 14@15c. for Fancy Michigan; 13@14c. for Extra Michigan; 12@13c. for Prime Michigan; 11@12c. for Ordinary Michigan; 14@15c. for Fancy Ohio; 13@14c. for Extra Ohio; 12@13c. for Prime Ohio; 11@12c. for Ordinary Ohio; 14@15c. for Fancy Indiana; 13@14c. for Extra Indiana; 12@13c. for Prime Indiana; 11@12c. for Ordinary Indiana; 14@15c. for Fancy Illinois; 13@14c. for Extra Illinois; 12@13c. for Prime Illinois; 11@12c. for Ordinary Illinois; 14@15c. for Fancy Iowa; 13@14c. for Extra Iowa; 12@13c. for Prime Iowa; 11@12c. for Ordinary Iowa; 14@15c. for Fancy Wisconsin; 13@14c. for Extra Wisconsin; 12@13c. for Prime Wisconsin; 11@12c. for Ordinary Wisconsin; 14@15c. for Fancy Pennsylvania; 13@14c. for Extra Pennsylvania; 12@13c. for Prime Pennsylvania; 11@12c. for Ordinary Pennsylvania; 14@15c. for Fancy Vermont; 13@14c. for Extra Vermont; 12@13c. for Prime Vermont; 11@12c. for Ordinary Vermont; 14@15c. for Fancy Maine; 13@14c. for Extra Maine; 12@13c. for Prime Maine; 11@12c. for Ordinary Maine; 14@15c. for Fancy Canada; 13@14c. for Extra Canada; 12@13c. for Prime Canada; 11@12c. for Ordinary Canada; 14@15c. for Fancy Kentucky; 13@14c. for Extra Kentucky; 12@13c. for Prime Kentucky; 11@12c. for Ordinary Kentucky; 14@15c. for Fancy Tennessee; 13@14c. for Extra Tennessee; 12@13c. for Prime Tennessee; 11@12c. for Ordinary Tennessee; 14@15c. for Fancy Virginia; 13@14c. for Extra Virginia; 12@13c. for Prime Virginia; 11@12c. for Ordinary Virginia; 14@15c. for Fancy Missouri; 13@14c. for Extra Missouri; 12@13c. for Prime Missouri; 11@12c. for Ordinary Missouri